LONDON WOMAN DROWNED

Miss Skinner Lost With Vessel Wrecked Off Australia.

Her Family Has Had Unique Experience of Shipwrecks.

The following account is taken from the New Zealand Graphic, regarding the Wellington passengers on board the ill-fated Ellingmang, which was wrecked about a month ago in Australian waters: "Miss Skinner, a saloon passenger by the ill-fated vessel, whose safety is still in doubt, is eldest sister of Mr. D. Skinner, of the Manawatu Railway Company, and traveled in the capacity of governess to Mrs. Greenwood. Her family have had a unique experience of shipwrecks. Mr. Skinner having been a sufferer from rheumatism, was accompanied by another brother, escaping by a miracle from drowning on the Spanish coast, his steamer striking a rock and going down five minutes later. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to food."

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to food."

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat is the most concentrated form, and is digested and is assimilated more quickly than vegetables and grains.

Dr. Julius Remmonson on this subject says: "Nervous persons run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepsia should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless, digestive medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually permeate the walls of the stomach and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

ANGELIC CHURCH PREPARES FOR WORK IN NORTHWEST

Fifty Thousand Dollars To Be Spent in Home Missions.

Clergymen Tell Congregations of the Great Work To Be Done.

Impressed with the necessity for increased missionary zeal and enterprise in both the foreign and home missions of the Anglican Church, yesterday was made a general missionary Sunday in all the Episcopal churches of the city. Particular attention was given the Canadian Northwest, which, in view of its rapidly increasing population, offers a field for spiritual labor that it is thought will tax the resources of the church to the utmost. The church in Canada has been asked to contribute $75,000 to the cause at large, of which $15,000 is expected to be a lesson to the Diocese of Huron. Out of the sum of $75,000, $50,000 will be devoted to home missions. The various pulpits were occupied by strangers and unusual interest centered in the proceedings of the day.

The preacher at St. Paul's Cathedral was the Rev. G. N. Tucker, M.A., secretary to the mission board of the Church of England in Canada. Mr. Tucker said that matters had reached a crisis in Canadian missionary affairs. A great burden had been laid upon the church in Canada. Missionaries were wanted in Algoma, the Northwest and British Columbia, and to meet these requirements it was necessary that the church should have the heartiest co-operation of all its members. He spoke eloquently of the future of Canada, declaring it would some day become the granary of the world. To help the country onward to this ideal position was a pastor to every 700 of population; in China to every 175,000 persons there was one missionary.

Mrs. Stott, a returned missionary from the China inland mission, addressed the congregations of two Methodist churches yesterday. Discouraging on her life work, Mrs. Stott made an earnest and enthusiastic plea for increased missionary labors amongst the Chinese. Mrs. Stott thinks there is too much concentration of evangelical effort in Canada in comparison of what the outlying points of the world suffer. In Canada there

GATHERING DATA OF WAR IN AFRICA

A Call for Official Records—Chamberlain Financing the New Colonies.

London, Jan. 19.—In order that the official history of the late South African war may be as comprehensive as possible, the War Office asks commanding officers of all units to send to the compiler all official records relating thereto. The order provides that these records are to be sent to Col. Henderson, headquarters staff, London. The regimental records are to include battles, sieges and other military operations; the records of the corps' achievements; the names of officers, non-commissioned officers and privates killed or wounded; and the name of every officer or soldier who distinguished himself in action.

A War Office order announces that in future soldiers who are Congregationalists or Baptists will be recognized as such. Imperial soldiers have only been able to declare themselves as belonging to the Catholic, Anglican, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, each having officially appointed chaplains.

CHAMBERLAIN'S SCHEME.
Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, at a banquet given to him in Johannesburg on Saturday evening, delivered a speech in which he gave for the first time the details of his scheme for the financing of the new colonies. He described the arrangement as "a unique and unprecedented action on the part of the Imperial Government," and one which was satisfactory to the representative associations of the colonies. The proposal, he said, was first that the Government undertakes to submit to the Imperial Parliament a bill to guarantee a loan of $15,000,000 on the security of the assets of the Transvaal and of Orange, which were being devoted to paying the existing debts of the Transvaal, buying the existing railways, providing for the construction of new lines, allowing the necessary expenditure for public works, and also providing for the land settlement. This part of the plan will place Orange and the Transvaal in funds to carry out the development of the country.

The second part of the agreement provides that as soon as possible after placing the loan, another loan of $10,000,000 shall be raised, to be called up in annual instalments of $500,000. This second loan will be treated as a loan of $10,000,000, and will be secured on the assets of the Transvaal. A number of South African financiers had undertaken to subscribe the first $10,000,000 without receiving preferential security. Up to a few hours previous to the banquet the money would have been a happy augury for the unification of the two colonies. He then referred to the labor problem at the Cape, and said that the Imperial Government should appoint a commission to inquire into the matter in all its details.

American tourists abroad often comment upon the literal translation into English of names in foreign languages. A Washington citizen found this notice pasted in his room in an Alpine hotel: "Mistress, the venerable voyagers are earnestly requested not to take clothes of the bed to see the sun rise for the color changes."

Clashed Wife With a Knife.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 19.—Late on a night the sheriff's force was called to the corner of William and First streets by a domestic disagreement that may end in the death of the husband. A man named Locke and his wife got into a scrap at their home at the above place. He pulled a knife and slashed her over the eye and then jabbed the weapon into her abdomen. He is in a very dangerous condition, but the woman will survive. Liquor or beer seems to have been the agent which developed the trouble.

The Catholic Woman's Union of France is appealing to capable young women of that country to obtain certificates and take the place of the nuns recently expelled.

RE TEMPERANCE DEPUTATION.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Referring to your editorial in Friday's issue of The Advertiser under the heading "Temperance Legislation Promised," will you permit me to offer a word of explanation. While it might appear that the London Referendum Association had, by the resolution passed by its executive, dissociated itself from the deputation which waited upon the Government on the 15th, that was not the intention of the resolution as I understood it. I asked before the resolution was voted upon in the meeting if the carrying of it would mean that the members of the Referendum Association could not join the deputation and understood in reply that those invited would be quite free to do so. Otherwise I would have voted against the resolution. The resolution was brought forward because some of the members of the association were under the impression that the deputation they about to meet would not be thoroughly representative and might commit the temperance people to a course that all could not agree to. It was therefore thought best not to assume the responsibility for the course of the deputation until it was more clearly understood what its course would be. After learning for myself the composition and character of the deputation and having heard its presentation of the case to the Government I desire to say that in my judgment the deputation was well qualified to represent the temperance forces of the Province, and its presentation of the case was both wise and strong. I will not take upon myself the responsibility of speaking for the Referendum Association, but as a member, I consider it is due to the association, to the Dominion Alliance and to myself that I offer this personal explanation. Should you see your way to publish it, you will oblige. Yours truly, D. S. HAMILTON.

FACTS FOR BUSINESS MEN.

The daily paper contains two separate and distinct kinds of news. It is a newspaper, in fact, and contains nothing but news. The chronicling, the happenings of the world at large, as well as of the local events, is the second kind of news. The average mortal needs news that occurs upon its pages.

Advertising is news, pure and simple. It is the detail of chronicling of the arrival of new goods and of store happenings generally. It is the woman's guide to bargains and the man's help in purchasing. Railroad timetables contain information more valuable, set for the average mortal than all news and special features combined. Advertising is news, and it should be kept as news. There is no more reason for an advertiser to allow his advertising to stand day in and day out than there is for an editor to allow the happenings of two days in succession. Your truly believes in an interesting paper is the one in which the advertisements are changed from time to time. This change stimulates interest and educates people to look from time to time for something new.

If John Smith advertises winter boots and shoes in the month of January, and allows that same advertisement to run on for six months, he has made himself a laughing stock, and he is paying for space that is absolutely without value; but if the same John Smith advertises his boots and shoes in one day, his umbrellas and mackintoshes upon another day, his hats upon another day, and so on, then he is laying for himself the foundations of success.—Ad-Sense.
