

Frank Dimant is the Executive Vice President of B'nai Brith Canada and the CEO of the League for Human Rights and the Institute for International Affairs. He has worked extensively on behalf of victims of human rights abuses, and has actively worked with government and community leaders in the battle against hate crime activity in this country and overseas.

Detective Dino Doria has been with the Metropolitan Toronto Police Force for 22 years. He serves with the Intelligence Unit as a detective with the Hate Crimes Unit.

Rose A. Dyson, Ed.D. is a self-employed consultant in media education. She is the chairperson of Canadians Concerned About Violence in Entertainment (C-CAVE). She works closely with George Gerbner, Dean Emeritus of the Annenberg School of Communications at the University of Pennsylvania and founder of the Cultural Environment Movement (CEM). She is the only Canadian elected to serve on the Executive Committee of the CEM Board of Directors. Dr. Dyson has been involved in numerous media consultations to both industry and government, including the Canadian Association of Broadcasters and the Canadian Broadcast Standards Council. She is currently writing a book on media violence, and is associate editor and a frequent contributor to Peace Magazine.

Pearl Elman has a Masters degree with special interest in women in Judaism. She is active in the Women's Interfaith Dialogue Program of the League for Human Rights of B'nai Brith Canada.

Dr. Hedy Fry has been the Secretary of State (Multiculturalism)(Status of Women) since 1996, re-appointed after the 1997 Federal Election. She is the Member of Parliament for Vancouver Central. Prior to her election, she was a medical practitioner.

David Goldman is founder and director of HateWatch, a web-based organization dedicated to combating and combatting the spread of hate on the Internet. HateWatch is a resource for academics, activists and community members to access up-to-date information on the "state of hate" on the Internet.

Dr. Lawrence E. Hart is an Associate Professor of Medicine at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario. He is Senior Vice President of B'nai Brith Canada and National Chair of the Institute for International Affairs.

David Hoffman has worked for the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) since 1995 as a Research Analyst tracking extremists and hate group activity on the Internet. In that time he has written several reports, including "Hate Groups Recruitment on the Internet," "The Web of Hate: Extremists Exploit the Internet," and "ADL Backgrounder - Extremism on the Internet." Currently, he is working on an update of "The Web of Hate" that will be published this fall under the title "Hi-Tech Hate". Mr. Hoffman has recently been appointed Webmaster for the ADL website.

Jeremy Jones is the Director of International and Community Affairs of the Australia/Israel and Jewish Affairs Council. He holds the honorary position of Executive Vice President of the Executive Council of Australian Jewry and is also the convener of the Advisory Group of Faith Communities to the Council for Aboriginal Reconciliation and a member of the New South Wales Government's Social Justice Reference Group. He is a member of the Jewish Community-Uniting Church Dialogue Group, the New South Wales Anti-Discrimination Board's Community Consultation Group, the Executive of the New South Wales Jewish Board of Deputies, and is an honorary life member of the Australasian Union of Jewish Students. Amongst other offices he currently holds are Australia and Asia/Pacific correspondent for the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, Sydney correspondent for the Jerusalem Report, and Research Associate of the Macquarie University Centre for Comparative Genocide Studies.