Soccer frenzy as York blasts opponents 10-2

by Riccardo Sala

In action at Trent and Carleton over the weekend the soccer Yeomen batted .500 while their Yeowomen counterparts did their own version of the blitzkrieg.

For coach David Bell, the Yeowomen's 2-0 win over Trent on Friday did not reflect the play. "We had 54 shots on their net, 36 of which hit their target. Trent only had two shots the whole game,' Bell said.

The next day the Yeowomen romped over the Carleton opposition 4-0. Kristin Bell nailed two goals to the board, while Samantha Hellens added a goal to one she had against Trent.

This quick start is reminiscent to the one that the Yeowomen had last year. Unfortunately that early charge evaporated into a late season collapse. Bell is confident that this season will be different, noting that "this year's team is probably the best we've ever had.'

The blitzkrieg tactics of the Yeowomen were absent on the men's side.

Friday they demolished the Trent squad 3-0.

Against Carleton Saturday the Yeomen lost 2-I, with York's goal nailed in by Gus Giannikos.

Speaking about the loss coach Eric Willis noted that "as a team we didn't play poorly but there were some individual breakdowns.'

"We were the authors of our own misfortune," Willis added. 'There were some defensive errors and a missed penalty kick. Another day or another time we could have won by 2 or 3 goals (over Carleton)," he explained.

Weekend update

by Riccardo Sala

Two other teams went west to Waterloo for the weekend.

The rugby Yeomen were there Saturday and came away with an 11-9 win over a strong Warrior

The victory came in the final minutes of the game as Yeoman Bryan Armstrong clocked a 70 metre breakout run. That set the stage for Martin Lee's winning try.

This Wednesday at 4:00 pm. the Yeomen are at home for a game against Queen's. On Saturday at 1:00 pm, they play host to Western.

Against Western, York fell 7-2. Despite the score, this was an improvement over past seasons and marked the first time in four years that York has even scored points against Western. As well, they kept the Western squad to three sets in three of the other

AND FINALLY

Coming off the York bench was the impressive doubles team of Sandra Cimetla and Melanie Sajer. In singles competition, Natasha Lissos and Melanie Salboch provided extra firepower for the Yeowomen.

Don't let this tail end notice about the field hockey Yeowomen trick you into thinking we've forgotten about them. We haven't, and it's obvious by the scores that they racked up at a McGill tournament over the weekend that they didn't forget how to play field hockey over the summer.

Against Trent the Yeowomen performed as subtly as B-52's with a convincing 9-0 win. The veteran Tammy Holt supplied five goals.

The Yeowomen steamroller continued with an 8-0 win over Carleton. Sherry Field scored twice for the York side.

The Yeowomen finished off the weedend with a 5-0 drubbing over Laurentian. Field added to her earlier tally with two more goals.

The Yeowomen's next match is at Queen's this Saturday. There they will see action against McGill and Waterloo.
