THE first Edition of "Parochial duties practically illustrated," was printed for private circulation, and it was not expected that such a trifle would excite much notice ; Its reception, however, has been most gratifying, as it implies the approval of so many Clerical Brethren, at whose request it is now made public.

Since the first edition was printed, the hand bill of November 4, 1828, has been issued. It is accordingly altered to this form, and two articles regarding Confirmation and Vaccination are added at the end, which occur in the hand bill of 1826, and which (with the Blessing of God) will probably appear in that of 1829, or the year following.
