W. A. Convention
Largely AttendedBusiness Sessions at Stone
Church—Addresses by the Bishop and Rev. H. A. Cody

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Fredericton diocesan branch of the Women's Auxiliary was held in St. John's (Stone) Church yesterday morning.

A stirring call on behalf of the church was issued yesterday morning by Rev. H. A. Cody in his sermon at the opening of the eighteenth annual meeting of the Fredericton diocesan branch of the Women's Auxiliary held in St. John's (Stone) Church.

The president in delivering her address expressed regret at the retirement of Mrs. H. A. Cody, who had been the executive of the auxiliary for many years.

The necessity of Christian training in the home had been stressed at the recent meeting of the Synod and she urged the auxiliary to co-operate in realizing that training.

The seven headings were, Faith, Opportunity, Response, Will, Action, Health and Divine Commission. In an eloquent and earnest manner he told of the faith that was needed to carry on the great work today.

Following the communion service the delegates retired to the schoolroom of the church where the business of the day was taken up with the president, Mrs. G. P. Smith, in the chair.

At this point, His Lordship Bishop Richardson, asked permission to address the meeting. He spoke of an opportunity which existed in the province for missionary work.

The secretary, Mrs. H. J. Roberts, read a letter from the Dominion president of the W. A. of this diocese on the good work accomplished.

The president announced that she had received communication from the officers of the Church of England Institute extending the hospitality of the Institute to the delegates.

A letter was read from the Alexander Society of King's College, Windsor, with reference to assistance to the divinity school of the college.

The afternoon session was opened at 3.15 by the singing of hymn 652, after which the president, Mrs. George P. Smith, offered prayer and then read the address. The president's address was followed by the reading of the reports of the recording secretary, corresponding secretary, the treasurer's report, the diocesan secretary, the girls' secretary, the juniors' secretary and the ladies' secretary.

An outstanding feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a life membership to the Junior Superintendent, Miss Portia Mackenzie, by the Junior Auxiliary. An address was read by the president, and the presentation made by Mrs. R. H. Harrison.

It was announced during the meeting that the Loyalist Branch of Fredericton had contributed $15, the interest on a bequest to be devoted to the mission in Kangra, India.

Free Kindergarten
Monthly MeetingFive Schools Are in Session
—Supervisor Will Attend
Convention in Detroit.

The monthly meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association was held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade room, Mrs. F. E. Holman in the chair.

The supervisor, Mrs. Robinson, asked for leave of absence for one month, which was granted. While away she will attend the convention of the International Kindergarten Union to be held in Detroit, and will also inspect the kindergartens in the Upper Canada district.

The treasurer reported receipts of $12.50 for the month, expenditure of $4.50, and a balance on hand of $2.25.

Five schools are in session. The teacher in the West Side Orphanage was absent from duty for one week on account of illness, and the teachers of G. W. V. A. and Mabel Peters schools have been ill for one month, but the work has been carried on by the pupils, aided by Mrs. Robinson.

The next report read was that of Mrs. John Hay, the Dorcas Secretary. She reported that the Dorcas fund, containing 3,709 articles, 1,149 of which were new, 149 quilts tops and 48 quilts of a total value of $4,117.67 had been sent out to the missionaries during the year. This marked an increase of $1,000 and a gain of 3 more quilts and 16 quilts. Of $4,774.85 raised the amount of $1,044.93 was spent within the diocese. A letter from the Dominion Dorcas secretary contained no complaints but many congratulations, and an appeal for assistance to be offered to 24 more children.

The Girls' Secretary, Miss Helen Richardson, reported an increase in membership, in work accomplished, and in money contributed. An appeal for a new branch at Grand Falls brought the membership past a cherished goal, that of 600. Thirty-five girls were out for the girls of the year. The Educational Pledge of $50 had been met, and life memberships amounted to $83.75.

The Junior Secretary, Miss Portia Mackenzie, reported a total of 313 members extending over 32 branches. Three new branches were formed at Dalhousie, Hillsboro, and St. George's. The Educational Pledge of $50 had been met, and life memberships amounted to $83.75.

Toilet Accessories
Interest The WomenDainty Underthings Dear to Milady's Heart—Corset Has Been Revolutionized.

Nothing quite appeals to the heart of a woman and her refined tastes like the dainty underthings, pretty negligees, or the little accessories to the costume such as gloves, vests, scarfs, corsets and the like.

To the male observer perhaps they are minor details, but that is because they do not know how important may be just a frilly vest, or collar, or many another bit of refinement that gives both freshness and that dash of immediate recognized style to the wearer.

First in order seems to be the corset—and that newly devised article of wearing apparel that takes the place of it for the corsetless miss or slender figure, the "bandeau."

Corsets are shown in a variety of styles, and the low-topped models almost completely taking possession of the shops these days. Of course, for the stouter figure there are well boned corsets, and the idea of comfort is not overlooked in their making. The straight hipless models are here to stay at least for a time.

The New "Step-in" Corsets. Pink satin corsets are the most popular styles, and these are shown in a variety, among other styles being the "step-in." The "step-in" is something really new and has so many good points it is sure to be a favorite. It is in one piece across the front, the lacing coming at the back. When they are laced up one merely leaves the laces loose, and steps in, adjusting the strings and tying them after they have been fitted about the hips.

The classic corset has become so extremely popular one just takes it for granted, and the shops show it in long and short models, and with satin trimmings or in plain style in the less expensive and more conservative model. "Bandeau" is just a small belt of elastic with garters attached, and for the miss or the slender corsetless figure it is not to be overlooked. Time and experience have taught the designer of corsets that the modern woman wants something that is both good looking and comfortable.

Long Brasieres. Silk jersey corsets, though not exactly new are being shown this season in a variety of styles. They are, of course, the expensive models show it in a pretty combination of colors and patterns.

Taffeta and Satin Are the Leading Fabrics—Striped Skirts and Plain Jackets. In the initial 1921 collection of Elise Port in Paris there is a noticeable tendency to follow the Second Empire styles in certain woolen and soft dresses, while the taffeta dresses have the extended effects on the hips only, with a flat front and back. The hem of the skirt is often made to look in regular, either by means of narrow panels longer than the skirt length or by means of scalloped more or less ends. In the soft materials there are also big pointed scalloped effects which sometimes make up the whole skirt or which extend below the rounded hem of the foundation.

The leading fabrics are taffeta and satin as well as navy blue. Many printed cottons in all shades of blue and white, and light blue embroidered are much in use. On woolen dresses especially collars and vests of white organdie are sometimes embroidered in color, are popular.

Tallies are made out of fabrics such as tulle, reps or laize and serge, as well as velours de laine in navy, gray, beige, brick and red. Fancy fabrics are also seen in stripes, arranged in varying ways.

Striped Skirt, Plain Jacket. In some the skirt is striped in two shades as, for instance, in narrow alternating red and blue stripes, which are set rather far apart on a beige fabric with trimming in stripes consisting of little oblongs or rangles. The jackets and the skirts also have black trimming. Skirts incidentally are usually a little more decorated although still straight.

Blouses worn with these tallies are made of crepe Georgette or crepe de chine in a shade to match the color of the costume fabric and trimmed in a similar manner.

The woolen dresses are in poplin and serge with navy the favored color. Some models have the skirt made rather full on the sides by means of gathers, while the back and front are straight.

The afternoon dresses are mostly made in crepe Georgette, crepe de chine, crepe Marocain or in soft satin, with often a combination of plain fabric and printed material or also a combination of two plain fabrics. These models have little trimming, perhaps only some delicate embroidery, often blue, or the sleeves are made long and wide in a more delicate material than the dress and are profusely embroidered in silk or metal.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

Since she first won success in authorship with "The Leavenworth Case," Ann Katharine Green, now in her 75th year, has written a total of thirty novels and over 400 short stories, all dealing with mysterious crimes.

Ester Lee Gould, 30 years old, has established a new record for brilliance as a student at Columbia University. At the next commencement Mrs. Gould will receive the degree of doctor of philosophy, with its full rights of putting Ph. D. after her name and being known henceforth as Dr. Gould. This honor comes to her after one year of work instead of the usual three or four.

Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate general, says the women of Georgia will carry their state into the Republican column. Mrs. Longstreet has had considerable practical experience in politics. She was an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt, who appointed her post-mistress of Gainesville, a position which she forfeited later by following Colonel Roosevelt into the Bull Moose party.

Since the advent of juries of women and mixed juries attorneys at the bar have found difficulty in side-tracking the familiar old phrase of "gentlemen of the jury" and substituting "ladies of the jury," or ladies and gentlemen of the jury. Now the most of them appear to have found a satisfactory solution of the problem by using the phrase, "members of the jury," which has the advantage of fitting all occasions.

Mary, Queen of Scots, was called "The White Queen" because she adopted white mourning after the death of her husband, Lord Darnley. Queen Mary is the first Queen of England, and indeed, the first woman, to receive the degree of doctor of civil law from the University of Oxford.

Dr. Grace M. Morris, one of the first woman coroners in the United States, is said now to have an eye for the majority of Utica, N. Y., and home city.

The Perils of Neglect

Digestive ailments are frequently neglected. People say "It's only a touch of indigestion—it will go away." What begins as simple discomfort is allowed to become a serious chronic ailment. Never neglect the treatment of digestive derangement. To relieve disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, Beecham's Pills act promptly and usually overcome the difficulty. Take
