

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS ENGLISH OWNERS OF STEAMER APPAM

Washington, March 6.—In an unanimous opinion the Supreme Court today decided that the United States today decreed restoration to her English owners of the liner Appam and cargo, brought into Hampton Roads, Virginia, more than a year ago by a prize crew from the German raider Moewe. Ship and cargo, valued at between three and four million dollars, must be delivered within thirty days, as the court's orders are final.

The decision, written by Justice Day, affirms decrees by Federal Judge Waddell, of Virginia, and upholds the original ruling by Secretary of State Lansing that prizes coming into American ports unaccompanied by prize crews have the right to remain on the high seas until they can be taken to a neutral port.

American neutrality is violated in bringing the Appam into Hampton Roads, the court says, and neither the ancient treaties relied upon by Lieut. Berg, the German prize commander, the Hague convention, nor the Declaration of London, nor any belligerent's right to make American ports a place for deposit of prizes as spoils of war under such circumstances.

"The principles of international law," the opinion adds, "leaving the treaty aside, will not permit the ports of a neutral nation to be used as a base of operations for the capture of prizes of war."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Margaret Corcoran.—The death of Mrs. Margaret Corcoran, though not unexpected, came with a sense of shock to the community on Friday morning, March 3rd. She had been ill all winter, but her cheerful and uncomplaining spirit led her family to hope that she might yet be spared for a time. This was not to be, but her loved ones were comforted by the summons coming so quietly and gently that they scarcely knew when she passed from death into life. The funeral service was conducted from her late residence Sunday, p. m., by Mr. Lane, lay reader of Trinity church, assisted by Rev. Mr. McWilliam, pastor of the Baptist church. The deceased was seventy-five years old, and a daughter of the late William Smith of St. John. She leaves seven children: William, George, James, and three daughters, all of whom are now in the Canadian forces in France.

Lila B. McCain.—On Friday evening, March 2nd, a gloom was cast over the community of Florenceville, when the news spread that Miss Lila B. McCain had passed away. Deceased was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McCain, and was twenty-seven years of age. In autumn 1910 Miss McCain went to Montreal to take a course in McDonald College, but after only a few weeks she was obliged to return home, being ill with tuberculosis. Everything was done for her that could be done, and for a time strong hopes were entertained for her recovery, but despite all that human hands could do the disease remained unconquered. She bore her illness with Christian fortitude, expressing hope that health should be restored, yet willing to abide by whatever might be God's will. Her kind and cheerful disposition won for her the love of all who knew her. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and took an active part in all its work, being organist for a number of years and also a teacher in the Sabbath school. Besides her sorrowing parents she is survived by one brother, Roy, who resides at home. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon when a large gathering paid their tributes of respect to the departed one, and expressed sympathy for the grief-stricken family. The service was conducted at the home by Rev. M. H. Manuel, who preached from John 11: 25-26, "Jesus and the life: and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." Four cousins of the deceased acted as pall-bearers, and the body was laid to rest in the family lot near the home.

Mrs. John Cogger, Sr.—The death took place this morning of Mrs. John Cogger, Sr., a highly respected woman, after a long illness. She was 75 years of age, and is survived by her aged husband, Mrs. Sarah Sullivan, Mrs. T. L. Feyer, Mrs. Wm. Weeks, John E. Walter, Charles and Edward Cogger, are children of deceased.

Henry T. Colpitts.—Woodstock March 6.—Mrs. Howard D. Stevens received a telegram today announcing the death of her brother, Henry T. Colpitts, of Wakefield, Mass. He was a native of Pleasant Vale, Elgin, Albert county, and a graduate of Mount Allison, Sackville, and for years was a grammar school teacher in this province, teaching at St. Martins, Richibucto and Elgin, and about fifteen years ago he taught the school at Upper Woodstock for two terms, then removing with his family to Wakefield, Mass. He leaves to mourn a widow, who was Miss Essie Osburn, of St. Martins, one son, Harry, and one daughter, Jennie, both of Wakefield, Mass.; one brother, Stephen B., of Allston, Boston, and three sisters, Mrs. Sarah E. Giffin, of Elgin; Mrs. Mary J. Wallace, of Boundary Creek; and Mrs. Howard D. Stevens of Woodstock. He was 68 years of age, a Methodist in religion. He will be buried at Wakefield.

John M. Johnston.—Newcastle, Mar. 5.—The death occurred on Friday last of John M. Johnston of Redbank. Mr. Johnston had gone to the woods for a load of wood in his usual good health and died in the sled on his way home. Deceased was sixty-seven years of age and a member of the Presbyterian church. He is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Mary White of Redbank, and one daughter, Miss Beatrice, of Boston. James B. Johnston of Redbank and Mrs. Irvine Murray of Newcastle are brothers and sister of the deceased. The funeral services were conducted Monday morning at ten o'clock by Rev. J. F. McCurdy, with interment in St. Stephen's Presbyterian cemetery, Redbank.

Special to The Standard.—St. Andrews, Mar. 6.—On Sunday evening last at 3.30 o'clock Mrs. Jane, wife of Andrew Lamb, passed to her long rest after a very few days of acute illness. At the time of her death Mrs. Lamb was probably one of the oldest ladies in St. Andrews and was universally loved and esteemed by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The deceased lady was a daughter of the late George and Agnes Augher, who was born in Colborne, Ireland, December 23rd, 1826, and came to Canada with her parents in 1842. She was married to Andrew Lamb, who survives her, at the age of ninety years, in the year 1851, and the issue of their marriage was four sons and three daughters, namely: G. Herbert Lamb, now of St. Andrews, the late (land M. Lamb, Warwick W. Lamb, now of Boston, Joseph K. Lamb of Woodstock, Mrs. Marie A. Matthews, wife of Charles Matthews of California, Mrs. Ella G. Douglas, wife of Goodwill Douglas of St. Andrews, and Mrs. Annie L. Hanson, widow of late P. G. Hanson.

The late Mrs. Lamb prided herself on her nationality; was a woman of exceptionally strong intellect, and retained her faculties and memory to a wonderful degree up to the last moments of her life. Her distinct recollection of the earlier conditions in St. Andrews and the old people who did so much to make history for this town, made her a most interesting companion, and her bright and happy disposition made her an inspiration and a joy to all who came in contact with her. To her family and her intimate friends she grew old only in years and always kept in close touch and sympathy with the tastes and the ambitions of the young people, and especially her own grandchildren, by whom she was greatly beloved. A loving and devoted wife and mother, she occupied for very many years a large place in the esteem and affections of the people of St. Andrews, and those who were permitted to be with her in her declining years, will always remember her as a beautiful example of patience and cheerfulness, even unto the very last day of her long and well spent life.

He was employed as clerk in the office of the McClary Manufacturing Company on Prince William St. Besides a host of friends, the deceased leaves his parents, one brother even unto the very last day of her long and well spent life.

Samuel Crothers.—Samuel Crothers, aged 88 years, died yesterday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. H. C. Croughton, 187 Queen street. Some years after returning to his native city he went into the business in the North End with Messrs. Price, Shaw and Sayer, under the name of Crothers, Price & Co. After three years Messrs. Crothers and Sayer retired from the firm. For the next ten years he carried on business on his own account and then associated himself with James Wilson, an expert woodworker, and Charles J. Henderson, expert iron worker. For more than forty years on Waterloo street that well-known firm carried on most successfully the carriage making industry. About twelve years ago he retired from business. His companions in business, Messrs. Henderson and Wilson, predeceased him.

Before engaging in the carriage business, Mr. Crothers was employed with the clothing establishment of P. M. Gardner, J. & W. P. Harrison, Indian town, the soap and candle business of Walker T. Harvey and several other places.

Child Was Nervous, Irritable, Tired Out

She Had No Appetite, and Her Complexion Was Pale and Sallow.

How many parents realize the strain which going to school means to the child who is naturally nervous and of delicate health?

You see them come from the schools daily with pale faces, many wearing glasses, and looking tired and worn. At home they are irritable, do not sleep well at nights and are upset by a little extra excitement.

If they are to grow to healthy manhood and womanhood their systems must have attention now. Such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, wonders for children in this condition.

We are constantly receiving letters from grateful parents telling what the Nerve Food has done for their children. This one is a fair sample:

Mrs. Stephen Hartman, Italy Cross, Lunenburg Co., N. S., writes: "My little sister at eleven years of age became nervous, irritable and seemed all tired out. She had no appetite, was lifeless and drooping and her complexion grew pale and sallow. Finally she had to keep her bed and have somebody with her all the time. She was afraid of everything, would get excited and tremble all the bed would shake. As she seemed to be getting worse under the doctor's treatment, mother decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. After she had used about four boxes, improvement was noticeable and it was wonderful to see how much brighter and stronger she grew week by week. She uses ten boxes all together and they cured her. She got fat and rosy and went to school every day with an ambition that she never seemed to have before. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to anyone, for it was indeed wonderful what it did for her."

Colds or Coughs SHOULD NEVER BE NEGLECTED.

If They Are Some Serious Lung Troubles Are Sure To Follow.

A cold or cough, if neglected, will sooner or later develop into some sort of lung trouble, so we would advise that you get rid of it before it becomes settled. For this purpose we know of nothing to equal Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This preparation has been on the market for the past twenty-five years, and has always given universal satisfaction.

Mr. Erwin Bolton, Wilton, Ont., writes: "Last winter I was caught in a storm and had to stay in a barn all night. I caught a severe cold which several medicines failed to cure. I went to some of the best doctors but these failed to do me any good. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I used three bottles and they gave me instant relief."

When you ask for "Dr. Wood's" see that you get the genuine, put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark and bearing the name of The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 25c. and 50c.
