

to so good advantage as in Canada. A hundred pounds in his pocket on his arrival, will buy land enough to maintain himself and family with comfort; and he must remember, that every year that he lives on his own estate gives an additional value to it, as landed property rises rapidly by cultivation in all new countries.

THE END.

---

LONDON :

Printed by W. Clowes, Northumberland-court.