

In the following vocabulary, the vowels have the continental sound, a as in far, e as in met; i as in Pit.

H is always aspirate, except in connexion with s, l, k, when it forms a different sound: sh, th, kh.

The aspiration is sometimes soft, and is marked: h; and sometimes hard, marked h.