

No Advance in 3 Years

With war-time prices so terribly high for nearly every article of food, it must be a particular satisfaction to those who love good coffee to know that there has been no advance in the price of Red Rose Coffee for three years—and the great increase in the sale of Red Rose Coffee this year shows that the price is appreciated.

People everywhere seem to be using much more coffee than they did before.

Red Rose Tea is economical on account of its superior quality—but Red Rose Coffee is economical both on account of its quality and price, a combination hard to maintain in war-time.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS RECEIVED

Margaret Randolph, St. John Co.—The story which you sent regarding the little girl whom you think did not put her toys away before going to bed, was quite original, and well written.

Alma Harris, Danforth—Yes, I am sorry that you were so late in sending your drawing, as it was quite well done.

Margerie Hewitt, St. Stephen—Very pleased to get your letter, and to number you among the thousands of kids who are now members of the Corner.

Olive Alcorn, (English Rose) Debec—Many thanks for the nice letter, asking if you will join the Corner. Certainly. What part of England do you come from?

Pearl Fisher, 60 Spar Cove Road—I have answered your question regarding the scrap book in the Question Box. I am very pleased to see that you wish to be a member of the B. P. S.

Clarence Beaumont, Edgerts Landing—Thanks for the pretty card stating that you received prize safely. I note that you wish to correspond with other members. Write some of them. Others may see this reply, and write to you.

Milton Newman, Wilson's Beach—Pleased to have you as a member. My answer regarding the Maple Leaf pins, in the Question Box, in this column.

Immaline Hall, Newton—What an interesting letter you did send me. I was very pleased to hear about your school. Thanks for the nice things that you are enjoying the Corner.

Wesley MacKinnon, Havelock—Glad to hear that you are enjoying the contests, and to have your letter.

Wesley MacKinnon, Havelock—Very pleased to hear that you are enjoying the Corner so much. Write again soon.

George Manning, Sussex—Yes, you are awarded one of the prizes, and this I expect you have received it. My hope, Sussex—Delighted to hear that you are enjoying the Corner.

Henry Turner, 23 Somerset Street—My thanks for your letter, together with the good suggestions. I am trying to get them this week, in the contest which you will take part in same week.

Mary Walsh, 61 Clarence Street—I am pleased to hear that you are enjoying the Corner. I am also pleased to hear that you are enjoying the contests.

Wesley MacKinnon, Havelock—Glad to hear that you like school so much.

John Brennan, City—So you are another kiddie who takes much interest in the Corner, and reads it through? Well I am pleased to hear from you again soon.

Wesley MacKinnon, Havelock—Delighted to hear that you are one of those who will write to the soldiers. Glad to hear from you again soon.

Wesley MacKinnon, Havelock—Glad to hear that you are enjoying the Corner. I am also pleased to hear that you are enjoying the contests.

to see that you are enjoying the Corner, Jean.

Dorcas Powell, Freetown, N. B.—Thank you for the interesting letter, Dorcas. I note your remarks regarding the mail, but unfortunately you did not get the correct number of time to write again soon.

Ray Marshall, Marshalltown, N. S.—No, Ray, I am not in any way partial to the N. B. boys and girls, nor are the prizes sent to them particularly. The rewards are made solely according to the conditions of the contest, and in accord to the merit of the work, the age also being considered.

The reason which may make it appear that the N. B. kiddies get more prizes, is because there are not so many kiddies from N. B. members as there are in N. B. Glad you asked me about it. Lillian Clark, Dipper Harbour.

What a nice long interesting letter you sent me. I am glad to enter your name as a member of the Corner. Hazel Dower, Chatham—Although you have not been writing, I was very pleased indeed to find your letter in my mail. I hope that you will continue to write the Corner, after you are sixteen as that only applies to the contests and not the fact of being a member of the Corner.

Agnes Patton, Erb Sett—Although you did not manage to get the correct number of times that the word "Corner" appeared, you tried hard, and an watching your work with interest. Write again soon.

Florence Wilson, Bath—Very pleased indeed to see that you are enjoying the contests so much, Florence. Your letter was welcome.

Edith Regan, Levis Cove—Your story as to the kind deed was particularly sweet. I am publishing it, as an encouragement to the other members.

Dora Wilson, Harvey St.—Your letter was particularly welcome, Dora, and gave me quite a surprise to find out who the little girl was to whom you wrote about. I am answering your questions in the "Question Box" this week.

Heidi Baird, River de Chute—Very glad to have you as a member of the B. P. S., and have entered your name. Heidi.

Mary Mavor, River de Chute—Although your letter was quite short, I was pleased to hear from you, and shall look for a longer letter next time.

Margaret Knollin, Bellisle Creek—I was pleased to get your letter and to see that you were enjoying the contest so much.

Edith Mavor, River de Chute—Glad to get your letter, and to see that you are enjoying the Corner as much as ever.

Jessie Till, Andover—Sorry you did not manage to get the correct number of times the word "Corner" appeared. Write again soon.

Ruby Price, Debec—Your long and interesting letter was very welcome, and I am answering some of your questions in the "Question Box." Glad to number you as a member of the B. P. S.

Nora Scott, Debec—A big welcome to the Corner, Nora, and I trust that you will find continued interest in same. Glad Gertrude asked you.

Olive Alcorn, Debec—Gertrude is doing splendidly getting new members, and I think the plan of making the Standard to school, and showing it to the school children is a very good one. Glad to have you as a member.

Norma Von Richter, West St. John—Delighted to get your letter, and let you join the B. P. S. also to hear that you enjoy the stories so much, and get lessons from same. Write me again soon. Thanks, I am very well, and busy among all the kiddies.

Alma Harris, Danforth—It was a good job you wrote your name on the outside of the envelope as otherwise I would not have known who wrote me. Pleased to see that you are enjoying the contests.

Florence Whitaker, Holderville—Very pleased to hear that you have had such a great time during the holidays. No, the word would not count. Thanks for the good wishes.

Ralph Mac, Sackville—Very glad indeed to have you as a member of the Corner. Although you were not correct in the contest, I am much interested and shall watch for your further efforts.

Myrtle Cox, Youngs Cove—No, I have not heard from Marjorie recently. Tell her I am watching for a letter. I quite understand that you will not be able to get many new members, but just have a try. Yes, the dowers withered, but I appreciated them very much. Glad to hear that you are enjoying the contests.

Genevieve Frost, Hampton—I was beginning to think that you had forgotten, but the receipt of your week one letter dispelled such thoughts. It was a pity that you did not call to see me, as I would have been delighted to see that you are enjoying the Corner.

Elsie MacDonald, Campbellton.

Answer. Just write stating that you desire to join, and that you will promise to read the Children's Corner every Saturday, taking a personal interest in same, also that you will endeavour to be kind to others, and do a kindly deed as often as possible.

CONDUCTED BY UNCLE DICK.

to have you call. Annie Scott, Amherst—Although it is your first letter to the Corner, I trust that it will not be the last, as I am always glad to have letters from the kiddies.

Muriel Kilham, Mt. Middleton—So you want some more Uncle Wiggle stories. Well, I shall see what can be done regarding this feature.

Queen Thomas, Miramichi—Delighted to have you as a member of the Corner, and to note how interested you are in same. You must try hard to get a prize now that you have joined.

Julia Bernard, Lloyd Bernard, Edith Fallon, Sunnyside—Glad to have you as members of the Corner, and have entered your names. Julia, will you please get the others which you mentioned, to write me also asking for membership, as until I receive their letters I cannot credit you with them, in the membership contest.

Heidi Baird, River de Chute—Yes, I have been missing your letters, but was glad to hear from you at last. Pleased to hear that you are enjoying the contests.

Marion Lunan—Glad to see that you wish to join the B. P. S. I have entered your name as a member. I hope you will soon have some kind of prize for your efforts.

Annie Wheaton, Clarendon Station—Pleased to see that you find such interest in the Corner. It is nice to hear from you, and that the B. P. S. will be glad to have you.

Henry Wheaton, Clarendon Station—Yes, I always excuse bad writing, under conditions that I know that the writer cannot do better, but I don't think you need worry about the bad writing in your letter, as it is so splendid. Write me again.

Question. Would you please tell if Kitchener is really dead? Avia Lord.

Answer. That fact is being somewhat doubted, in some circles, but I really think that if he had been alive, as a member of the B. P. S., he would have been able to get a prize for his services.

A Regular Saturday Page for the Kiddies

Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children

sun shining bright, Victor's playmate called for him to go out to play, so he immediately went in to the kitchen where his mother was busy and asked her if he may go and play with Charlie.

"Did you finish those little jobs which you were doing for me?" asked his mother in reply.

"Oh, yes, long ago, mama."

"Where are you going to play?" "I don't know but I shall ask Charlie," saying which Victor ran out to the front door, and presently returned to say that his playmate wanted him to go to the park with him, and have a row.

At first Victor's mother, Mrs. Brown said he had better not go, but remembering that the lake was only three feet deep, at the greatest depth, and also that Charlie was an older boy, and would look after her son, she gave her consent.

Away ran Charlie and Victor, and before long having arrived at the lake they were soon enjoying themselves as they rowed about from one bank to the other of the stretch of water.

At last a little voice inside each of them seemed to tell him that it must be getting near dinner time, so they turned their boat towards the landing.

In a few minutes they arrived at their destination, and jumping out of the boat were just going to fasten it safely, when another school friend came running down, with a beautiful model boat, which he was going to sell.

Both Victor and Charlie could not help admiring such a fine ship, but what interested them was that when they turned their boat towards the landing, what was their surprise to find that the boat had been washed a few feet away from the side of the landing.

Quick as thought, however, Victor said, "I'll soon get it," and kneeling down he stretched forth his arm as far as he could, just two inches too short! He was not to be beaten though, so he gave an extra stretch, when without the slightest warning he lost his balance, and in he went, head first into the water.

There was a gurgling sound for a few seconds, and then from amidst the water and mud, churned up from the bottom, by the accident, emerged the head and shoulders of what just looked like a balloon, or a piece of driftwood close in shore, which had made their way home, a very different party from the one which had been in that head of water before, as they admired the friend's small ship.

I need hardly say that an arrival home, Victor was soon tucked away between warm blankets, after a hot bath, and a basin of steaming hot soup, but it was a long time before he was allowed to go rowing on the park lake again, although his parents were not particularly cross with him, as they felt that the whole affair had been quite an accident.

THIS WEEK'S PRIZEWINNERS

The prize of One Dollar which was offered in the drawing contest, goes to Miss Marion Logan, North Head, Grand Manan, N. B., a large number of entries were received in this competition, and to make special mention of those deserving same, would require the publication of nearly all those who tried, as the drawings were very good.

B. P. S. The following members have asked to join the Birds' Protection Society, during the past few days. Pearl Fisher, 60 Spar Cove Road.

Ruby Price, Debec Junction. Marion Lunan, Campbellton. Heidi S. Baird, River de Chute.

Something for Artists

THE MILL.

THE WINDMILL ARMS GO ROUND AND ROUND AND THAT'S THE WAY THE CORN IS GROUND.

What kind of a mill do you think is shown in the picture above? Who is the man? What animal walks in front of him? What is the animal carrying? Notice the four great mill stones. Last of all, draw the mill arms at the top of the mill; or rectangle on your drawing paper, using light pencil lines. Next mark off the panel across the bottom. Draw the mill arms go round, and round, and that's the way the corn is ground.

must write me a personal letter to this effect and mention in same that you desired them to join. Then you will be credited by me for that number of letters. All letters must be received not later than October 3.

Question. I would like to know how to get one of the Maple Leaf pins. Milton Newman.

Answer. The Maple Leaf pin to which you refer were only given as prizes, but in the near future I expect to be offering them again in contests, as awards. Watch for the Corner for announcements of contests, in which they will be given as second prizes, then try to win one of them.

Question. Will you please tell me what kind of book is best for using as a scrap book, or how to make one? Pearl Fisher.

Answer. You can get very good scrap books, already for use at the Five and Ten Cent Store, but if you prefer to make one, get some thick sheets of thick brown paper, cut them carefully into pieces about 21 inches by 13 inches. Put them evenly together, and then fold them over right in the centre, that is ten and a half inches from either end. Now fasten them with your ribbon, just inside where you have folded, from the centre sheet to the outside cover. Your book is now almost ready, but so as to make it even you may want to cut out every third page out, leaving just about one inch of the page in the book that will make it lie flat after pasting in the pictures. Of course you can put on a stronger piece of brown, or red paper on the outside, and paste some flower pictures on same, to make it pretty.
