Rev. Mr. Bartlett at George St. Church

SERMON TO YOUNG MEN. Rev. Mr. Bartlett gave a very edi-fying and impressive sermon at George St. Church on Sunday evening. His topic was the Barren Fig Tree," and his exposition and illustrations were remarkably lucid and conto know that Mr. Bartlett's pulpi ministrations are not likely to be seriously affected by the new theology. His earnest utterances on Sunday evening conveyed no uncertain sound to the large congregation present and afforded ample evidence that the new psychological students of the thoughts and convictions. Gorge St. is fortunate, indeed, in having such an able man in the pulpit as Mr. Bartlett and it is not too . much to say that his ministrations are most highly appreciated by the large congregations crowding out to

Death of Mr. Kielly.

We record with deep regreat the death of Mr. James J. Kielley, which took place at his late residence, Prescott Street, yesterday. He had been ill only a few days of bronchitis. Deceased was a well known and popular citizen and was highly respected by all who were acquainted with him. He always had a kind greeting and cheerful word for all the customers coming to Edens' store at Rawlins Cross, where he was so familiar a figure, the past fifteen years. He leaves a widow, two sous, Edward and John. and two daughters, Mrs. F. McNamara and Miss Etta, to mourn their great loss. We heartily extend our sympa thy to them.

Driver's Brutal Action.

At 1 o'clock Saturday, a boy named Joshua Snelgrove, son of Mr. Levi Snelgrove, 32 Mullock St., aged 16 years, was run over on Duckworth Street by an outharbor man driving a horse and carriage. When the boy fell the horse's noofs struck him and instead of checking his Horse and rendering aid to the injured lad the brutal driver whipped up his horse and vanished from the scene. The boy who was dazed from his injury, was picked up by two men who brought him into Dr. Campbell's surgery. A severe wound was inflicted in the lad's head, it being cut to the bone, and after examining it the doctor feared concussion. Dr. Campbell at first syringed the wound and then had to insert a number of stitches to close it. It was thought that one of his legs were broken but such had not occured, though it was bad!y hurt. After being treated by Dr Campbell, the boy was driven home by the police who hired a cab for him. Expressions of indignation at the brutal conduct of the driver were heard from the crowd which gathered. His name has been communicat ed to the police.
