

JAPANESE SEEK FRIENDSHIP OF UNITED STATES

Rousing Welcome Given Vanderlip Unofficial Mission Indication of Popular Feelings.

MEETINGS WERE LARGELY ATTENDED

Believed Conferences Have Cleared the Air and Better Feeling Obtains.

By B. W. Fletcher. (Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

Tokio, June 9.—Never have there been so many prominent Americans in Japan as during the last two months and all leaving at almost the same time.

The mission which has attracted the most popular attention in Japan has been that headed by Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip, though the Lambert mission was far more important and accomplished all its purposes.

Never has the Japanese press been so extremely favorable in its comments and in its hopes as in connection with the Vanderlip party.

Great Crowds at Meetings. At Osaka it was announced that Mr. Vanderlip, Doctor Schurman, Mr. Pitt and others would address a meeting at one of the colleges.

Mr. Vanderlip had an interview with Prince Yamagata, the cabinet statesman, and with the premier, minister of foreign affairs, minister of war and others.

At the farwell dinner given at the Imperial Hotel, in Tokio, on the night preceding their departure, Mr. and Mrs. Vanderlip, Miss Vanderlip, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Cronwell and Mrs. Julian Street created a sensation by attending in full Japanese costume.

Japanese Want Better Relations. It is perfectly natural to ask what such a reception signifies at this particular time.

There is a fear in Japan that the relationship between the two countries is not all that might be expected for, and there is a realization among the leaders in business and in finance of the importance of continued good relations.

The unofficial conferences of Mr. Vanderlip and the members of his party were with men who, while proud as Americans, business men and financiers, do not control the power which rules in Japan today.

Foreigners Suspicious. Many foreigners in the Far East contend that the unprecedented hospitality shown to the Vanderlip party from seeing only what the hosts wished they should see and to learn only what was wished to be imparted.

Over 40 per cent. of the total exports of Japan represent raw and manufactured silks. Raw silk is by far the largest item of Japan's export trade and the United States took 67 per cent. of the total raw silk exports during the last year.

The most important work, however, was accomplished by the Lambert mission. Japan, after a year of attempting to exclude Manchuria and Mongolia from the operation of the Consular Convention, finally entered into an agreement without reservations of equal partnership with the United States, England and France.

Two drunks were arrested by the police early last evening. A juvenile was brought in and charged with obstructing traffic. A woman was arrested on a warrant and is being held for the Stollerton police.

One-Man Car Matter Reviewed

Demonstration of Car Will be Held in Few Days—Favorable Comments Received from Other Cities.

As was previously announced, the members of the Street Railway Union refused to work the proposed one-man cars until the result that the same old cars were being used yesterday, and will continue to be kept in service for some time unless something transpires.

It is believed by those advocating the one-man cars that it will be a case of economy and better service. The union men in a number of instances put up arguments against such a service, and in turn were shown the results obtained in other sections of Canada as well as the United States.

It is reported that a few street cars are now being fitted out for the one-man service and in the very near future a one-man car will be operated for the purpose of demonstration, when the citizens and the men employed on the cars will be given a chance to see just how it works.

Talking to an official of the Railway Company last night, he informed The Standard that over five thousand one-man cars were in operation in Canada and the United States, and were in all places of operation found to be an advantage over the old style. He believes that if the one-man car is adopted in St. John it will have a tendency to improve the service and the idea will undoubtedly become popular, and further, that after a demonstration of one of these cars is given those opposed at the present time will be favorable to the adoption of the one-man car.

In a recent letter from S. A. Hamilton, Mayor of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, he stated that he has given the one-man car a very thorough test during the six months it has been in operation in that city and this system has his hearty endorsement. There has been an improvement in the service and the matter of running the one-man car was put to a vote of the citizens, who returned a good majority in its favor.

Immediately after the test of the cars were converted and a better service has been maintained. A great amount of time is saved and the system is proving most successful.

A number of letters have been received from Calgary, where the one-man car is in operation and where the newspapers are endorsing the system. The Morning Leader, of Regina, Sask., prints a lengthy article on the report received by the City Council from the delegation who had been looking into the system, and showed that, after visiting other sections of the country and seeing the one-man car in operation, and having heard the views of the operators and citizens, the committee reported that they were now in favor of the adoption of the one-man car operation in Regina. The secretary of the Calgary Board of Trade states that there was at first considerable opposition to the proposed one-man car, but now this opposition has entirely ceased and the citizens would not wish to go back to the old system.

One letter of interest is received from Mrs. E. S. Kirby, former president of the Calgary Local Council of Women, who states that it is now five years since the one-man car system has been adopted in that city and she considers it much safer than the old system, the service is a great success and is most popular.

A great number of similar letters and press reports have been received from different cities where the one-man car is in operation, and all are strongly in favor of the system.

Many of the local street car operators are strongly opposed to the adoption of the one-man car in St. John, but when one of these cars is given a demonstration here, there will be plenty of chance for criticism, from both those in favor of or against the system.

WARM WEATHER HARD ON THE DRUNKS—POLICE ALSO BUSY PICKING UP LOST CHILDREN WHO STRAY FROM HOME.

A spell of warm and fine weather always means more work for the police department. The work is caused by two different classes of citizens, one the old soaks who like to sober off in the city's squares and parks, and who are always harassed of a reception at the police station; the other, the little kiddies, who in their play gradually stray away from familiar surroundings and get lost.

Then it is that the police step in, and many an anxious parent's heart is set at ease by seeing the wandering hopeful perched up on the policeman's register, admiringly glancing at the cops, while the worried parent has come to the station as the last resort, after a vain search all over the city.

YESTERDAY THREE LOST CHILDREN WERE FOUND. The first two were from Brunel street and Elliott Row. They were located on Thorne Avenue. The third was from Prince William street and was located in West St. John.

A few days previous, a little chap from Carleton, aged five was held by the police awaiting a call from his parents. The little fellow knew his name and that he lived in West St. John but didn't know the name of the street or that of his parents. He did know the name of the cops on the beat, however, and when his parents arrived was chattering away with a couple of them even calling them by their first names.

He was found at his parents' home at 6:45 yesterday afternoon and became lost. He was finally located by the police in West St. John last evening when a kindly resident of that locality informed them that he found the youngster after the Negro Peter Walker. As he is only four years old he is sure some policeman.

Milk Producers And The Railway

Today is Date Set by Kings County Association to Hear from C. N. R. Management Regarding Changing of Train Time.

Today was the date set by the Kings County Milk Producers Association in their ultimatum to the C. N. R. They informed the management that unless the Sussex train was taken off daylight time and put back on her old schedule, the milk producers would cease to ship milk into the city.

On Monday last the producers submitted an alternative proposition, namely that the Hampton suburban train be taken off daylight time and put back on its previous schedule on Standard time. W. R. Devenant, president of the management, has given all today to consider the proposition and this request was granted.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary coconut oil. It is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoons will cleanse or hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get maltilled coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

GERMANS TO BLOCK HELP FOR POLAND

Railroad Brotherhoods Bitterly Opposed to Colored French Soldiers.

TRANSPORT WILL BE REFUSED TROOPS

Orders Have Been Issued to Deny Railway Service to Entente.

(By S. B. Conger. Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.)

Berlin, June 9.—The German railroad brotherhoods are determined to block as far as possible Entente assistance to the Polish campaign against Russia, and are particularly opposed to the dispatch to Poland of the colored French troops just withdrawn from the occupied Rhine districts. On account of the widespread protests against the alleged conduct of the black soldiery, the brotherhoods have ordered their members to refuse their services in any attempt to transport these or any other Entente troops en route to Poland over German railways.

The railroads are greatly embittered by the conflict between French occupational troops in the plebiscite areas of upper Silesia and East and West-Prussia and the German inhabit-

NEED HELP OF WOMEN TO PREVENT WAR

French Representative at Woman's Suffrage Congress is M. Godart.

FRENCH PREMIER FAVORS SUFFRAGE

Government Believes the Nation Will be Benefited if the Vote is Given to French Women.

By CONSTANCE DREXEL.

Paris, June 6.—I crossed the "Place de la Concorde" over the "Pont Neuf" to the Chamber of Deputies to meet Justin Godart, who has been appointed by the French Government as representative to the Congress of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance in Geneva, beginning on June 6. You go into the entrance-chamber of the palatial old home of Francois Perle. It is filled with anxious constables, who have sent in their names by the black and red liveried footmen, and are waiting for their representatives to come out.

Mr. Godart was not long in answering the call. He is short and stocky, with gray hair brushed pompadour and wears tortoise-shell glasses, which he must have obtained in America.

It is not strange the French Government should have selected a man rather than a woman to be its representative to a woman's congress? "I asked him.

"But no," he replied. "We have no woman whatever in politics in France and the selection of a member of the chamber proves the importance of the congress in Premier Millerand's mind. It is filled with anxious constables, who have sent in their names by the black and red liveried footmen, and are waiting for their representatives to come out.

Millerand for Suffrage.

"The Premier Millerand in favor of woman suffrage for France?" I asked. "It is widely known that M. Clemenceau was not."

"Yes," replied M. Godart. The inclination of the present government is for giving women of France the vote. We feel that though many do not want it, the country would be helped thereby."

Asked what his principal message to the congress would be, M. Godart said his reversal of cabinet. I believe of the French Government, that the main message would be the need of women's help to form a powerful organization of the society of nations to prevent wars.

"Women know only too well," he said, "the abominable catastrophe of the war. I suffer more even than the men. I am certain we can count on them to help us build a society of nations, but the women are the best unless they have the right to vote. Do not think that women will follow political factions very closely or take part in revivals of cabinet. I believe, however, that their influence will always be for peace and against war. Had we had their participation in European politics heretofore, it is almost safe to say the abominable catastrophe of this war would have been averted."

Leaving the Chamber of Deputies I taxied up the Champs Elysees to find the inconspicuous home of the League of Nations in Paris. The great avenue was alive with motorcars, but one missed the American doughboys who used to sparkle up and down by the thousands. The great Elysee Palace Hotel offices of the league, waiting as liberally, in which capacity she also served for the American mission at the Hotel Crillon in the peace conference. M. Millerand tried to telephone to London for further details of Miss Wilson's appointment, but was unable to obtain information in time for this dispatch. Mr. Godart said the French woman suffrage bill, which passed the Chamber of Deputies a year ago, would soon come up in the Senate and it was hoped the influence of the Geneva congress would help it.

Mrs. Catt and Mrs. De Witt Schuyler have left for Geneva. About a dozen other American delegates have left for a motor trip of several days to Geneva, taking in Rheims, Verdun and other battlefields en route.
