After a brilliant scholastic year. St. Joseph a Convent, on Monday, the 21st inst. closed at a cadenic doors to allow its young lady popule theor well-carned years of the convent of the convention of the task of the convention o honors also.

St. Joseph's has indeed, reason to be justly proud of its graduates; we congratulate its teaching staff on the brilliancy of their work, the proofs of which we see around us. They are practically illustrating the truth that eligion and science need not bedivorced, that only when both go hand in hand, can the greates', the highest, the noblest results be obtained; separate eligion from education and ovils untold must follow, for as an eloquent writer justly says, "no secular education can strike at the root of evil as religion does." Only from such teachers may we expect such pupils as St Joseph's annually sends forth into the great world, young ladies who are a credit to religion and coosety, who with all a weman's modesty and unobtrusiveness have yes solf-reliance and "the high purpose and will to labor" in whatever field Providence appoints their mission. His Grace in congratulating the pupils and encouraging them to future efforts said they must always remember that trae Christian, womanly moder "without which education can give no lignity."

Two choruses from Roeckel were beautifully sung displaying culture of a high order and perfect acquaintance with vocal expression. In the morning that the magnificent new organ, formed the choir and rendered the church music in splendid style, at the magnificent new organ, formed the choir and rendered the church music in splendid style, at the magnificent new organ, formed the choir and rendered the church music in splendid style, at the magnificent new organ, formed the choir and rendered the church music in splendid style, and was there viewed by admiring thouse, and fruit, exhibited in the spacious reception hall of the scademy on the 18th and 19th intar, respectively and was there viewed by admiring througs. Special mention might be made of the excellent painting on China and fines sketches in Oi I Landesapes, Flowers and Fruit, exhibited in the Studio. The designs in fart Meedlework were singularly delicate and were tastedly, beaufully beaufully beau
