—Miss Mary Edwards died yesterday at the residence of her brother, Mr. John Edwards, con. 7, London township, her death being due to heart failure. The funeral takes place on Friday to St. John's Cemetery.

—The special meetings at the Salvation Army Citadel, conducted by Major McMillan, every afternoon and evening, continuing to draw a large and interesting attendance. The major finishes up this series next Sunday night.

—The usual weekly meeting of the Froebel Society was held Tuesday afternoon, with a large attendance. The subject considered was "The Value of Time and its Relation to Industry." Interesting and practical papers were given by some of the members, and several appropriate solos rendered acceptably. The society adjourned after a practical and pleasant session.

—An interesting lecture was given in Chalmers' Church last night by the Rev. Walter Moffat, to a good-sized audience, the subject being "A bicycle trip from Edinburgh through the central Highlands and northeast parts of Scotland." The lecturer profusely illustrated with over one hundred beautiful time-light views. During the evening, Miss Agnes Templeton and Mr. Wilson sang, with much appreciation, several Scotch songs, connected with various historical associations and scenes in Scottish life.

At Osgoode Hall.

Reg. vs. Burns—W. H. Bartman, London, for the prosecutor, moved for leave to appeal from the decision of the police magistrate for the city of London, acquitting defendant of perjury, and refusing to reserve for the opinion of the court of appeal for Ontario the following questions: 1. Whether there was corroborative evidence of the perjury or in any material particular. 2. Whether the magistrate exercised a legal discretion under section 791, of the Criminal Code, in deciding to acquit the defendant summarily upon the case, and had jurisdiction to try defendant, who was a client of the county crown attorney in the absence of counsel for the crown. The prosecution arose out of evidence given by defendant as secretary of the Crescent Mill and Trencher Company, in an action in division court of Kitchener against the said company. It was contended that, under section 74 of the code, as amended by 354 V.P., the right to move for leave is expressly given to the prosecutor by providing for notice to the accused, and that under section 791 of the code, the magistrate had no jurisdiction, because defendant was a client of the crown attorney, who should have prosecuted, and this was "any other case" within the meaning of the section, and the word "may" in that section must be construed "shall," and also that the ruling of the magistrate was not supported by any corroborative evidence is matter of law, not fact, because there were letters written by defendant corroborating the evidence of the prosecutor, and proved at the trial, and the magistrate not failing for evidence for the defense, his decision was clearly one of law, and, therefore, appealable. Judgment reserved.

Winterbottom vs. Board of Police Commissioners of the City of London—Judgment (Q. A. B.) in action at London with a jury, brought to recover damages for injuries sustained by the plaintiff, a young unmarried woman, who was knocked down and injured by the horses attached to the patrol wagon kept and used by the police force, and driven at the time of the accident by Police Constable E. Walsh, while on duty. The jury assessed the damages at $1,000, and judgment on motion for non-suit reserved. Held, after an exhaustive review of the cases on the subject that no legal liability is cast upon defendants. Halford vs. New Bedford, 15 Grey, 327, followed in Maximilian vs. Lewis, 82 N. Y. at p. 165. The action is unique in England and Canada. There is no case to be found in which a board of police commissioners warrants a board of police commissioners for damages occasioned by the negligence of a policeman while in discharge of his duty. Such actions have been brought without success in the United States. See also McGorrey vs. St. John, 8 S. C. R. at p. 54, and Heaven on Negligence, 20 O. R. 389, 439, Fort-Myth vs. Caniff, 20 O. R. 437, Wisheart vs. City of Brandon, 4 Man. L. R. per Taylor, C. J. at p. 455. This case is easily distinguishable from Hesketh vs. Burton, C. J. O., at page 451, for the law applicable to the present action. Here also the wagon and horses belonged to the corporation of London and not to the defendants. Action dismissed with costs. Hellmuth, for plaintiff, T. G. Meredith, London, for defendants.

SPECIALIST BEATEN

The Case of a Montreal Gentleman, to Whom the Greatest Physicians Could Not Bring Health. Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Montreal, Que., March 11.—At 1298 St. Denis street, this city, lives Mr. C. Lapierre. Mr. Lapierre has been very ill with kidney trouble. He tried the local physicians, but to no purpose. He was summoned from New York City an eminent specialist. He failed to even relieve Mr. Lapierre.

At last, when very much run down, and so ill that he could not turn in his bed, he used Dodd's Kidney Pills. He is better. He says: "For years I suffered excruciating pains. I was treated by leading physicians and specialist, one from New York City. All failed to cure me. At last, I could not turn from one side to the other in bed."

"I read a paper of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The first box helped me, and I kept on. Now my kidneys don't trouble me at all."

CANADIAN HOME CIRCLES

Annual Meeting of the Supreme Circle at Hamilton.

Hamilton, March 12.—The 15th annual meeting of the Supreme Circle, Order of Canadian Home Circles, opened yesterday afternoon in Association Hall, Hamilton. John S. Dench, Trenton, presided, and Wm. S. Stark, Toronto, was in the vice-chair. There was a very large attendance of delegates, representing the 354 circles of the order throughout the Dominion.

The total receipts in the beneficiary fund, including interest and balance from 1899, amounted to $205,433.89, and the payments on account of death and total disability claims amounted to $176,635.00, leaving a surplus of $28,798.89 to the credit of this fund Dec. 31, 1900. The balance to credit of sick benefit fund is $225.00, being a larger sum than last year by $425. A rapid growth is noticeable in the life expectancy fund, the increase for the year being $23,153.38, which is larger than in any previous year and has now reached the sum of $140,402.56. Dec. 31, 1900. Our total surplus now amounts to $188,718.25, interest bearing funds, which are deposited in the various chartered banks of the Dominion.

Proposed Library Expansion

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I observe by the press reports that the free library board have presented a requisition to the city council for the sum of $4,000, to be raised by debenture, for the purpose of making an addition to the present library building. The library board received about $8,500 from the council for the year 1900, and after paying very liberal salaries to the librarian and attendants, they have failed to show to the citizens that out of their appropriation they have a surplus of $1,355.48 or in other words, they have obtained an appropriation of nearly $2,000 more than was necessary to run the library during the last year. I believe that the intention of the board is to use that $2,000, with the $4,000 debenture issue that the council has been asked for, for the purpose of building a $6,000 addition to the library building. Now, sir, it is time to call a halt. We do not want another hospital jumbo on our hands in the shape of a large and expensive free library. New additions will mean more expenses in light, heat and attendance. For a city with a population of under 40,000, we are putting on too many provincial airs; in fact, more than the citizens of London can afford. There are fully 200 vacant houses in the city at the present time. The population, according to the assessor's returns, has not increased during the last year. London is at a standstill, and 24½ mills rate on the dollar is no great inducement to manufacturers to locate here. I may say that I am one of those who voted for the free library, and it was stated at that time, on the public platform, by the library advocates, that the purchase of a mill of the dollar would be quite sufficient to meet the requirements of the library board.

In view of the fact that there is a surplus of $2,000 from last year's appropriation, one-quarter of a mill should be sufficient for library purposes. The library board should be elected by the people, the council, who are responsible to the people, should have the power to make the rate for library purposes. Should the present rate be insisted on by the Free Library board, I am satisfied that if the question of the continuance of the library be submitted to a vote on the people, the whole business would be wiped out of existence. The city hall property can be sold, and the library building, with slight alterations, will make a new city hall for London.

What the Engineer Said.

Trenton, Ont.—Our esteemed citizen, Mr. H. Goodsell, engineer for the Electric and Water Company, speaks of an affliction that visited his family thus: "I have a family of six who were all completely prostrated by Acute Catarrh of the nose and throat. My wife became perfectly deaf, and almost blind, and her head ached so persistently and severely that I feared she might lose her reason. The children were all badly affected. Our doctor's medicine was either no good or too slow in acting, so I went to Hawley's drug store and asked for the best Catarrh remedy they sold. I was given a bottle of Hawley's Catarrh Remedy. I gave it to my wife in ten minutes every hour. The result was a speedy cure all round. Such a priceless remedy, needs only to be appreciated, and my house will never be small size, 25c, at drug stores. Sent for free by N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Canada, or Hartford, Conn., U. S.

The Favorite Dish of the Children.

THEY ALL LOVE IT.

Once tried, Malt Breakfast Food quickly becomes the favorite food with children; they all love it, and ask for more.

Tests and experiments carefully conducted by physicians have shown that Malt Breakfast Food will keep the growing child in perfect health and strength, fully nourished, and stomach and bowels in perfect condition. For breakfast and supper, no other food can compare with it for children. Malt Breakfast Food is especially recommended for young children after weaning; mothers have found it of great value at this stage of the child's life.

Malt Breakfast Food partially cooked and predigested is the true food for weak stomachs of young and old; it is retained and absorbed when other foods are rejected. Do not fail to give it a trial; one package will make from twenty-five to thirty meals for an ordinary person. You can buy it from your Grocer.

FROM DAY LABORER TO MILLIONAIRE.

Rapid Rise of "Tom" Kearns, Utah's New Senator.

From the depths of a silver mine in which he wielded the pick as a day laborer, obscure and unknown, to a seat in the United States Senate, the possessor of millions in ready cash and mines—and all that within ten short years—has come Thomas Kearns, a native of New York.

The "Silver King" of stage fiction has abdicated in favor of the "Silver King" in real life, for the lurid drama with which Wilson Barrett roused the imagination of millions in ready cash and mines—and all that within ten short years—has come Thomas Kearns, a native of New York.

He had pluck and perseverance, and though less than ten years ago he was working as a laborer for something like $3 a day, those qualities, coupled with that elusive thing known as good luck, finally brought him to the position of the foremost mine owner in the state, a leading railroad director and senator, with a fortune of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000.

In his earlier years, according to a candidate for the place which went to Kearns, the new senator was a master of the fistic art, and the manner in which he applied ring knock-out tactics in the defeat of his late senatorial adversaries, skilled and determined as they were, would indicate exceptional fighting qualities.

Mr. Kearns bowled over Mr. Salisbury, a newspaper editor; Mr. McCormick, a banker; Mr. Brown, a lawyer; the leading candidates, and several lesser lights. The Democratic members gave their honorary support to A. W. McArthur, the leading candidate when there was a deadlock in the legislature two years ago.

The advancement of Thomas Kearns began with his connection with the Ontario mine and with David Keith, who is now his partner in the ownership of the most famous of Utah's producers, the Silver King group of mines at Park City. This property is worth more than $10,000,000, it is estimated, and last year alone paid more than $1,000,000 in dividends.

After working for seven years as a laborer in the Ontario mine, Mr. Kearns began with his connection with the Ontario mine and with David Keith, who is now his partner in the ownership of the most famous of Utah's producers, the Silver King group of mines at Park City. This property is worth more than $10,000,000, it is estimated, and last year alone paid more than $1,000,000 in dividends.

It was a good venture, and Mr. Kearns there laid the foundation for his future great success as a mine owner. Later, on other claims were acquired and the Mayflower group was extended and rechristened the Silver King, and Mr. Kearns is now known as the "Silver King" through this association.

PROGRESS IN PIANO-MAKING

A Chat With Mr. Geo. Heintzman or Heintzman & Co., Explaining an Important Improvement in Upright Pianos.

A representative of this journal chatted with Mr. Geo. Heintzman, of the old firm of Heintzman & Co., piano makers, a few days since regarding an important improvement that has been introduced into their upright pianos.

"The new century," said Mr. Heintzman, "has certainly opened out most encouragingly with us, and with constant watchfulness in the manufacture of our pianos, we expect the year to be a record-making period with us."

Asking the newspaper representative to personally examine one of their upright pianos, Mr. Heintzman described, with some detail, the new improvement that has been introduced in the making of the cases of their upright pianos. "These cases," said Mr. Heintzman, "are made after the style of our grand pianos, giving to the upright piano that same beauty of tone which has ever been characteristic of our grands. The back of the case, in place of being built of solid wood, is, under this improvement, built up of different thin layers of wood glued together and making one continuous whole. This adds very much to the acoustic properties of the piano, and gives it a more beautiful tone than the old style of case."

"Our expectation is," Mr. Heintzman continued, "that as a result of this improvement, and we shall not stop here, the upright piano of this firm will more than ever take a first place among the great pianos of the world."

London warerooms of Heintzman & Co. are at 217 Dundas street.

Yours truly,
GEORGE GADSDON.

ECCENTRIC WOMAN'S WILL

Almost Starved Herself, Yet Leaves a Large Fortune for Charitable Work.

New York, March 12.—Although Mrs. Marietta D. Hay, an aged and eccentric widow, of Tarrytown, lived like a miser in two rooms of a mansion she owned on Grove street, in that village, and almost starved herself, it was revealed today by her will, filed in the Westchester county surrogate's office, at White Plains, that she leaves an estate estimated at $300,000.

She seldom spent more than $2 a week for living expenses, and she gathered her money and jewelry together and placed them in a small black bag, which she hung on the limb of a tree outside her bedroom window, so that, she said, if burglars entered her home, she could readily tell them she had no money in the house. This bag often contained many thousands of dollars, as she did not believe in banks.

She leaves the bulk of her property, consisting of railroad bonds and gilt-edged securities, to charitable institutions. Not long before she died she had been woken into the home of silken skirts—in fact, her entire costume was padded with banknotes.

It is an old silk dress a large amount of jewelry and $500 in bills were found sewed up in the ruffles. "Miss banknotes were woven into the home of silken skirts—in fact, her entire costume was padded with banknotes."

It is almost certain that Mr. Ross will accept the call, though much against his desire to leave Canada.

BURGLARS CAPTURED

After a Pithed Battle in Which Over 1,000 Shots Were Fired.

Farmington, Mich., March 12.—Four hundred men and boys had a pitched battle this afternoon, in which over a thousand shots were exchanged. Three burglars who were hiding in a patch of woods three miles west of the village. After a desperate resistance the men showed a white flag from behind their cover, and when the posse swarmed in upon them it was found that all three were badly wounded. They gave their names as Geo. Smith, John Taylor and Jim Williamson. Williamson had been shot through the back, head and one elbow; Smith was wounded in the face and legs, and Taylor in the face and legs. The trio were handcuffed and brought to the village, where their wounds were dressed. A large crowd gathered to see the men, and after the men's capture the officers removed their prisoners to the jail at Pontiac.
