DANGER THAT ST. PAUL'S MAY GO

Dome Weighs 32,000 Tons and Piers Believed Not Strong

London, Aug. 3—An interesting article by J. M. W. Halley on "The Peril of St. Paul's" appears in the "Architects' and Builders' Journal."

"Perhaps no greater feat has ever been achieved by man," says the writer, "than the building of St. Paul's dome; but Wren, through lack of knowledge of design, inadvertently left too small a margin of safety in his supports; for when he built his foundations he intended to put a dome of much less altitude, and consequently much less weight, upon them than he has actually done.

"The weight of the dome down to ly done.

"The weight of the dome, down to the level of the top of the piers, is 32,000 tons, which exercises a pressure of eleventons to the foot over their area. Even if the piers were built of solid Portland stone they would be burdened to their limit. But when it is considered that they are merely cased with Portland stone, and that the core is rubble, the anxiety of those responsible for the safety of the cathedral can be easily understood.

arety or the cathedral can be easily understood.

"The whole building is so delicately poised that the slightest alteration of the "status quo" might cause disastrous results. The dome, for example, now eans over a few inches toward the cuth-west, a divergence from truth ardly worth consideration were it not from the fact that this deviation has necessed in the last ten years, and that things increased pressure to bear on the already overweighted piers."

Commenting on the danger from the over-altering nature of the subsoil, Mr. Halley says, "A definite area round St. Paul's should be made immune from examples of the subsoils."

AT TOP AGAIN

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 3.—The law abolishing the free lunch in saloons passed by the last general assembly is now in effect and the display of edibles to be had for the taking, a fixture of long standing at the bars, is now, legally a thing of the past. The State Liquor Dealers' Association, it is understood, proposes to test the constitutionality of the law, but in the meantime the association has sent out cards to its members calling attention to the legislation and asking them to abide by it.

Australians and New Zealanders are the greatest meat-eaters in the world. The former eat 262 lbs of meat a year each and the latter 212 lbs. while the Americans eat 185 lbs and the British only 105 lbs.

Signature

Four elopements is the record established by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A Stage of St. Louis. Thirty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Stage eloped, and to date two of their daughters and one son have departed unceremoniously on their wedding journeys and sent back though the marriages have all been happy, the parents hope to prevent the elopement of their other daughter, now six years old.
