Executive Members as Government Contractors.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—A few days ago I addressed through the columns of the Telegram a question or two to the editor of the Herald relative to the matter of Executive members being government contractors. I asked the Herald editor if he thought we could have an INDEPENDENT Parliament while such practices prevail.

Editor McGrath, for reasons best known to himself, has refused to answer, but I do not intend to let this matter drop so easily.

The Herald announced a short while ago that Hon. W. J. Ellis was awarded the contract for building two new wings to the Asylum at a figure of $185,000. Mr. Ellis's figure being $3,000 under that of Mr. Kennedy. Mr.
Ellis has certainly done well for himself since he decided to shelve the country by becoming a member of the National (?) Government. He was hardly sworn in as an Executive member when he had a staff of men at work knocking out the western end of the Court House.

This matter of members of the Executive Council being suppliers of labor and material to the Government was bitterly assailed by P. T.
McGrath a few years ago, who denounced such methods as a crime.

Here is the opinion then expressed by P. T. on this matter:—

"What must outsiders think, what must OUR OWN people be thinking when they find that members of the Newfoundland Legislature are Government Contractors; that members of the very Government itself are suppliers of labor and material for the government? What kind of an independent Parliament can we expect when such practices prevail and when every nine out of ten members are living out of the government. We certainly need an Independence of Parliament Act more rigid and more strict than we have at present."

Commenting on this disgraceful state of affairs, as he then termed it, the same P. T. said:—
"They are parties to both ends of the contract. Do they tender for work like anyone else? Even where they do—and often they do not have to—LOOK AT WHAT ADVANTAGE THEY HAVE OVER OTHER TENDERS. They award themselves the contracts and pass their own bills. It should be made a "CRIME. . . . for members of the Legislature to be government contractors, and those who are members of the Executive itself to furnish any kind of work or supplies."

The public are, I submit, entitled to some explanation from the Honorable Patrick re this matter. If it was a crime a few years ago for persons to be suppliers of labor and supplies to the government of which they are members, is it a less crime to-day?

Mr. McGrath found fault with the fact that members of the Bond Government were, what he called, "living out of the government," but the public are well aware that never in the history of this country were so many members of the Legislature living out of the government as to-day, and to use P. T.'s own words: "how can we expect to have an independent Parliament when such practices prevail?"

Yours truly,
M. H. A.
St. John's, July 25th, 1918.

Patriotic Association.

At the meeting of the Patriotic Association held last evening, His Excellency the Governor presided, and 40 members attended. Following the minutes of last meeting, Mr. W. R.
Howley, K.C., on behalf of the committee appointed to confer with the Government authorities as to a definition of the future work of the Association, submitted a brief report, stating that practically all matters formerly attended to by the Association except the War History, were being attended to by the Militia Department.

The Governor said the report left the Association in the air, as it gave no account of the details of questions, which it was desired to clear up. The Association, he pointed out, was a self-constituted body of the most prominent men in Newfoundland, and for the past four years had been working splendidly on war objects, and doing work such as is undertaken by Government departments elsewhere.

The Governor said a committee should be appointed to consult with the heads of the departments as to the holding of special services to pray for a speedy ending of this dire conflict.

Hon. J. A. Clift ably upheld this opinion. Sir P. T. McGrath considered that such a small representation should not decide a question of such importance. Dr. Blackall said it would be a mistake to let the Association drop. Sir Joseph Outerbridge strongly favored the continuance of the Association. Hon. M. P.
Cashin said his first intimation of any thing happening the Association was received at this meeting, and on behalf of the Government pointed out that the Association was looked upon as one that gave most valuable assistance. Rev. Dr. Curtis also spoke, and expressed surprise at the curt report received, and pointed out that the Association had not been given existence by the Government, but by the voice of the people, and would not need the Government's sanction or continuance. His Excellency enlarged on the sympathetic attitude of Hon. M.
P. Cashin, who was not only an active committee man of the Association, but was the representative of the Government. The motion of Sir P. T. Mc-Grath to defer the question of the definition of the Association's future functions, was seconded by Rev. Dr.
Curtis, supported by Mr. W. R. Grievs and carried. The following were appointed, Hon. J. A. Clift (convenor); Sir Joseph Outerbridge, Hon. M. P.
Cashin, Rev. Dr. Curtis, Dr. Robinson, Mr. J. Fenelon and Sir P. T. McGrath.
A report of the Patriotic Association, submitted by Sir P. T. McGrath, for the period ending May 31st, showed a substantial amount in hand to cover another year's work. The liabilities were $152,193.07, expenditure $107, 785.68, leaving a balance of $44,407.39.
On motion of Mr. J. Fenelon, Messrs.
Harold Mitchell and K. Blair were elected to membership, after which the meeting adjourned.

MULLINGS.
Behind the wire score-box screen He pines a busy pen No play however quick or keen Escapes his watchful ken.

His finger's on the game's quick pulse, He roots' whenever he can.
Because above all else, Old Mull's An ardent baseball fan.

BUCKINGHAM.
Yes, dearest, it usually happens that when the pained pitcher pipes the giant form of Jimmie looming up at the plate, he looms over four wild ones, and James takes his base.
That's how the phrase "Passing the Buck" originated.

UMPIRE.
We leave it to our readers to judge whether Freddie doesn't look pretty natty in his new motor cap. Some crusty curmudgeons cynically suggest that he put on his goggles to "lamp" some of the close ones. But they're simply jealous.

AH, WELL!
"One Who Was There, and Wished he Wasn't," writes saying that, after sitting through Thursday's game, he thinks it might have been just as well if it had rained.

GRACE.
He ranges round the outfield like a colt let out to roam.
He hogs' the flies and fast ones And pegs them safely home.

Take our advice, when on third base, Keep one eye trained on Paddy Grace.
And when you see him grab the ball, Don't stir from where you are—that's all.

J. O. H.
Though fans may fight and criticize, And players swear and growl At umpire's rulings and debate Decisions fair or foul, There's one, at least, like Caesar's wife.

Beyond the bickering and the strife, Whom all agree to hail As Baseball's best and wisest friend, It's J. O. H. evermore.

JERRETT.
The Wanderers' outfielder, Jerrett, Is surely a player of merit, Although new to the game, He's already won fame For being cute and as quick as a ferret.

"Sorry, Jerrett, old man, but the only other rhyme we could make up was "sperrit" and its manufacture is prohibited.
