GOSSIP.

Messrs. D. Bartlett & Sons, breeders of Shorthorn cattle, Dorset Horn sheep and Yorkshire hogs, write: "Our cattle are all in good breeding condition, most of the cows having blacky, heavy-set, mossy-coated, roan calves by their side of the right type. Along with our aged herd bull, we are using a first-class imported bull. Our Dorset ewes have some extra good young lambs by their side, and they are doing well. Our flock ram is Tranquility 978. Considered one of the best of the breed in Canada. We are offering some good young Yorkshires of the bacon type.

Attention is directed to the new advertisement in this issue of Shorthorn cattle and Southdown sheep for sale by Huntlywood Farm, at Point Claire, Quebec. The farm, belonging to Hon. Geo. A. Drummond, of which Mr. Wm. H. Gibson, a first-class judge and judicious feeder, is manager, is situated close to Beaconsfield stations on C. P. R. and G. T. R., some fifteen miles west of Montreal. In the offering at present are three extra good young Scotch-bred bulls, two of which are of the favorite Broadhooks family and one a Sittyton Secret. The herd bull in service is Imp. Cicely's Pride—40369—, by Pride of Collynie, dam Cicely, by Sittyton Stamp. Mr. Gibson writes that the Huntlywood herd and flock are in capital shape and never looked better than at present. These young bulls should be well worth looking after, and parties requiring such will do well to write Mr. Gibson for particulars.

HOW THE MINK HUNTS.

If you will follow a mink's tracks in the snow any winter day it will usually lead you before long to the mute story of a tragedy—just some trampled snow and a red stain. The whole method of the mink's hunting is told by the snow. We see how it follows a rabbit, taking every precaution not to betray its presence while the wretched creature feeds, for then it is alert. How it follows tunny to where it sleeps beneath a log, an upturned root or the snow-covered top of a fallen tree, and then stealthily creeps on the unsuspecting prey. How sometimes the rustling of a dead leaf warns the rabbit, who leaps forward, perhaps just in time to avoid the furious onslaught of the mink; though more often too late, and the red stain tells us that the rabbit has been eaten where it expected to sleep.—Country Life in America.

THE HAMILTON SALE.

Stockmen will bear in mind the great combination auction sale of 64 head of imported and home-bred Shorthorn cattle, to take place at Hamilton, Ont., on January 20th. Forty head of these are from the noted herds of H. Cargill & Son and W. D. Platt, about two-thirds of which are imported. The balance are from the well-known herds of Capt. Robson, Robert Miller, J. M. Gardhouse, Geo. Amos and Allan Bros, quite a number of which are imported, and all bred from first-class Scotch and Scotch-topped families. Each of these contributions have been referred to in former issues of the "Advocate," except that of Capt. Robson, which includes a red yearling heifer of the favorite Cruickshank Duchess of Gloster family, by Golden Stamp, a Sittyton Brawith Bud bull. This heifer won second prize at Western Fair, London, 1903. A roan four-year-old cow of the excellent Cruickshank Village tribe, is Village Beauty, by Village Squire, by the champion, Abbotsford. A red four-year-old cow of choice breeding, with a red c. c. at foot, is Warden Blossom of the popular Orange Blossom tribe, and got by Knight of Weldon, by Knight of the Thistle. This will undoubtedly be one of the most important Shorthorn sales held in Canada in recent years, and should attract breeders and farmers from far and near. The cattle to be sold are of the class that is needed and that is in demand. It is well worth all it costs to attend such a sale, if only for its educational value, and the opportunity of meeting stockmen from all parts of the country and forming new acquaintances, and even if one be not a buyer, is bound to be helpful to breeders and farmers, old and young. Let there be a grand rally of progressive people at the Hamilton sale on January 20th.
