OUTLOOK OF THE LEAGUE.

TORONTO PIGEON SHOOTERS AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Hanover's Splendid Record on the Turf—Teemer Will Challenge the Winner of the Hanlan-Beach Race—English Racing News—Sports Taken in by an Alleged "Scrap."

The composition of the International Baseball League next season is just now engrossing the attention of the baseball magnates interested in its welfare. It may be taken as an accepted fact that neither Jersey City nor Newark will seek to retain membership, though their representatives are loudly proclaiming their intention of holding on. Should the Jersey clubs refuse to withdraw, the league will find no difficulty in effecting their compulsory retirement. It can be done in several ways despite the announcement of the Newark papers that their club cannot be got rid of.

Elmira, N.Y., and London, Ont., are so far the only two applicants for admission. Troy and Albany have frequently been spoken of as being desirous of gaining admission, but no active steps have been taken in this direction, and it is unlikely that either city will endeavor to become a member of the league. The admission of Elmira and London in the place of Newark and Jersey City would be a wise step, curtailing as it largely would traveling expenses, and by London's admission increasing the interest in the game in this country. Toronto would have two Canadian rivals in London and Hamilton, instead of one as last season in the Ambitious City's team, and with the keen rivalry among them there would be a decided benefit to all.

Mr. E. S. Cox of this city is the only one mentioned in connection with the presidency of the league. He does not want the position, and it is doubtful if he can be induced to accept it. However, a strenuous effort will be made to authorize his candidature, which would, undoubtedly, result in his unanimous election. Secretary White's name has been mentioned in connection with the combined office of President and Secretary, but that gentleman's connection with the league in a financial way is not one that would warrant his selection, apart from any alleged fitness for the office.

TORONTO'S CRACK SHOTS.

They Sweep the Field at the Niagara Falls Trap Tournament.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Nov. 4.—The trap shoot tournament gotten up under the management of John J. Bampfield, proprietor of the Imperial Hotel of this town, was a grand success, bringing out any number of experts of the gun from different places in Canada and the United States. The day was cloudy and a stiff nor'-wester somewhat interferred with good marksmanship. The results:

A CRACK THREE-YEAR-OLD.

Hanover's Gross Earnings Over $80,000—A Comparison With the English Ormonde.

Some idea can be formed of the merits of this grand 3-year-old son of the great Hindoo by comparing him with the crack 3-year-old of England for the year 1886, Ormonde ran ten races, commencing with the 2000 Guineas, and he won the Epsom Derby, Doncaster St. Leger, St. James Palace Stakes, and walked over twice. He carried in the events mentioned 126 lbs., the regular weight, and in the Great Foal Stake, 131 lbs., which was the highest weight he carried in any actual race. Hanover up to the present time has started in 27 races. The first 14 he won without a miss, including the Carlton Stakes, 1 mile, with 118 lbs., in 1.43½; Brookdale Handicap, 1¼ miles, with 111 lbs., in 1.54½; the Withers, 1 mile, with 118 lbs., in 1.40½; the Belmont, 1½ miles, with 118 lbs., in 2.43½; Brooklyn Derby, 1½ miles, with 118 lbs., in 2.43½; Swift Stakes, 7 furlongs, on a muddy track, with 118 lbs., in 1.32; Tidal Stakes, 1 mile, with 118 lbs., in 1.41½; Coney Island Derby, 1½ miles, track very heavy, with 118 lbs., in 2.44½; Emporium Stakes, 1½ miles, with 128 lbs., in 2.36½; Spindrift Stakes, 1½ miles, in 2.11½, with 125 lbs.; Lorillard Stakes, 1½ miles, with 118 lbs., in 2.40½; Stockton Stakes, 1½ miles, with 125 lbs., in 2.13; Baruegat Stakes, 1½ miles, with 125 lbs., in 2.44½, track very heavy; Stevens' Stakes, 1½ miles, with 123 lbs., in 2.56. He met his first defeat in the Raritan Stakes, 1½ miles in the mud, by Laggard, in 2.14, he carrying 126 lbs. to Laggard's 111 lbs., thus conceding him 17 lbs. He won the Champion Stakes, 1½ miles, with 109 lbs., in 2.38. Won the United States Hotel Stakes, 1½ miles, in 2.38½, with 118 lbs. Was beaten in the Omnibus Stakes, 1½ miles, by Laggard, 118 lbs., Firenzi, 120 lbs., Hanover, 125 lbs., a head separating the three, in 2.44, track deep in mud. Was beaten by Banburg in Choice Stakes, 1½ miles, track very heavy, in 2.45, he carrying 118 lbs. to Banburg's 111½. Was unplaced in the First Special Sweepstakes, 1½ miles, won by Volante, 118 lbs., in 2.12, track heavy. Won Second Special Sweepstakes, 1½ miles, 114 lbs., in 1.57½. Was beaten in Jerome Stakes, 1½ miles, by Firenzi, 122 lbs.; Hanover, 125 lbs., in 3 C.J. Won the Breckenridge Stakes, 1½ miles, in 2.52½, with 123 lbs. Won the Dixie Stakes, 2 miles, in the mud, with 123 lbs., in 3.51½. Was beaten 7 furlongs by Eolian, 118 lbs., Hanover, 114 lbs., in 1.28½, track heavy. Beaten by Eolian, 123 lbs., Hanover 114 lbs., a short neck on a muddy track in 1.43. Won 1 mile, 112 lbs., in 1.41½. Thus it appears he won the first 14 races in which he started, and of the 27 run has won 20, carrying from 109 lbs. to 128 lbs., a feat never accomplished by any 3-year-old in the world. Ormonde had 2 walk-overs in his 10 races, and in no case did he concede good horses of his age the weight which Hanover did to some of the best 3-year-olds of the year. Hanover's gross earnings amount to $89,230.50.

Racing in England.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—This was the second and last day of the Lincoln meeting. The Lincoln Autumn Handicap, at 1¼ miles, was won by Mr. T. Valentine's filly, St. Helen, by a length from Night Cap 2nd, a dead heat between Horton and Valentine for 3d. The race was run under the following conditions:

THE LINCOLN AUTUMN HANDICAP of 200 sovs. added to a sweepstakes of 10 sovs. each, 5ft.; the winner of any race (selling races excepted) after Oct. 19, to carry 6lb.; of two, or one of 180 sovs. 9lb.; of the Great Yorkshire Stakes, or any handicap value 500 sovs., 12lb. extra; the 2nd to save his stake; entrance, 3 guineas, the only liability if forfeit be declared to Messrs. Weatherby only, by Tuesday, Oct. 27. About 1¼ miles.—29 subs.

Dead heat.

St. Helen, the winner, only won once as a 2-year-old, and that the Doveridge Stakes at Derby on Nov. 15. This year up to the Newmarket First October meeting she had not won a race; her best performance was second to Reve d'Or for the Oaks. At the Newmarket meeting she won the Newmarket October Handicap from a field of ten, it being her only victory previous to that of yesterday.

English Racing News.

On next year's Derby the market is settling into shape, and the favorite, Friar's Balsam, is backed for more money than any horse before at so early a period before the race. The following is the list of prices current: 5 to 2 against Friar's Balsam, 8 to 1 Ayrshire, 100 to 8 Hazlehatch, 100 to 6 Crowberry, 20 to 1 each Ossory and Galore, and 2 50 to 1 Marmiton.

Lord Falmouth is by slow but sure degrees creeping back into the ranks of racing men. It will be remembered that after having met with unprecedented success, and won all the principal races with animals bred by himself, he determined to retire and sold off everything. He stuck to his resolution for six or seven years, but the captain has at last proved too strong for him and he is once again prominent among the list of owners.

The record up to Oct. 22 of leading jockeys shows C. Wood to be well ahead of the remainder. Barrett, owing to his suspension, is losing ground, and Watts has usurped his position of second:

	Mounts.	Won.
C. Wood	433	132
J. Watts	392	94
G. Barrett	502	93
S. Loates	368	75
F. Barrett	450	64
W. Robinson	317	52
T. Cannon	220	51

Lord Dudley, who is quite a youth and one of the richest men in England, has started a stable of horses. He is a son of the celebrated beauty the Countess of Dudley. His father never kept fifteen horses of his own, though he had magnificent private grounds for training them. He was known as a most eccentric bettor, having only one bet during each year and that a wager of £10,000 on his fancy for the Derby. The present Earl's horses will be trained by Dick Marsh, who recently trained the Duke of Hamilton's horses at Newmarket.

F. Osborne, a son of the famous veteran jockey John Osborne, rode in public for the first time on Oct. 18 at Gosforth Park, where he had the mount on his father's filly, Campanetta, in the Gosforth Nursery Handicap, and finished seventh. His father doesn't figure among the leading lights of the profession so far as numbers of wins or mounts go, but that is merely because he rides so seldom in the South, and confines himself to the horses of patrons in the North, for whom he and his brother train, and when he gets up on any other it is only for some big race such as the Leger, Derby or 2000 Guineas. So far as ability goes he, together with Tom Cannon, is generally admitted the best jockey at present alive in England.

Steeplechasing is fast taking the place of racing, at least for this year, as there are many constant patrons of the racecourse who wound up the season at the end of the Houghton meeting and could not be induced to race again until the Jockey Club opens its doors next year. The ranks of steeplechasing have received several important additions within the last month, not the least noteworthy being the young fellow Benzon, who is commonly known as The Plunger. It seems to be going to be a big season between the flags even with more gusto than he tackled flat racing, but he is no longer a pigeon for others to pluck, and though he bets heavily as ever, confines his plunges almost entirely to his own horses.

Gossip of the Turf.

This is the last day of the National Jockey Club meeting at Washington, which brings the regular racing season in the East to a close.

The chestnut horse Sandoval, foaled in 1881, by Springbok, dam Emma Sansom, died at the stables of his owner, E. T. Cooke, Barry, Ill., on Oct. 31.

At the drawing of the bookmakers on the Nashville track, on Oct. 31, J. J. Carroll was barred out on account of his laying too long odds to suit the others. Carroll appealed to the Judge for protection, but they decided that the lessee of the privileges had full control over the matter, and Carroll had to stand down.

Raceland's 9 wins out of 12 starts have brought to his owner $18,863 this season, and as he sold him for $17,500, he has a return of $36,363, a pretty good investment on $750, the price Mr. Ulmann paid for him at the Runnymede yearling sale of 1886, when he was sold as being unsound.

The Kentucky Association, the oldest active racing organization in the United States, promptly recognizes the fact that the best interests of the turf will not be promoted by holding out inducements for women to become professional gamblers. At the recent meeting at Lexington the section of the grand stand set apart for ladies and club members was so crowded with speculators in petticoats that the association unanimously resolved: That no females, other than members of families, without a gentleman escort, shall be admitted to the grounds of the Kentucky Association during the races."

TEEMER'S PROGRAM.

Anxious to Get on a Match With the Winner of the Hanlan-Beach Race.

Oarsman Teemer will go to England and row Bubear, provided the latter can find not less than $1000. He will also give Gaudaur satisfaction, but his chief anxiety is to win the championship of the world. Should Beach defeat Hanlan Nov. 26, Teemer will challenge the Australian to row him for $5000. He will give Beach $1500 for expenses to come to the United States, or he will take $1000 for expenses and row him in Australia. Should Hanlan bring the championship back to America Teemer will try to get a match on with the great Toronto sculler. In all future articles of agreement Teemer will insist on leaving out the "perfectly smooth water" clause. He is willing to abide by the decision of the referee with regard to the condition of the water. His objection to postponements is that they disappoint the public and bring rowing into bad favor.

Hanlan Wants Good Companionship.

"It would have been better," says Turf, Field and Farm, "if Hanlan had taken an American trainer with him, but the sum allowed for expenses by Beach, $500, was too small to pay for two tickets out and back. Hanlan was in an economical mood when he left Toronto, and so he went alone. A cheerful trainer is of great help to an oarsman. The training ordeal is severe and the thoughtful trainer always anticipates the little fights with blue devils. Hanlan is a man who needs good companionship, and we hope that he has found it in Australia. He will pull a strong oar on the Parramatta, because he knows that among the anxious waiters for good news at Toronto are his wife and children."

Conley and McKay to Row at Boston.

Oarsmen Conley and McKay have agreed to row a 3-mile race in best and best boats, for $500 a side, Wednesday, Nov. 23, 1887, on Charles River, the race to be 1¼ miles out and back in smooth water; National Association rules to govern. The first deposit of $100 a side is deposited, and the second deposit of $400 each shall be made one week before the day set for the race. Conley leaves at once for Portland, where he will prepare for the race under a good trainer, and he will have a new boat built. McKay will train on the Charles River under the mentorship of Hamm.

A TWO ROUND "SCRAP."

Fifty Sports Pay $1 Each to See the Worst Fight on Record.

A "scrap" took place in an Adelaide-street room yesterday afternoon between two lightweights for a purse of $50. Queensberry rules and skin-tight gloves. Fifty sports paid an admission fee of $1 to witness the mill, which some of them declare was the poorest imaginable apology for a fight. One of the contestants was a Hamilton youth and the other a local novice, and the statement of their friends that it was their first appearance within the classic enclosure was amply verified by their performance.

The first round was remarkable for the way in which the fighters kept away from each other, but just before the call of time the Hamiltonian sent his man to the ground with a swinging blow under the ear. This unlocked for treatment aroused the Toronto man, who in the following round went for his opponent viciously and felled him with a light open-hand blow on the jugular. Then the Hamilton fighter lay on the floor howling about his injuries, and refused to respond when time was called for the succeeding round.

The referee thereupon awarded the battle to the Toronto man, and the spectators walked out, fully realizing they were victims of a "fake." Prior to the appearance of the men within the ring the referee, a well-known sporting man, explained to the audience that the fight would not go on unless every one present would pledge himself to secrecy. The pledge was given, but an hour after the fight certain sporting circles were commenting upon its details, hoping that the "fake" would be shown up by the newspapers.

Another story of the "scrap" that came to The World's ears differs from the above. Five rounds were said to have been fought. In the first the local pug was floored, but in the other four he had everything his own way and knocked his opponent all over the ring. The Hamilton chap failed to respond when time was called for the sixth bout and he of the Queen City was awarded the purse, if such a thing exists.

Curtis is the winner's name; the Hamiltonian rejoices in the cognomen of Fitzgerald.

Playing Draughts for a Cup and Medal.

The meeting of the Toronto Draughs Club at Temperance Hall on Thursday evening was well attended and some fine play was made in the competition for the medal and cup. To encourage the younger players they are allowed a handicap of two or three games for the cup competition, but the medal has to be played for this year on the players' merits. The following is the result for the gold medal:

	Won.	Draws.		Won.
Duggan	0	3	Walker	3
Johnston	2	1	Asher	2
Goodwin	2	2	Hamilton	0
Craig	3	3	Fisher	0

The play for the cup resulted as follows:

	Won.	Draws.		Won.
Grant	2	1	W. Crawford	1
O'Leary	2	1	Gray	1
S. Crawford	2	1	Hogg	1
Ballantyne	2	0	Miller	2
Sinclair	4	1	Baldwin	1
Young	4	0	McLean	3

Football Kicks.

Yesterday afternoon the Varsity football team received a telegram from the McGill College club stating that they could not come up. The Varsity boys are a good disappointed, as they have been practising hard. The real size of the matter is that two of the McGill men play with Montreal against Ottawa College to-morrow and two play with the college fifteen. Hence, of course, would leave the McGill men crippled.

Toronto and the Varsity will hold a joint practice on the Lawn at 3 o'clock sharp. It is probable the Torontos will be dined by the Varsity boys.

Next Saturday the Torontos and Varsity will play a game for the J. K. Kerr Cup. The Toronto team will be composed of different men from that which has represented the club in the earlier games this season.

Trinity University and Upper Canada College clubs have closed their seasons. Trinity won four games and lost one.

The Toronto (Association) Club will select their team from the following players in their match with Trinity Medical College on Rosedale Lacrosse Grounds this afternoon at 2.30 sharp: Starr, Wood, Anderson, Bremner, Norris, Elliott, McKinlay, Meldrum, Blakell, Young, Sinclair, Parker, Apsey and Bell. All players whose names are mentioned are expected to be present, as a team will be selected to represent the Torontos against the Toronto Varsity on Saturday, Nov. 12.

The Torontos Leave for Montreal.

To-day is the day of the great lacrosse match at Montreal, when the Torontos, champions of the C.L.A., will cross sticks with the Cornwalls, champions of the N.A.L.A., for the championship of the world and the trophy offered by Sport. The Torontos' team left at 8 o'clock last night per G.T.R., accompanied by a number of friends.

Dust from the Diamond.

O'Brien is the fifth graduate of the Jersey City's on the New York club list, the others, Titcomb, Murphy and Mattimore are under contract with the Giants.

Spots of Sport.

Articles of agreement have been entered into between John Parker of Detroit and Ishmael Hamilton of Hamilton for a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match for $50 a side and all gate money to the winner. The match will take place on Friday, Nov. 11.

The Hounds will meet this afternoon at Gates' race course, Don and Danforth-road, at 3.30 o'clock.

On Thursday Messrs. Trenpanier and Bryson of the Montreal Quoit Club played off the match for the champion gold medal, won at Valleyfield last summer, 41 points. Both parties scored 40. The Mr. Trenapanier made one point and won the medal. This being the second time he has won the medal in succession it now becomes his property.

The Executive Committee, Northern Division of the American Canoe Association, will recommend Lake Couchiching as the scene of next year's camp.

MANSFIELD IN "MONSIEUR."

A Delightful Comedy in Which the Author Plays the Leading Part.

By his double role in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" Mr. Richard Mansfield has already proven to Toronto the grandeur of his ability in tragedy most realistic. Last night the Grand Opera House contained a good sized audience to see what he could do in comedy. The comedy was his own three-act sketch entitled "Monsieur." It proved to be a comedy of a rich and rare kind. True, the plot is worked out on the old plan of an heiress marrying a poor artist for love, the two suffering misery and nearly starvation, even when they might be relieved, were it not for their pride; and finally ending in all being happy, the poor artist succeeding to a title and a fortune, while he previously rich nouveau-in-law becomes reduced. The leading character is that of "Monsieur Andre Rosini Mario De Jadot, artist, singer, composer of music, etc." This is played by Mr. Mansfield, who, while portraying the light, frivolous Frenchman who makes the presents as happy as he can and never fears for the future, puts into his part a subtle pathos which is most touching. In Miss Beatrice Cameron as his wife, Alice Golden, he has a help who has little of striking work to do but who does is well. The support is good. It may be usual to pass over the support without personal notice, often because it is not deserved. But last night there was portrayed a rich and excellent piece of character acting by a young lady, Miss Johnstone Bennett, who as "Sally, Maid of All Work, Billingsgate and Bowery," did some of the choicest, most natural and pleasing work ever seen here. The part was that of a domestic, and-domestic, that of "servant girl" parts seldom get much notice. Miss Bennett was not extravagant and she well deserved the applause she got.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be presented this afternoon and evening.

Alice Harrison in "Photos."

Miss Harrison, the brilliant artiste, will make her appearance at the Toronto Opera House on Monday night, supported by a competent company of comedians in their amusing absurdity entitled "Photos." It is a sparkling farce-comedy bubling with fun and is infused with all the latest musical successes. The Boston Advertiser says: "Miss Harrison, in her absurdity called "Photos," is furnishing the patrons of the Park this week with an excess of fun, that home of amusement never before ringing more constantly with loud laughter from the beginning to the end of a performance than during the antics and speeches of this bright artist and her efficient support in this clever production. As the piece has been seen in this city before, its general character is well known. It only remains to say that, in its present form, and with the company as now constituted, it is merrier and more musical than ever.

"Erin Go Bragh."

The sixteenth annual concert under the auspices of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society will take place on Monday evening next in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Yonge-street. The program will be varied, attractive and of more than ordinary merit, consisting of Irish songs, ballads, readings, etc. The society deserves the support of every Irish Protestant in the city, and a large attendance should reward the efforts of the management in their charitable work. The names of the artists engaged for this concert are to be found in another column. Reserved seats may be secured at Nordheimer's.

Amusement Notes.

Don't forget to see the big Cyclorama painting of "The Battle of Sedan." The admission to-night is only 25 cents.

Corinne and her company are still doing big business at the Toronto Opera House. There will be a matinee to-day and the final performance to-night.

A Covent Garden promenade concert will be held in the Mutual-street Rink on Monday evening. There will be a fine orchestra under the leadership of Signor Napolitani, while a number of prominent local musicians will also assist.

On Monday Kate Castleton and her company will commence an engagement at the Toronto Opera House and produce "Crazy Patch" for the benefit of the Toronto Theatrical Mechanics.

AGAINST ALDERMANIC JAUNTS.

The Trades and Labor Council's Views on Dominion Immigration.

A meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was held last night, with President George Harris in the chair. Charles Chase, Samuel Dunbar and William Donaldson presented their credentials as delegates from the Operative Plasterers' Association.

The Legislative Committee's report complained of the depressing effect upon the Canadian labor market of the uncalled for and unjustifiable immigration from Great Britain. For the nine months ending September last, the exceedingly large number of 221,442 immigrants came here from Great Britain, an increase of 43,268, or 23 per cent. more than for the like period of last year. As a result of this increased competition, it was claimed that large numbers of wage earners have been and are leaving for the United States. The committee recommended that it be empowered to impress upon the executive of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress the great importance of immediate action on its part in conjunction with the committee in pressing upon the Dominion Government to stay the expenditure of further money in the assistance or encouragement of immigrants who enter into competition with the wage earners of this country. The report was adopted.

The Municipal Committee's report called for the dismissal of all the waterworks employes who were mentioned in Judge McDougall's report as being negligent and incompetent. To the parks and drives scheme the committee proclaimed itself opposed, and likewise commented unfavorably upon the "meandering tour to the States to ascertain the workings of the local improvement system. It is too late. Why did the Council pass the local improvements act without knowing the information beforehand. It is quietly stated that the deputation is going as far south as Memphis. These aldermanic jaunts should be stopped. Pleasure excursions should not be paid for out of the public treasury." The committee reported favorably with reference to supplying water free to troughs in front of hotels on the ground that they were public conveniences. The report was then adopted.

Delegate John Armstrong said, in reply to a delegate, the Municipal Committee would at the next meeting furnish a list of the present aldermen who were worthy of the support of their body at the January election.

THE STUDY OF CLASSICS.

Should it be Compulsory in Universities?—Today Students.

The 138th public debate under the auspices of the Literary and Scientific Society of University College took place in Convocation Hall yes erday evening, Professor Hutton being chairman. A large audience assembled to hear a debate on the question "That every university should make the study of classics compulsory."

The University Glee Club started the proceedings with a couple of rousing choruses, followed by a solo by Mr. M. S. Mercer, B.A. Mr. W. F. Wilson, B.A., followed, as president of the society, read his annual address, in which he reviewed the work of past sessions and urged the members to greater exertion in the future. After a reading by Mr. F. B. Hodgins and a college chorus, the debate was started.

Mr. J. A. Sparling led off in the affirmative. He was supported by Mr. J. H. Cody, both gentlemen arguing that the study of classics should be made compulsory, because of the many benefits it conferred upon the mind. They contended that the classics enabled men to commune with the great minds and spirits of the past, and that, by starting at the cradle of knowledge, they would be the better prepared to grasp the more advanced science of the pres nt age. Mr. F. J. Stein and Mr. E. M. Higgins debated the negative side with considerable force. While admitting that a study of the classics was desirable, they denied that it should be made compulsory. If a student wished to study classics he should have an opportunity to do so; but if his inclinations and taste did not lie in that direction he should not be forced to devote his time and energies to that study to the partial exclusion of others, which would be more congenial to him in the university and more practically beneficial when he entered upon the battle of life.

During the debate the students who mustered in great strength at the end of the hall, were unpleasantly demonstrative, and detracted much from the interest which the visitors manifested in the subject. The leader on the affirmative side having availed himself of the right to reply, the chairman briefly summarized the arguments, but said he was not prepared to give a decision for or against.

BALFOUR AT BIRMINGHAM.

THE IRISH SECRETARY ON THE TROUBLES IN IRELAND.

The Government Determined to Enforce the Law—Mr. Johnstone, Member for Belfast, Says the Orangemen Will Fight for the Union.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Mr. Balfour went to Birmingham to-day and attended the first annual meeting of the Midland Conservative Union. He was accompanied by a detective and the chief of the Leamington police. At Birmingham armed detectives were posted at the depot to watch for suspicious characters. Mr. Balfour received during the day a hundred addresses from Conservative associations and in thanking the deputations which brought them he gave assurance that the Government was resolved to proceed boldly and firmly with the work they had taken in hand in Ireland and bring it to a good conclusion. He admitted the task was a difficult one, but held that it was perfectly possible and capable of successful accomplishment. Certain incidents in Ireland had caused some of their friends some misgivings, but these incidents were due, not to lack of resolution on the part of the Government, but to defects in the law which had never contemplated the present system of organized popular rebellion.

Mr. Balfour addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Town Hall this evening. He said he hoped that at the next session of Parliament England and Scotland would get a fair share of legislation, still the Irish question would remain the foremost problem in the mind of every one who took an interest in the fortunes of his country. He had noticed that Mr. Gladstone—[hooting cries of "chirp" and laughter]—although he had mentioned his program of legislation, did not appear to take a very lively interest in it himself. Except as regards the offer of the plundering of the Scotch and Welsh churches as a bribe for the dismemberment of the Empire, Mr. Gladstone displayed little interest in anything except the Irish question, and no man had done more to make it impossible to ignore the Irish question. Therefore, Ireland would be his (Balfour's) topic to-night. The question was not whether Ireland was to be governed under her own or an English parliament, but whether she was to be governed at all in accordance with any of those principles which had hitherto regulated the action of every civilized state in the world. [Cheers.] Referring to the events of the winter of 1885, he compared the Liberal party to those barbaric ancestors who got baptized because their king embraced Christianity. One morning Mr. Gladstone announced himself a Home Ruler, and forthwith a large section of the Liberals declared themselves Home Rulers. Some of them explained to a scoffing public the reason for their conversion, while others, like Harcourt, evidently believed that said reasons and reasons should not be paid for out of the public treasury." The committee reported favorably with reference to supplying water free to troughs in front of hotels on the ground that they were public conveniences. The report was then adopted.

Delegate John Armstrong said, in reply to a delegate, the Municipal Committee would at the next meeting furnish a list of the present aldermen who were worthy of the support of their body at the January election.
