Provincial Eights Making Machief. The Globe has for years been engaged in the ground regardless of consequences; but now apparently ib begins to take the alarm, and to fear that it has gone too far. Our contemporary feels the pinch of its own incon-sistency in this way: The Globe of other days used to be noted for its uncompromising opposition to the usurpations of the Church of Rome, and all such like, But more recently the "Protestant" Globe, as it used to be called in the old time, took more interest in "Provincial rights" than in anything else; and in effect maintained that to push the rights of the provinces as far as possible was the be-all and the end-all of Reform or Liberal policy. Mr. Mowat took the same course, and between the persuasions of the two it Incial Rights Making Mischief. and between the persuasions of the two it seemed as if all the leading men of their party had lost their heads over the subject of Pro vincial rights. Any man who venturthe Dominion, or to say that the Dominion, or he Nation, of Canada, had rights, was denounced as a Tory. As The World has often out, Ontario should have been the one of all the provinces to exaggerate local rights, for the simple reason that she had the most to lose and the least to gain by such

The Minister of Education characterized The Catholic citizens of Toronto were in the amendment as a parliamentary trick by very pleasant mood yesterday. The unpro-voked attacks on their churches have set them which a censure upon the Government might be secured. If Mr. Craig desired to prosecute thinking as to what means to adopt to a crusade against the French language in thes protect their places of worship from such schools he should have brought it up in some other manner. With regard to that portion of the motion which stipulated that every teacher should be able to teach English, the fact was, said Mr. Ross, that all these teach-ers could teach English. It might be that some of these teachers supplemented the English tongue by the French or the German linguates. Then with regard to the state-ment that in the schools of the eastern counties the English was being driven out Mr. Ross, continuing, proceeded briefly to enter into some of the arguments which he had adduced on a previous occasion when Mr. Craig placed a motion of a somewhat similar nature on the paper. He claimed that the Government had accomplished that which the mover asked. He merely came in at the tail end of the hunt after the work had already been done. Inspector Stephen is still suffering from the clout in the side of the head he received from a stone while protecting the audience in Temperance Hall. So far no steps have been taken by the police to find out the author of the outrages, but it is probable in the near future a bylaw will be introduced in council forbidding night parades of all bands other than military. The Police Commissioners had a meeting yesterday, when it is understood this matter was discussed. As witness now its avowal that it dissociates itself from any complicity with any action of politicians prominent, or politicians obscure, condoning the allowance of the act. It is surely keeping quite within bounds to say this: That The Globe's exaggeration of Provincial rights has been a main influence in bringing about that particular assertion of such rights as we see in the Quebec Jesuit Estates Act. The Globe and certain Liberal eaders in Outario along with it have led the party into a false position; and now there trouble about it.

She points to the compulsory use of grease paint, irregular hours, continual traveling and varied hotel fare as the chief enemies of the actress. ### The Salt Question.

I hope you will take the matte up and advocate the farmers' rights. Cardwell s as fine a county as any in Ontario for dairyieve, Sir, we are getting behind in butter on account of Canadian salt. As we ge it it is yellow, dirty and slushy and light in it it is yellow, dirly and sushy and high in weight. We have no alternative but to use it, and strong disflavored butter is the result. Who is to blame for all this? I think the Gov-ernment should look after the salt interest, as this is important in butter making. I pur-chased a barrel of salt lately and rolled it on

As a leading citizen said "the sun has kept good time for thousands of years, but even he fails to satisfy the yearnings of our school board for change."

Mr. Clancy said that perhaps it would have been as well had the question not been brought up at this time, but he could see nothing in the amendment calculated to in-cite agrimony. He therefore recorded himself in favor of the amendment. Mr. Caldwell, the Liberal member for Lan-erk said that as the resolution had been the yearnings of our school board for change. The point how relied on, that the president had no authority to make such an agreement, cannot be upheld. While great care should doubt-less be exercised in acting on such verbal agreements, yet where it is one as clearly proven as in this instance, and where the same is embodied in the written admission of the party alleged to have made it, a great wrong would be done should we disregard it. As far as can be foreseen the Volunteer arriving in the English Channel in May would have such a run of fortune as no American yacht except the America ever had, and it will be a mistake if the opportunity is not taken advantage of. The result of the Volunteer capturing a Queen's cup and other trophies, it is confessed, would be to bring about international yacht racing as a regular feature of the summer's yachting program.
