P. A. MACDONALD MANITOBA

November 22, 1909.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 18th, it is now over a year since I had to do with the Conciliation Board and my attention is pretty well occupied with the duties of my office so I fear I am not in condition if I may use a sporting form to be of much assistance to you.

My recollection is that I was of the opinion that the Act was a most beneficent one. No necessity arose in the case with which I was connected to look for charges or amendments. That particular case was a complicated, long, drawn out and bitterly fought one but no difficulty was experienced in the working of the Act.

As to extending to all employments I would say go slow.

Yours very truly,
