COMPERS HOME FROM FRANCE

New York, Aug. 27—Declining to discuss current labor problems in detail on the ground that he had not had time to familiarize himself with them during his absence abroad, Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who arrived here from France on the transport George Washington yesterday, said that he wished to make plain that he "did not come home to interfere with the programme of labor but to help my fellow laborers."

Mr. Compers, who has been attending the sessions of the International Trade Union Congress at Amsterdam, declared that "the employers of labor have not yet learned that the time is past when they are the complete monarchs of all they survey."

"Certainly," he added, "men and women who work must have a voice in determining conditions under which they shall give their labor."

POLICE COURT

Two men charged with drunkenness were before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning and were remanded. One of the charges was against Phillip Bushan, colored, who was arrested last night by Inspector Merryfield. The inspector in evidence said that he saw the defendant with two other colored men in the Old Burying Ground. When he approached, one of the men threw away a bottle and ran. The witness said he gave chase but the man got away. He said that Bushan approached in a threatening attitude and he placed him under arrest. He said he was unable afterwards to locate the bottle.

HARBOR REVENUES

In connection with the discussion of the harbor commission plan, Commissioner Bullock this morning pointed out a fact which has been overlooked by some citizens, the fact that the harbor revenues last year were sufficient for the first time in the history of the port to meet interest and sinking fund charges as well as all other charges. Owing to the heavy increase in these charges due to the reconstruction of No. 5 wharf and warehouse, the revenue may not be quite sufficient this year to cover the outlay, but the new rates authorized, some of which already are in effect, will go a long way towards this goal eventually.

Sydney Miners to Wait

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 27—The United Mine Workers have unanimously decided to defer consideration of the five-day week and the six-hour day until the action of the international organization in regard to these matters has been received.

Levis Back to License

Quebec, Aug. 27—The town of Levis, across the river, will repeal its present local prohibition law. As it is, there are numerous blind pigs, and the city council expressed its views last night as favoring some ten licensed places where honest booze could be distributed and city get so much for license.

Hon. Mr. Caron a Director

Quebec, Aug. 27—The Hon. J. A. Caron, minister of agriculture, has been appointed director of the Stanstead & Sherbrooke Fire Insurance Company.

HUN AMBASSADOR AT WASHINGTON

Von Haimhausen Chosen — Solf To London—None Yet Named For France

Berlin Aug. 27—Dr. Haniel Von Haimhausen, former chief of the German embassy at Washington, has been selected for appointment as German ambassador to the United States, according to authoritative information today.

Dr. W. S. Solf, the secretary for the colonies, is the selection for the ambassadorship to Great Britain, and Herr Radowitz, former under secretary of state, for the ambassadorship to China.

Fritz August Thiel, former German consular representative in Japan, has been picked for the post of ambassador at Tokio.

The appointments of the men selected for ambassadorships, it is said, depend upon the attitude of the powers in question. If they send charges d'affaires to Berlin, Germany will take like action as to representation in the capitals of such powers.

Don't Want Him

Washington, Aug. 27—No inquiry has been made of the United States as to whether Haniel Von Haimhausen, former chief of the imperial German embassy here, will be acceptable as ambassador, but there is every indication that this government will not receive Haimhausen or any one else formerly connected with the embassy under the regime of Count Von Bernstorff.

BRINGING OUT EVIDENCE IN EDITH CAVELL CASE

(Continued from page 1) There was read into evidence a statement showing that Mes was a "suspicious character," and that he was known to have been in the pay of the Germans, being employed by German police at Brussels.

Madame Bodart gave Quen a package to be left at the home of a Madame Quenel. Quenel denied that he had examined its contents, although during his preliminary examination he admitted he knew it contained ammunition and that he was in the pay of the Germans. Among the items mentioned by the president was Father Pontalski, who, believing Quen was honestly aiding allied soldiers to escape, gave him a railroad map which showed the latest German modifications. Father Pontalski was soon after arrested and sentenced to twelve years imprisonment.

It was declared that Quen had asked a Madame Van Damme to aid two young persons to escape, and that these two were directed to the frontier by Madame Van Damme, who sent another lady with them as a guide. The three were arrested and Madame Van Damme was also thrown into jail by the Germans. At their trials all four were condemned.

Decide It Suicide Montreal, Aug. 27—A verdict of suicide was rendered by a coroner's jury yesterday at an inquest into the death of Gertrude Stavrow, twenty-five years of age, who died on Monday night in the Homeopathic Hospital as the result of swallowing carbolic acid. NEWCASTLE HONORS RETURNED HEROES

(Continued from page 1) 10:30 was headed by Charles Morrissey's automobile in which were His Worship the Mayor Charles Robinson secretary of the New Brunswick Returned Soldiers Aid Commission who was here in the interests of the veterans, and some returned men. Immediately following were the marshals of the parade, Charles Sargent and J. R. Lawlor; the Newcastle band, Howard Cassidy, bandmaster; Chatham band, J. S. Martin, bandmaster; a car in which were eight nursing sisters who have seen more than four years service; and the conveying of the veterans and the magnificent display of floats.

Dinner was served at noon to the men in the army, which was beautifully decorated with greenery, and with bunting and flags and wild flowers adorned the tables.

At 1 o'clock a race of ship's boats in the harbor was witnessed by a large crowd and at 2 o'clock a programme of field sports in Farnell field was enjoyed.

A baseball game between the Newcastle and Chatham veterans was played at 8 o'clock and was witnessed by large crowds.

In the evening there will be speeches by prominent citizens, followed by a band concert and fireworks, finishing a day which will be a credit to the town of Newcastle.

A further examination revealed the cause of the robbery was a burglar-proof room which had been tampered with by the burglar. The burglar had succeeded in cutting fairly neat square openings about the locks. The tumblers had been thrown back and the combination lock had been chiseled off and drills and cold chisels had succeeded in cutting fairly neat square openings about the locks.

A further examination disclosed that entrance had been gained by tunnelling through the brick walls of the built-in vault from a large file room which separates the paymaster's room from that of the timekeeper.

In order to gain admittance to the file room, in one corner of which was located the vault, which opened into the break room, the burglar had succeeded in cutting fairly neat square openings about the locks. The tumblers had been thrown back and the combination lock had been chiseled off and drills and cold chisels had succeeded in cutting fairly neat square openings about the locks.

There was not much doubt but that the robbery was executed by an organized gang which had made a careful survey of the fifteen-year-old brick vault, the approaches and the general layout of the surroundings before they undertook to "break" it.

The vault and the two safes within which were broken open, is on the third floor of the Atlantic avenue side of the South Station about opposite the Hotel Essex, and at the extreme southern end, adjacent to the big train shed and the railroad express offices.

The paramount fear is that confederates of the gang may clip the coupons upon which payment is already due and offer them for deposit at obscure banks. The bonds are all of the third and fourth issues, and though the coupons, like the bonds, are numbered, experts believe that it would be a comparatively easy matter to deposit them as cash if offered in reasonably small lots, without fear of detection.
