never properly hired as SUB staff"

Romero, Toner released by Norris

has the power to hire staff been fought over, jerked under the supervision of the Board of Directors.

Miss Toner said that she has been released because Norris thinks she is too agressive: "He just doesn't like me."

The Administration Board of Trustees stated Wednesday that the Board to date had been involved in "recruiting, interviewing, training and scheduling a building staff." When asked if the SUB had a training program for staff, Kim Norris stated that the staff only had to use common sense. He said his priority at this time was not in providing first-aid training.

Maggie Toner's experience has left her very disappointed

By PETER THOMPSON AND

TODD DALEY

like The Little Rock. If you hated Lofty's you'll hate The

the corner of Prospect Street and Greensfield Drive, about 30 minutes walk from campus.

If you haven't guessed yet, its located where Lofty's used to be; and it hasn't changed very much. It has a self-imposed slogan: "Where the sprot set meets," which it tries to show with many sports related ground the walls, and three hockey sweaters tacked on the wall. It seems to be trying to attractors spectators after the

Fredericton Express hockey

Last week, a "special surprise" was offered to UNB and

STU students, which was all right, but it came as a shock that each "special surprise" after that cost $1.05 each. I didn't dare ask the prices of local or imported beers or ales. Be prepared to reach even deeper into the pocket if you want popcorn: 50 cents a

The service was pretty slow, on both Friday afternoon and Friday night. I don't think it was because they were busy

(in the afternoon at least); I'm not really sure why. The food service was pretty good and

The main thing I noticed however, is that is was almost exactly the same as Lofty's.

the food was quite good.

games.

basket.

Little Rock even more.

If you liked Lofty's you might

The Little Rock is located on

The "new" tavern?

ference.

stay alive.

around and misled. As far as we're concerned, we were permanent staff. We had regular hours and regular paychecks. Conflicts between the Board of Trustees and the SUB Board of Directors are not our fault. Why are we paying for it?"

Former SUB Director Mark Slipp said "Pedro Romero has awesome qualifications to be a member of staff. He was by far and away the best staffer. I told the Board of Trustees that he was the best worker I had. I don't know why Norris said he was just average." Slipp also said that he was told not only by the majority of the SUB Board of Directors but also by Dr. James Downey himself to go ahead with the hiring: about the way "we staff have "Downey told me to do my job-hire, fire, and to do what was required." Slipp stated that SUB staff require training, and that he told Norris that a first priority was a proper first aid kit. The Brunswickan called the SUB office Wednesday to check, and no first aid kit was available at the office at that time. According to Norris, he contacted Andy Demello, (exAssistant Director) to find out where the kit was located. Demello informed him it was in a desk but Norris was still unable to locate it.

WORD involved in national movement

By DAVID MOGILEVSKY Bruns Staff

Fredericton's own peace group, WORD (World Disarmament), will be playing a role in a national study of the disarmament movement. Approximately three weeks ago the President of WORD, Kaye Mac-Phee and Michael MacKinnon, a senoir member of WORD were informed that a national study of the peace movement was being made and WORD could participate in the investigation.

MacPhee says that the peo-Only the decor is different, ple involved in the national and that is a very slight difstudy could have received the name of the WORD organiza-It is in a good location for tion from any number of sources. WORD has been active trying to make the group and its objectives known." Rock" might be worth a try in a

The investigation will focus on the status of the disarmathey need to price a little more ment movement by conducting a survey of peace groups ment grant.

Kaye MacPhee and Mike MacKinnon at work for World Disarmament. (WORD) Photo by Anne Fraser across Canada.

WORD members will be busy preparing for a meeting next year of all the peace groups in New Brunswick in an effort to answer questions and discuss the provincial peace movement with the compilers of the report.

WORD has come a long way in its short history. The peace group emphasize the fact that its primary concern is in educating people of the

According to a recently published pamphlet, the group Funds for the project were is "to educate and not to btained through a govern- espouse a particular political viewpoint or doctrine.

various aspects of the disarmament movement.

Are students using their cash-option?

By SHELLY NELSON

those of you that live in the

Parkside Drive area, but so is the Hilltop Pub. The "Little few weeks or so, once it gets going, but they might find that competitively if they want to

Since the introduction of the $3.00 cahs option from Beaver Foods for residence students that began this year, their has been much discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of such a plan.

When asked if the student were taking advantage of the cash option plan, Phil Bonin, Director of Food Services, replied that they indeed were. He went on to state that inone night Beavers Foods grossed as much as six hundred dollars from such an option.

From the students that were polled however, only 10%-15% of them had participated in the plan, while some expressed an interest, but stated that they did not fully understand the implications

For the remaining students, this plan has not met with whole-hearted approval. As one student put it, "If you miss a meal on a certain day, I don't see why you shouldn't be able to have a meal at the SUB that night:" The major complaints heard revolved around this Bonin does not hide the fact that Beaver makes money on students' missed meals, but, he adds that now, students have the opportunity to replace those meals that have been missed.

When asked why the price was set at three dollars, Bonin replied that "it wasn't so much that it was set at three dollars, but that the overall determined price was $126,000 per year." This, he adds, breaks down to three dollars per stu-

Bonin goes on to state that renovations have taken place at the students request, such as the non-smoking section inthe SUB cafeteria.

Residence students that have any problems concerning the food or service should go straight to the kitchen staff, suggests Bonin. Off-campus students, however, will have to go to the specific area where their complaint lies.

Dunn-Tibbits Cafeteria. Are the people not seen in this photo using their cash option?

al ne or ot

he rly not he

ion