THE WANDERERS FANS DREAM.

Last night," he said with shining eyes, "I dreamed that Tim was back; I dreamed that Pritchard's wallop more led the old attack; I dreamed to see that Wallace boy who at old time Wally Spear, and near Hocken barking in the shaking Ches's ear; I had a dream of heaven, where the feathered angels horde, heard the shouts of Punk and King in the mitt of Charley Ford.

It reminded us very much of the old days last night as we sat in the grandstand to watch the clash between the Wanderers and the Cubs. First of all the game began simply on time, and secondly it was seen right at the outset that the teams were out for business with the usual monkeytricks cut out. The best of all, both teams played ball, which was at once a joy and a pleasure to witness. Everyone present seemed to have been pleased and was going to come back and bring their friends the next time. Welcome them to the new era!

For six innings the clash between the Wanderers and Cubs ran along with a score of 2 to 1 in favour of the Wanderers. In sliding for the bag in the 7th Andy Clouston gave his ankle away, but he was not being helped by Dr. Harvey Thomas, who was not enough to continue the game. The Wanderers went to the field in the next inning, but the pain was so intense that he collapsed, but fortunately no one noticed that he was down and when he was pulled out one in his territory was two on, it was the beginning of a rally that did not subside until three runs had got across.

This added to DeMers' three bagger to leftfield in the second, and another triple in the fourth to right field, scored a run in each; and the Cubs scored another in the 7th when Doc Power (who replaced Clouston) dropped Peters' pop-fly.

Harvey himself opened hostilities by the vanquished when he smote Clouston's first offering. Clouston's service brought him in.

When the Rule Didn't Work.

In the early days there was a railroad in Tennessee which allowed its conductors to make their own rules affecting the traveling public. Sometimes one conductor had rules in direct conflict with the other. One of the conductors would permit passengers to take their dogs into the coaches with them. The conductor on the opposite would not allow a dog on his train, not even in the baggage car. One day some hunters, returning to the city, met the conductor who would not allow a dog to ride on the train. When the train left the station the dog followed tied to the train, and had no difficulty in keeping up with it. When the conductor saw that was happening he was highly annoyed over the disrespect shown to his train. "Watch your old dog when he starts down grade," he stormed, and see what happens to him. You think you are making fun of my train," he later, when on the down grade, the conductor approached the platform and not seeing the dog, he said to the owner: "Now tell me, what has become of your dog?" "Right here," retorted the passenger, pointing to a big hole in the floor of the coach "see him under there? He came under the coach to trot along in the shade."

C. L. B. Cadets.

At Brigade headquarters last night the scene was changed! Almost all ranks in uniform—including the Colonel and staff. Lads were lined up in groups—being arranged for their various tents at the coming annual camp. Kit bags were piled up, arms and equipment packed in boxes ready for the transport officer and his motor trucks. Lieuts. Reeves and Mottly of the pioneers left for Topsis today to prepare the grounds and Lt. Col. Goodridge will march over the road at the head of his Battalion, leaving at 10.30 Thursday morning. Major Tait, M.C. Lieut. Harold Hayward Lieut. A. B. Perlin, and Lieut. R. G. Ash, are also taking this route march with about ninety lads. Captain Jeffrey will be Camp Commandant and Captain George House of C. Company will be Camp Adjutant. The Rectory of Topsis, Rev. A. Pittman, Chaplain of Topsis Company will be the Camp Chaplain. Lieut. Mottly will be Quartermaster. Doctor F. W. Burden, who has recently been made an Hon. Member of the Officers' Mess and to whom the Brigade has been under a debt of gratitude for his medical services and with Lieut. Reeves will look after the health of the lads. Arrangements are being negotiated to charter the S.S. Pawnee to bring the Bell Island and Bay Roberts Companies to Topsis Thursday morning, bringing them back on Saturday week, July 29th, when camp breaks up. On Sunday morning Communion Service will be held at eight a.m., and a large drum-head service in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the sermon will be preached by the Rural Dean of Avalon, Rev. E. Tait of Pouch Cove, who will be the guest of the Rectory of Topsis. We expect that next Thursday week will be inspection day, when it is hoped His Excellency the Governor will be able to make his annual visit.

Last week all ranks were sorry to learn of the early passing of Pte. Durnford of C. Co., a native of Pictou and a student of Field College, Pte. Durnford had the outlook of a very useful life before him, called the great Commander-in-Chief, called him and answered the last great roll call and joined his gallant comrades who have already done their duty and entered into rest. His funeral took place last Thursday morning to the railway station attended by a Guard of Honor from his C.L.B. comrades, the Masters of Field College, the Brigade being officially represented by Lt. Col. Goodridge in person. Pte. Durnford's father was also present in St. John's and accompanied the body to Renouville for interment in the family plot. The Brigade expresses its sympathy to the relatives of a gallant comrade who after life's pitiful fever, sleeps well.

The Colonel approves of a loan of twenty-five rifles to Lamaline Company, under Rev. H. Kirby, Chaplain as the lads are making great progress. Headquarters Armoury will have a new coat of paint in a week or two—badly needed. The Orderly Room has also been renovated and Major Williams, Battalion Correspondent, Major Tait, M.C., Adjutant and Colonel Goodridge have their desks there. Orderly Lance Corporal Press being in charge of the files.

London Headquarters have a huge shipment of kit and stores en route to the Quartermaster's Department and Lieut. Mottly has the brochures ordered for the C.L.B. Ladies' Auxiliary.

We regret to hear that Rev. J. O. Britnell of Bay Roberts' Company and Rev. John Stead of Bell Island are resigning C.L.B. work in Newfoundland, going to England. We expect their successors in office will carry on their work, and all members of the C.L.B. are sorry the "old soldiers" are going. Col. Goodridge has a letter from ex-Major Raley, M.C., from St. Boniface.

There will be no football to-night. The main attraction at the C. of E. Garden Party this afternoon will be football five and the baseball game between the Cubs and B.I.S. for the cup and medals. In addition there will be a 100, 440, 880 and 1 mile and Arrow Rendell, Bert Colton and Harold Hayward are looking after these events. The pony race will also be most exciting, and the stewards of the course will be M. O'Regan, Gus Lester and Thos. Curran. By the way, you must not fail to go to Madame Leck's tent to have your fortune told.

A special train leaves the station at 2.30 to-day, returning at 10 p.m. for the Kibbidge Garden Party. Many novel attractions are promised, and on the sports' card are football five, and the Big Derby Horse Race on which a Derby Sweep will be drawn.

College, Warminster, England, who sends greetings to all Newfoundland friends. Major Raley is studying for the ministry.

On last Tuesday in the W.O. Mess Sergt. Major Andrews, the expert instructor of Avalon Battalion, was presented with an address and fountain pen on behalf of his students whom he trained and who so successfully passed their recent examinations. The Colonel said, "they were the best lot of N.C.O.'s for years" and we hope they will maintain their reputations in drill and discipline. Refreshments were served and a social evening was spent together.

All that the boys want now is fine weather to make 1922 a real lively and successful camp holiday and return revived and rejuvenated for their respective duties in their several vocations of life.

Everybody Should Know

How to judge the value of Soap. Here is a very easy way. Buy a bar of Sunlight Soap, the best soap in the world, best because it is purest and will not injure even a baby's tender skin. Then buy a bar of any other soap, put the two bars on a shelf in your kitchen for two months. At the end of this time have the two bars of soap weighed, you will find Sunlight Soap has lost no weight, whilst the other soap will be an ounce or more short. This test proves that Sunlight Soap is all soap, whilst the other soap was part water; now why should you waste money buying water? Buy Sunlight Soap and get the worth of your money.

Another test is to wash one of your blouses or one of your husband's shirts with Sunlight Soap, and another blouse or shirt with some other soap, and see which blouse or shirt will last longer. You will find clothes washed with Sunlight Soap will last much longer than clothes washed with other soap; therefore use Sunlight Soap which doesn't hurt your clothes. Tell your washerwoman to use it because it is the best soap procurable.—Jys. w.f.

Golden Wedding.

MR. AND MRS. WM. C. HODGSON CELEBRATE THEIR 50th ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hodgson, 15 Duncan St., quietly celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their residence last evening. They were married at Halifax, and the Recorder of July 13, 1872, contained the following notice: HODGSON — EBSARY — in Trinity Church, by Rev. Canon Cochrane, D.D., on the 12th inst., Mr. William Charles Hodgson to Miss Emily Ebsary, formerly of St. John's, Nfld. At the celebration last evening all the surviving members of the family were present, viz., F. W. Hodgson, H. E. Hodgson, Alfred L. Hodgson, Elsie, wife of A. T. Bowser, Seaford St.; Charles A. Hodgson, all of Halifax, and Miss Emily Laura Hodgson, of Boston, besides a number of friends and acquaintances. Various games were indulged in and a general good time spent, with an abundant supply of refreshments.

During the evening Mr. Hodgson took occasion to present each member of his family with a substantial cash present. The gift of the family to Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson is a gramophone. Mr. Hodgson is a printer by trade, but retired from active duties about two years ago. He was a member of the Recorder's composing room for 45 years, up to that time, his service being continuous. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson are now enjoying splendid health, and the Recorder extends congratulations, and wishes them many more years of happiness.—Avalon Recorder, July 14.

He Got the Money.

The young man had had no experience whatever in collecting bills, but he was desperately in need of a job and was willing to tackle almost anything. The merchant to whom he had applied for work hadn't much faith in his ability, and more to get rid of him than anything else gave him an old account against a man who had the reputation of owing everybody and paying nothing till he had to. "If you will collect this," he said to the young man, "I will give you a regular job."

To the merchant's great astonishment, the young man returned inside of half an hour with the money. "How in the world did you do it?" he gasped.

"I told him," said the young man, "that if he didn't pay me, I would tell all his other creditors that he had done so."
