SPECIALLY - AERVOUS DISEASES
Office hours—From 1 to 4 p. m., from 6 to 8 p. m. title is "Morality in Relation to the Drama and the Press." Deploring the present-day tendency of American newspapers to pry into the private life of an actress, she pays her respects to a "debauched press" in a fashion that should bring a newspaper-storm about her ears. The art features of the May number are especially noteworthy, embracing, as they do, apart from a number of excellent illustrations, twenty-eight charming portrait studies, a valuable dramatic department, and eight pages of the latest Paris fushions, the latter being photographs from living models.

Speaking at an enthusiastic St. George's Day celebration at Ballarat, Australia, Mr. Alfred Deakin referred to the importance of the dominions forming navies until there was not only a British, but an Imperial fleet. He strongly favored the presentation of a Dreadnought to the motherland, to which they owed their very existence as a Commonwealth.

the Grand Chapter of Canada, and made a presentation of a magnificent loving cup to him.

There was a large gathering of members and visitors to join with his mother lodge in honoring the Grand Principal, and the proceedings were joined in most heartily, for Mr. Moore has ever been popular with all branches of the craft. The presentation was made by Colin Munro, and Frank Bills, First Principal of the chapter, presented him with a basket of flowers for Mrs. Moore. Happy speeches and replies were made.

The work of the night consisted of the conferring of the Royal Arch degree by many of the old officers, including R. Ex. Comp. Colin Munroe, V. Ex. Comp. Fred Miller, R. Ex. Comp. A. W. Peene, V. Ex. ### ALL THINGS ARE THINE.

The day is Thine, the night also is Thine: Thou hast prepared the light and the sun. Thou hast set all the borders of the earth. Thou hast made summer and winter.—Ps. Ixxiv. 16, 17. Thou art, O God, the life and light Of all this wondrous world we see; Its glow by day, its smile by night, Are but reflections caught from Thee. Where'er we turn, Thy glories shine, And all things bright and fair are Thine!

Among the opening clouds of even, And we can almost think we gaze Through golden vistas into heaven-Those hues that make the sun's declir So soft, so radiant, Lord! are Thine.

When day, with farewell beam, delays

When night, with wings of starry gloom, O'ershadows all the earth and skies, Like some dark, beauteous bird, whose plume Is sparkling with unnumbered eyes— That sacred gloom, those fires divine, So grand, so countless, Lord! are Thine.

When vonthful spring around us When vostbful spring around us breathes,

Thy snirit warms her fragrant sigh;
And all things fair and bright are
Where'er we turn, Thy glories shine,
And all things fair and bright are Thine!

Thrue!

-Thomas Moore.

What fire is this that so warmeth my eart! What light is this that so enjetteneth my soul! O fire that always urneth, and never gooth out, kindle ne! O light which ever shineth and art ever darkned illuminate me! O that ver darkened, illuminate me! O that had my heat from thee, most holy e! how sweetly dost thou burn!
