

of the Lord may be his portion in his new field of labour in Ottawa."—Orillia Expositor.

PRESENTATION.—Mr. George Fenwick having undertaken the charge of the infant class, the pupils of his former class presented him with a gold pencil case and the two first volumes of a new "Commentary on the Holy Bible," edited by the Rev. F. A. Cooke, M.A., Canon of Exeter, now publishing, as a token of their esteem and affection for their late teacher.—Kingston News, Nov. 11th.

IN MEMORIAM.—We learn by a telegram from Hamilton to the Toronto Globe that the young people of the Congregational Church in that city have recently erected a monument over the grave of their former pastor, the late Rev. Thomas Pullar, at a cost of $340. Well done for the young people of the Hamilton Congregational Church!

THE REV. JOHN SALMON entered upon his new sphere of labour at Embro, on the first week in October. We were pained to learn that on the day previous to his removal, his only son, who was in his sixth year, died, after a very brief illness, of diphtheria. The body of their lost boy was taken to their new home.

GRANBY.—When the Rev. D. D. Nighswander returned to Granby after his marriage tour, he found a splendid black walnut book-case at his boarding house left there for him as a present, also a large family Bible, the value of both amounted to over $60.—Cowansville Observer, Oct. 24th.

PRESENTATION.—Before the Rev. John Salmon, B.A., left his former field of labour his friends of the Warwick and Forest churches showed themselves true by presenting him with an affectionate address accompanied with eighty dollars.

BROOKLYN, N. S.—The Ladies' Sewing Society of this place has just held its annual tea meeting. Results, $143.

THE REV. D. MCCALLUM's post office address is Athol, Ont.

R. C. JAMIESON,
Treasurer.

MONTREAL, 20th Nov. 1873.

PROVIDENT FUND.—I beg to acknowledge receipt, through Rev. J. A. R. Dickson, of $24 30, being the result of a united thanksgiving service collection in the Northern Congregational Church, Toronto, on behalf of the "Retiring Ministers' Fund."

I omitted to acknowledge receipt of the following collections from churches for the "Widows and Orphans Fund," in June.

Kingston, $42; Guelph, $13.

I hope the churches who have not made collections for the Society, will not forget its claims this year.

CHARLES R. BLACK,
Secretary, Provident Fund.
