BRITISH METAL MARKETS.

IRON.—Welsh samples are worth more now than a month ago by from 5s. to 7s. 6d. for finished, and they are under the quotations ruling at Midsummer by from 2s 6d. to 17s. 6d. The smaller reduction has taken place in bars, which stood at £12 12s. 6d. at Midsummer, and the greater in rods, which were £13 12s. 6d., as the lowest quotation at the same date. Staffordshire samples have experienced an advance during the month of from 5s. to 10s.; but, during the quarter, they have lost from 15s. on rods and hoops, to 20s. on bars, whilst sheets have fallen 30s.—all upon the lowest quotations. From Middlesbrough our information is, at the last weekly meeting the general quotation for No. 3 was 100s. per ton; for No. 4 forge, 90s.; and for No. 4 foundry, 95s. net cash. For No. 3, however, some makers who are very well supplied with orders, and whose brands are in much request, obtained 105s. Some fair orders for rails have been placed in the district during the last fortnight, and the bulk of the manufacturers are supplied with work till the end of the year, though at prices not very remunerative. From £11 10s. to £12 is quoted for ordinary sections. Plates are in better request, and orders can be placed at from £13 to £13 10s. per ton. There is a pretty good demand for bars, and nearly all the mills are now fully occupied in order that they may finish their foreign lots before the close of the navigation season. Common bars may be got for £12. The future of the iron market depends almost exclusively upon the price of coal. The general under supply of fuel has led to a strengthening of prices upon most hands, and in certain districts, to the declaration of a decided advance. From Sheffield we hear of an advance of from 2s. to 4s.; in the Wigan district the rise has been 8s. 8d., and in the Shropshire and North Wales districts 2s. per ton. The Staffordshire quotations are high, yet the leading proprietor there is understood to be speaking of the probability of an advance.

STEEL.—Steel generally is in good demand. In Bessemer kinds the makers are especially busy, and there is no probability of any falling off in the requirements, notwithstanding the comparatively high prices by which the market is regulated. Quotations generally remain unaltered upon the month, but during the three months English Spring has effected an advance upon the lowest quotations of £2.

COPPER.—Copper has not been busy during the month or quarter, although the market has not been without transactions. This metal seems to have arrived at a stage at which no violent fluctuations are likely to be noted for the present. It is worthy of remark that the existing quotations are an improvement on those of last month by from £2 upon sheathing and bolts to £3 upon old exchanged, and £5 upon best selected, and tough cake and tile. Burra is better by a good 50s.

TIN.—This metal continues steadily to decline. It is now from £20 to £32 per ton less in value than it was a twelvemonth ago. Than three months back it is worth less by from £9 to £11, and it is lower by from £2 to £4 than it was a month ago. What changes may result from the next ore sale which comes off on the 7th inst., is not quite certain. Consumers do not purchase actively; the supplies are therefore nearer the requirements of the market than was some time ago the case. Arising out of this cause the prospects seem to us to be in favour of the buyer.

LEAD.—W. B. is better by 10s. than it was either last month or three months ago. Sheet has equally improved upon the month, but it is less by the same amount than it was at the close of June. Spanish is more valuable by 15s than it was last month; but it is now at the figure at which it stood three months ago. Patent shot is also somewhat better than last month, though
