

"Holy Ghosters" All at Sea No Place on Earth to Land!

"ELIJAH II" AND SHIP "THE KINGDOM," BOTH WANT TO SAIL, BUT HAVE NO PLACE TO GO.

Boston, Aug. 1.—Somewhere out at sea on the Atlantic coast the "Rev." Frank W. Sanford, worshipped as Elijah II, and self-styled Son of God, is drifting aimlessly about, wondering where on the dry earth he can land with his band of "sanctified" followers without being nabbed by the police.

Sanford got a few followers, induced them to generously appropriate their funds for the "common good," and he built the Temple of Shiloh in Maine. Here the poorer of his followers were magnanimously allowed to do the work of tilling the ground, while Sanford and the more wealthy of his followers kept up appearances inside the temple.

Sanford likes to travel, and he got his followers to appropriate funds to fit out a private yacht, which he calls "The Kingdom," and in which he cruised about the world seeking the sights. He enjoyed it immensely. In Jerusalem he deposited a few followers to guard the "Holy Ghost and Us" property there. They are still guarding and wondering how on earth they are ever going to get back to the good old U. S. A. Some more of the followers were on ship-board, and more of the faithful were back at Shiloh temple exercising themselves with prayers while their fields and gardens grew up to weeds.

COOL TO BE HAD BATH AND SHAVE

Waterville, Me., Aug. 1.—House-breaker Here Record For Nerve—Entered House And Made Himself At Home.

Waterville, Me., Aug. 1.—When a local upholsterer returned to the home of George K. B. today to return some work he had been doing while the family was away at the seashore, he found that some stranger had been ransacking the house. Proceeding upstairs, the upholsterer found a young man hidden under one of the beds. When he was dragged into the light he was found to be clothed in clothing belonging to Mrs. B. He had taken a bath and shaved in the bathroom and made himself perfectly at home, selecting such clothing as he desired to wear and packing two grips with silverware and property that could be sold readily. When arraigned in the municipal court this afternoon the respondent gave the name of Roy Garrison but refused to give any further information about himself, taking the matter very coolly. He was bound over to await the action of the grand jury and ordered committed in default of bail.

WITNESSES TELL OF ARREST OF CRIPPEN AND COMPANION

CHARLTON MAY BE GIVEN HIS FREEDOM TODAY

Forty Day Period Expires And Italy Has Made No Formal Demand For Murderer—Cannot Be Detained.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Porter Charlton, who is under arrest at Hoboken pending extradition proceedings for the murder of his wife at Lake Como, Italy, will probably be released within the next week or ten days in the event that the Italian government fails to make a formal demand for his extradition. So far the Italian government has made no formal demand for his extradition. The forty day period during which he can be held under the extradition convention between the United States and Italy will expire on Tuesday, August 2. If in the meantime the Italian government does not demand his extradition through its diplomatic representative in this country, the State Department will inform the New Jersey courts that there is no authority for detaining Charlton further, and he will probably be set free.

What Happened When Scotland Yard Man Abruptly Ended Globe Crossing Chase for London Wife Murderer—Miss Leneve Found Refuge in Womanly Tears.

Quebec, Aug. 1.—With Crippen and the girl who accompanied him from London safe in their cells and all danger of escape passed, the officers and others who were present when the arrest was made on the Montrose talk more freely now of what occurred when Inspector Dew boarded the steamer and brought the half round the world chase to an end.

Crippen, I want you," said Inspector Dew quietly as he approached. The dentist recoiled involuntarily as he recognized the man who addressed him, then the blood left his face, his breath came short and fast and he lurched incoherently. As he was being led away to the captain's cabin, whither he was transferred later to his own stateroom, he said gratefully: "Thank God, the suspense is over, and I am glad!" Crippen's arrest accomplished, Dew hurried to Miss Leneve's stateroom, where he found her, still dressed as "John Robinson, Jr.," on the verge of nervous breakdown. Her appearance, when confronted by the detective and told that she was under arrest, was pitiable.

In case the girl fainted, then he entered the cabin, followed by himself. "Do you recognize me?" he asked of the girl when she arose to greet him. "No," she said bluntly, as the color left her face. "Well," said he, "I am a detective of Scotland Yard, and I have here a warrant for your arrest on the charge of murder and mutilation of the body of an unknown woman." He used the same words with which the head-dressed Crippen taking them from the wording of the warrant.

The magazine fell from the girl's hand and she sank back on the sofa in a faint. Then the stewardess entered at a word from Dew and forced a little of the liquor between her teeth. Breathing heavily she lay back on the sofa with her eyes closed. She was not handcuffed. The girl was clad in a boy's suit of brown material, but even in this ill-fitting attire she showed some of the beauty that the police believed led Crippen to turn against his wife. Her light-brown hair is cut short and parted in the middle after the fashion of the English boy. Her eyes are gray and large and heavily fringed, and her complexion is clear. Her face is pleasingly oval and her expression winning. It was more than the detective that the girl was able to sit up. Even then her condition was pitiful, and no one saw her except the ship surgeon and the stewardess. At times her moans could be heard in the passageway outside her cabin. After satisfying themselves that there was no weapon in her room the officers did not return until she was instructed to prepare for leaving the vessel at Quebec.

They may appear against Crippen. Newport, R. I., Aug. 1.—Mrs. Robert Mills, a hair sister of Belle Elmore, the late wife of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, has been asked by the Scotland Yard officials to go to England for the trial of Dr. Crippen. She has not been informed just what they expect to get from her, but she is willing to go. She has been requested to prepare to leave Newport. She states that she will probably go to England by way of Quebec, stopping at the residence of Dr. Crippen and Miss LeNeve en route. Mrs. Mills was happy today over the news of the arrest of the couple, and made no effort to hide the fact.

NO SPANISH AMBASSADOR AT VATICAN

Left Yesterday For Madrid One Hour After Communication Was Received—Rome Replies to Canalejas.

Rome, Aug. 1.—One hour after presenting the note of Premier Canalejas to the Vatican officially announcing that Marquis de Canalejas had been called to Madrid for a communication from the government, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican left Rome. It was early this morning and as yet no retaliatory measure had been taken by the Vatican and Mr. Vico still remains in Madrid as papal nuncio. The statement issued by Premier Canalejas yesterday bearing out the controversy between the church and the state has been carefully perused to be clearly understood that that part of the statement in which it is declared that the Holy See intended to concede to the Spanish government less than was agreed to in 1904, it is Canalejas, they declare, who now wants greater concessions than those of 1904, on the plea that they were granted to the then premier, Maura, and that Canalejas believed them to be at that time insufficient.

Rome's Contentions. In answer to this the Holy See retorts that it deals with the Spanish government not with parties in the Cortes. The convention between the Holy See and the Spanish government agreed to in 1904, it is pointed out, had already been approved by the senate was about to pass the chamber of deputies when the Maura cabinet fell. This, however, was due to matters having no relation to the convention or the religious question. Why then, the Vatican asks, should greater concessions be granted to Premier Canalejas now? Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has prepared all the documents in the controversy for publication in a white book if the premier issues a red book on the subject.

Special to The Standard. Campbellton, Aug. 1.—Contributions today increased the relief fund by about $1,000. It is taking a long time for the fund to reach the $50,000 mark, but it is hoped that the second half of the necessary $100,000 will come quicker than the first. Otherwise there will be many people cold and hungry next winter.

The citizens of Amherst are responding nobly to the call. Yesterday another carload of clothing, etc., was forwarded through Mayor Curry. One day of unbroken sunshine has done a great deal to brighten the lot of the Campbelltonians. The spirits of the people rise and fall with the sun and rain but during the last three days there has been more confidence that the public is going to answer the appeal with the accustomed generosity of Canadians. A friend of Campbellton has written from Boston saying that subscriptions were being daily filed in that city. "We must help you raise the relief fund to $100,000," he says. GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE ON BOND ISSUES

Moncton Board Will Submit Resolution Of This Nature To Provincial Board Meeting—Much Business Done.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, N. B., Aug. 1.—At tonight's meeting of the Board of Trade, 82 new members were admitted. Delegates were appointed to a meeting of the Maritime board at Chatham and the following subjects proposed for discussion: "Resolved, that it is the opinion of this board of trade it is advisable that the provincial government take steps to provide for the establishment of main roads between the centres of the several provinces with a view to having such roads established and maintained of a uniform and permanent nature. Further that such roads can best be established and maintained by having them withdrawn from operation of ordinary highway acts and placed under control of a skilled commissioner. Whereas the almost total destruction of the town of Campbellton by fire has removed to a large extent the security on which the bonds to be issued and has placed it out of the power of that municipality for a number of years to pay the interest on the same, necessitating an appeal to the Dominion and provincial governments to assume such charges. And whereas this disaster may prejudicially affect the sale of municipal bonds in future, therefore "Resolved, that it is the opinion of this board that all future issues of bonds by town, city or county under authority of the local legislatures shall be guaranteed by the several provincial governments both as to principal and interest and that a guarantee fund be provided by each province from the proceeds of sale of such bonds to meet calls upon them arising from extraordinary emergencies similar to the Campbellton fire.
