IRISH LABOR PARTY MAY DRAW HOT POLITICAL FOES TOGETHER OLD LINES BROKEN IN BATTLE

Nationalists and Orangemen Stand Together in Common Cause Against Employers, and New Movement Promises to Be Potent Force—Leader of Capitalists a Home Ruler.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Sept. 18.—(Can. Press.)—The strike of the transport workers here is believed by some observers to indicate the birth throes of the Irish Labor party, destined to wipe out many of the traditional lines of cleavage in the political, religious and industrial life of Ireland.

The historic and bitter feud between Nationalist residents and the members of the Royal Irish Constabulary added to the ferocity of the street fighting during the riots, but the strike itself was a clear-cut issue between employer and employee over the question of labor unionism.

The master mind of the street carmen's side of the controversy, James Larkin, is a picturesque character who imbibed his union principles while working in the steel mills of the United States. When he began his work of organizing transport labor in Ireland he found practically a virgin field for his efforts.

No Party Ties. Larkin is not even an Irishman, having begun his career at the Liverpool docks. He believes in conservative methods introduced by men who had secured their labor union training in England, so he soon broke from these leaders and proceeded to organize the transport workers of Dublin on the basis of similar organizations in the United States. His efforts met with bitter opposition from the employers.

The leader of the capitalists in the Dublin fight, William M. Murphy, was formerly a Nationalist member of parliament for Dublin, and is a man of extensive financial interests, which is regarded here as an ironical comment on the theory that all the industrial wealth of Ireland is in Ulster. He resisted the strike with uncompromising vigor, and the other capitalists of Dublin joined him to a man. He believes in fighting fire with fire, and his favorite weapon is a sweeping and merciless lockout of every laborer believed to have the slightest connection with the Transport Workers' Union.

Old Animosities Forgotten. The old rallying cry incident to the question of home rule were forgotten when the strike trouble actually began, and Nationalist, Catholic and anti-home rule Orangemen found themselves allied on one side against a similar alignment on the other.

Larkin is boycotted by all the Irish press and by several of the powerful organizations which put home rule above everything else, but in spite of this opposition he has rallied about him a force which promises to develop into a political party.

Should home rule for Ireland become an actuality, facing Irish politicians believe the new government will find a fresh alignment of parties organized on the basis of economic differences instead of, as hitherto, the sharply divided Protestants and Catholics, Nationalists and Orangemen.

MEN OF ULSTER ARM FOR FIGHT

Sir George Richardson Accepts George Command—Expects to Have Hundred Thousand Troops.

BELFAST, Sept. 18.—(Can. Press.)—Capt. James Craig, Unionist member of parliament for the east division of Down, announced at a meeting here tonight the acceptance by Gen. Sir George Richardson of the post of "general officer commanding the volunteers."

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionists, who is continuing his inspection trip thru West Down, expressed the hope, in addressing the volunteers that the next time he saw them, "every man will have a rifle on his shoulder." He advised them to leave no stone unturned to resist the invader.

PRINCESS DIED BY OWN HAND

Unable to Wed Banker's Son Without Relinquishing Rank, Daughter of Prince William Shot Himself.

Special Cable to The World, Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World.
BERLIN, Sept. 18.—Princess Sophie of Saxe-Weimar, daughter of Prince William, committed suicide with a revolver at her father's house in Heidelberg Wednesday afternoon. It is believed the cause of her rash act was a love affair with Hans von Bleichroder, son of a well known Berlin banker, who was denounced by Emperor William.

The engagement to Bleichroder was announced some months ago, then denied, not by Prince William, but by the reigning grand duke. The opposition of Prince William was based on the fact that Hans von Bleichroder's father refused to abandon his Jewish faith in order to facilitate the son's wedding.

It is stated that the grand duke would have consented to the marriage if the princess had consented to relinquish her title, as did her brother Hermann, when marrying beneath his rank, but this she declined to do. Hermann afterwards settled in London as Count Oetelheim and became involved in financial troubles. An uncle, Prince Bernhard, also surrendered his rank.

When news of the death of the princess was first published, it was given out that she had died from paralysis. It is reported that this evening the truth became known. The princess retired to her room apparently in usual spirits. A Countess Desgrieux, a shot was heard from her room and when members of the household entered, the princess was already dead, shot thru the heart with a revolver.

TWO ACCIDENTS AT BUSY CORNER

Owen McCarron and John Gibson Struck by Motor Cars at Queen and Bathurst.

Two motor accidents occurred at the intersection of Queen and Bathurst streets yesterday. The victims are now in the Western Hospital, and all but one man is in a dangerous condition the other will likely recover.

While crossing the intersection Owen McCarron, 200 Oakmount road, an ex-sergeant of the Toronto police force, was knocked down and run over by motor car No. 21884, driven by James H. Gooderham, 158 Warren road. McCarron was rendered unconscious and was rushed to the Western Hospital in the motor car. Last night it was feared that he had been internally injured and his condition was said to be serious.

The motor car was proceeding east on Queen street and McCarron was running from the north side of Queen street to the southeast corner of the intersection to catch a Bathurst car. Gooderham did not see him in time to avoid the accident.

John Gibson, aged 42, who lives with his mother at 272 Victoria street, was seriously injured at the same corner at 7 o'clock. He was conveyed to the Western Hospital in the motor car which struck him, and it was reported last night that he had a good chance of recovery.

Gibson is an employee of the Toronto Plate Glass Company. He was crossing from the north side of Queen street to the south side to catch an eastbound car. He stepped from behind a westbound car that had just passed and the motorist failed to see him in time to stop his car.

DIED OF INJURIES
Marjorie Douglas, Ten Years Old, Run Over by Wagon.
Marjorie Douglas, the ten-year-old daughter of George B. Douglas, 411 Clendenan avenue, died in the Western Hospital at 12:30 this morning as the result of injuries she sustained when run over by a Canadian Express delivery wagon on Clendenan avenue on Wednesday afternoon. An inquest will be held.

FIFTY THOUSAND PEOPLE WHO LIVE ON THE FRINGE OF CITY LIMITS WANT TO BE TAKEN INTO TORONTO

Some members of the city council are giving serious thought to the increase in population for the past year. That increase, as shown by the completion of the 1911 assessment, is 28,305. It is estimated that the increase would be very much higher were there cheaper land within the city for the erection of homes for workmen.

Those who are familiar with conditions in the thickly populated areas, immediately beyond the city limits, do not hesitate to declare that a population of fully 50,000 is in those suburbs. They contend that the 50,000 people are living on the outer fringe of the city limits because they cannot get land within the city limits, cheap enough to permit them to own their homes.

There are aldermen who are in touch with public sentiment in those suburbs who are learning that a majority of the residents who regard with fear the increase of unsanitary conditions, and have become anxious to have their property taken into the city, so that sewerage and pure water supply will be assured them before the unsanitary conditions become intolerable. These aldermen are now agitating for the annexation of those suburbs that are in the greatest danger of intolerable unsanitary conditions.

Because there is no land left in the city limits that is cheap enough for homes for workmen, the city's population is 450,000 instead of half a million, and those who are forced to live outside the city limits want to come in, the unsanitary conditions in their communities becoming worse and worse. Opposition to taking these congested areas into the city is under the leadership of The Telegram. Without that leadership opposition would not be in evidence. With the ingenuity of a realtor who regards reason as a means to unreasonable ends, The Telegram holds that if the city takes in more territory the expense would be greater than the additional revenue, and that if more territory is taken in the people in that territory would not get the conveniences that would relieve them of intolerable unsanitary conditions. The Telegram ignores the fact that a few months after Moore Park was annexed it was given a plan of temporary sewerage that would relieve it of unsanitary troubles before the end of this year.

Lord Mayor's Intervention Fails to Clear Air and Outlook is for Complete Paralysis of Traction System—Railway Employees Clamor for Strike and Denounce Executive's Tactics.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(Can. Press.)—Despite the intervention of the lord mayor, which led to the concession by the Tilling's Bus Co. of the right to wear union badges, a general strike of the traction employees is still imminent on the clear out issue of recognition of the union.

Explaining the failure of a conference held at the Mansion House today, Organizer Ben Smith, at a mass meeting of the strikers tonight, declared: "We are preparing to stop every passenger carrying vehicle in London before we will lose the fight. Tilling's will come first and then the general omnibus, then the trolleys, and after that, if we are forced to it, the street cars."

The strikers declare that the Tilling's concessions with regard to wearing badges are not enough, that the company must recognize the employees with reference to wages and hours adjusted.

Mass meetings of employees of the London underground railways, tubes and buses, and privately owned street cars forms one of the most powerful traction combines in existence. The untouching of the employees of these interests has proceeded with unusual success. Therefore, the execution of a general strike order means the practical stoppage of all passenger-carrying traffic, except the bus and street cars. Even the latter might join in a sympathetic strike.

BURIED UNDER A TON OF HAY

W. J. Locke of Edgeley Rescued Just in Time to Save Life, But Seriously Hurt.

William James Locke, aged 45, a farmer from Edgeley, narrowly escaped death by suffocation on Jarvis street yesterday afternoon. He now lies in St. Michael's Hospital suffering from several fractures of the jaw and internal injuries. At an early hour this morning his condition was reported to be critical, but hope was entertained for his recovery.

Locke came into the city yesterday morning with a load of hay and when he reached the Jarvis street market, where he sold it. In the afternoon he started up Jarvis street to deliver it. The load was evidently one-sided, and when Locke attempted a short turn while the team was trotting, the wagon overturned. The farmer was thrown to the ground, his head struck twenty feet, and fell on his face. The ton and a half of hay fell on him and he was lost to view.

Pedestrians thought at first that the team had run away and that there was no one in charge of them. One man, however, had witnessed the accident and with several others he started in to clear away the hay. After several minutes' work they found Locke, who was unconscious. He was rescued just in time.

TRY TO BLOCK SULZER'S TRIAL

All Legal Technicalities That Can Be Devised Will Be Resorted to by Lawyers.

By Louis Seibold, Staff Correspondent Toronto World.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 18.—William Sulzer, the 42nd constitutional governor of New York, was placed on trial before a high court of impeachment today, to answer an indictment returned by the assembly, charging "high crimes and misdemeanors" affecting his official acts and personal integrity.

He was not present when the 48 senators and 9 of the 10 elected and designated justices of the court of appeals were sworn to try him fairly and impartially for the offenses alleged against his honor and the welfare of the state, or when his name was called to appear at the bar of his legally constituted peers.

The proceedings, conducted with impressive dignity, progressed only to the preliminary stages ranging to organization of the court, but brought out in unmistakable clearness the fact that Mr. Sulzer will question the right of the highest tribunal provided by law to try him, and that he will resort to such technicalities as his legal advisers can devise to prevent his actual trial.

Until the rules, which a committee of two senators and one judge of the court of appeals were framing last night, are reported tomorrow, the actual scope of the efforts of Mr. Sulzer to disqualify his 57 judges cannot be determined.

The trend of the proceedings today justified the conclusion that the technical evasions projected by his defence will be swept aside and that the court will proceed to determine his guilt or innocence by the process established by constitutional customs and practices.

TURCO-BULGARIAN FRONTIER DEFINED

Protocol of Treaty Was Signed by the Delegates Yesterday.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 18.—(Can. Press.)—The protocol of the treaty defining the Turco-Bulgarian frontier, which was signed today, provides that the new frontier line shall begin on the Black Sea at the mouth of the River Pasova, immediately north of the town of San Stefano, 25 miles above Midia.

The line follows the old frontier near Devletli Agatch and follows the old frontier as far as Soudjak. It then passes two kilometers to the south of Mustafa Pasha and two kilometers to the east of Orakli, joining the Maritza river at Mandra. It follows the course of the rivers as far as the delta, where the frontier is formed by the right branch of the river.

JOHN PAYNE DEAD

Huerta Said to Have Relinquished His Ambition, and Will Assist Diaz in His Campaign—Important Concession Made to Catholic Party.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18.—President Huerta today directed War Minister Blanquet to order Felix Diaz to return immediately to Mexico in instructions called Diaz thru the Mexican legation at Paris.

No public announcement of this decision has been made here and the government officials who is The Toronto World correspondent's informant, said it was doubtful if the news would be given out officially in reply had been received from Diaz.

Huerta's decision permits Diaz to return to the republic after summarily giving up his present position as a diplomatic mission. It is thought here that Diaz was invested with ambassadorial powers to convey to the United States the appreciation of Mexico's courtesy in acceding a special embassy to the centennial celebration here three years ago, solely for the purpose of eliminating him as a presidential possibility, but that he now will be a candidate at the elections next month.

Assuming that he participates with Huerta's approbation there is little doubt that, with Huerta's assistance, his election will be assured. The world's informant says that Huerta would not have ordered Diaz back to Mexico at this time unless he had made up his mind to permit him to enter the political fight.

Has Huerta Given Up?
The fact is that Diaz, as an army man, would have been a great impediment out of the country until ordered to return by the war minister. If he returns immediately it may be taken as evidence that Huerta has relinquished his own ambition to be constitutional president.

When it becomes known here that Diaz is coming back, a great impetus will be given his candidacy, which, until now, has existed chiefly in the columns of newspapers financed by Diaz's "friends" in the United States. But sentiment would be created for him overnight if he should enter the race with Huerta's "approval." The question is to what extent will Diaz be acceptable to the northern factions in arms against Huerta.

Important Concession.
With the naming today of Eduardo Tamariz as minister of public instruction Huerta made an important concession to the Catholic party to the disapproval of the Liberals.

The policy of the government heretofore has been not to place political aggressive Catholics in charge of the department of education. The Liberal party has made a strong point against the possibility of introducing religious instruction in public schools.

Tamariz is young and never before has had political office, but has been conspicuously active in the councils of the Catholic party. Liberals already are taking measures to protest against his confirmation.

Huerta's decision to permit Diaz to return may have been hastened by a notice from local bankers that the recent 10,000,000 loan would be the last financial aid he could expect unless the internal affairs of the country took a radical change for the better.

European bankers already have shown themselves chary of loaning money in lack of recognition by the United States of the Huerta Government.

CANADA'S WHEAT NOT ALLOWED FREE ENTRY

United States to Keep Up Imposts on Wheat and Flour Against Countries Which Make Levies on Its Own Products—Countervailing Duty on Potatoes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(Can. Press.)—A settlement of the differences between the senate and the house over the proposed duties on wheat and flour was reached by the Democratic members of the tariff conference committee today. The nature of the agreement was not made public, but it is understood that the house members finally accepted the senate amendment almost without change.

Under this provision, both wheat and flour would go on the free list and a duty of ten cents per bushel would be assessed against wheat imported from a country levying a duty on American wheat, and a duty of 45 cents per barrel against flour imported under like conditions. The house had put a straight duty of ten cents per bushel on wheat, and had free listed flour with a countervailing duty of ten per cent. ad valorem.

Today's agreement established a precedent, which, it is understood, will be followed in other cases in imposing countervailing duties.

Potatoes Dutiable.
It is expected that the conference will approve a countervailing duty of ten cents on potatoes, which both houses have put on the free list, and that the countervailing duty on wool strip, put in by the house and later stricken out by the senate, may also be adopted.

Wide differences of opinion developed in the conference over the duty on lead and zinc ore, burlap, ferro-manganese ore and several other items. An agreement was reached on the meat inspection provision as applied to free meat from abroad, and the section will be rewritten so that the rigid provisions of the American inspection laws will be applied in some of their more important features to imported meats.

Fruit Brandy Exempt.
A night session of the conference was held tonight for the first time, owing to the slow progress made on the bill today.

The decision of the conferees to drop senate amendments proposing a tax of $1.10 a gallon on all fruit brands used to fortify sweet wines, was vigorously attacked in the senate today by Senator Pomerene. He declared that if the provision were dropped, he would make a fight on the floor of the senate against an approval of the conference report. The amendment met objections from the house conferees. By an agreement reached several days ago, it was proposed to eliminate the provision and take it up as a separate measure at the next session of congress.

Demonstration of Strength Regarded as Good Tactics in View of Situation in Ontario.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 18.—(Can. Press.)—From the fact that Ontario is the weak place in the licensed hotel organization of Canada, and that a display of strength is required in order to win the convention of the Dominion Hotelkeepers' Association this morning to hold its 1914 convention in Toronto. It was the desire of the hotelmen that the gathering should be held at the time of the spring meeting at the Woodline track, and in consequence the convention will take place at the end of May.

George Wright of Toronto, who has been provisional president, was re-elected president, and E. J. Roehrer of Winnipeg was made first vice-president. Charles Underhill of Saskatoon, was appointed second vice-president, and J. S. Jordan of Vancouver, third vice-president.
