BEAUTIFUL NOVA SCOTIA. An enthusiastic resident of Collina, who attended the anniversary of the Acadia schools, gives the Sun a glowing description of the scenery of the Cornwallis and Gaspereaux valleys. He says that he has recently visited Cambridge, Newton, Brookline and other places near Boston and feels justified in asserting that few of them equal, while none excel the beauty of the university town of Wolfville.

Mr. Bancroft described in a clear and graphic way the formation of many successive ages in this county, especially of the Basin of Minas and the drive up the Gaspereaux valley, and Miss MacLeod in a poetical and Grand Pre, a view worth crossing the over to Kill, separating that part from anything a tree transplanted from and a story to the family of a Collina

FRANK HIGGINS IS UGLY. William Alexander, one of the guards at Dorchester penitentiary, is spending a few holidays in the city. Mr. Alexander says that as a rule the St. John people who are enjoying government positions in the penitentiary are acting properly, Dan Taylor is most obliging and is a good worker. The Holm boys and Tobin are quiet, and there has never been any trouble with them since they went up the line. But the same cannot be said of Frank Higgins who is employed in the tailor shop. He shows temper and is rather nasty at times. Only a few days ago

BRIDGE AT WESTFIELD BURN-Reports from Westfield yesterday on were anxious. The fire there only about one-half mile from the setent and driven by a southwest wind, was running fast toward it. Many had packed up ready for instant flight. The highway bridge betweeen Westfield and Nerepis was burned yesterday morning. This was a ien structure, built only two years ago. Conditions between Nerepis and Westfield were reported as even more serious, only the desperate efforts of rowds of workers preventing the vilages from going.

THE VILLAGE RELIEVED. But about four o'clock the wind died way and enabled the fighters around Westfield to cope with the fire more successfully. About this time the flames worked into the big swamp back of Westfield, where progress was slow and this gave the defenders further encouragement. Late last even-ing Westfield residents reported that the fire was apparently under control, and unless a high wind should start up, danger was considered past. Thursday night the suburbanites kept watch all night in relays of twos and threes. Among the number of city folks on patrol duty at the top of the hill were H. B. Robinson, J. Roy Campbell and Arthur Bowman. The village folk, particularly the women, were
