The compiler in presenting another "Toronto General Directory" to the public, feels it somewhat necessary to apologize for the delay beyond the period originally announced for issue.

Few are aware of the tedious labour and annoying disappointments connected with the compilation of a work comprising three distinct Directories, not excepting those entailed on it during the process of collecting the matter and its after progress in printing.

As nearly correct as possible, it is not presumed it will be found free from errors, although constant personal supervision has been bestowed upon it in all its stages, with the hope of making it perfect.

The Street Directory will prove of considerable value as indicating the precise position in which an individual's residence may be found, and not unfrequently of service in cases where the name of the party is entirely forgotten, even if the name of the street be remembered; indeed, it is a letter-press map of the city, every lot (so to speak) bearing the occupant's name.
