Women's Patriotic League Welcome Soldier Families to Cool, Clean Comfort.

Twenty-one members of soldiers' families from overseas arrived at the headquarters of the Women's Patriotic League, corner Carlton and Church streetts, yeserday morning and anyone who has spent several days on the Atlantic, with the train trip from Quebec tagged on and Toronto as the objective, will appreciate the feeling of the party when they found themselves in the big, cool, comfort-

When The World dropped in later the quarters looked very homelike with two little children at the gate and a woman with her baby seated at a curtained window.

The resident nurse, Mrs. Aubin, showed the large billiard room re-Mrs. Aubin, cently taken in as sleeping quarters. Here the cubicles were divided by spotless white sheets hung from rods which besides serving as screens dividing the family parties which the groups of two or three beds accommodated, were suggestive of the utmost cleanliness and coolness. Across the hall was the dining-room, a beautiful apartment. Its tables set with pretty china centres with vases of yellow and white flowers must have seemed a bit of heaven to the tired of traveling wives and kiddies. The French door opening onto a verandah and that in turn onto a trim lawn gave; the finishing touches to the picture.

Father Too
The World learned that not only the mothers and their babies are made welcome, but that when the father travels with his family he remains with them until he finds a home when they leave territories. when they leave together. The Urwin family, who were among the arrivals of yesterday, are in the class of quiet patriots of whom the world hears lit-tle unless they are stumbled across by accident. Father and mother lived Toronto at the outbreak of the war Father and three sons enlisted and the mother followed with her remaining six to England. One son, aged twenty-four, paid the supreme sacrifice, a second son is now on his way home and the third had preceded the family and is preparing a home for them

SEEK CHEAPER POWER FOR IRON MINING

A deputation from the Belleville city council and board of trade waited on Premier Hearst at the parliament buildings yesterday, asking for assistance in the development of iron mining in the northern part of Hastings county.

It was pointed out by the deputation that the government could help one way by securing cheaper power which at present costs $17 per horsepower but it was thought co for $10. It was recognized that it was a difficult proposition to bonus power and this point was left to the premier gestion of bonusing ore being made. The premier promised to go into the whole matter and acquaint the deputation with his decision.

PRESCRIBING DOCTOR BROKE ALL RECORDS

Dr. J. Wilkinson, Dundas, one of the dioctors summoned to appear before the Ontario license board regarding the number of prescriptions being issued for intoxicating liquor, failed to attend. He had, it is alleged, given seventy-two prescriptions in seven days, and these were practically all for quarts of whiskey. The board has now notified the various government vendors to dishonor any future prescriptions signed by Dr.

WEST BLOOR STREET IMPASSABLE TO LOADS

Alderman Sam Ryding appeared before the board of control yesterday and asked to have the west end of Bloor street fixed up temporarily so that builders could get thru with their supplies. The roadway was impassable to heavy loads. Controller Robbins asked about the report on double-tracking and paving Bloor street.

"It will be here in a few days," replied the mayor. No action was taken meantime regarding the alderman's request.

TO SURVEY SALARIES OF CITY OFFICIALS

Finance Commissioner Bradshaw has been asked by the board of control to confer separately with the various heads of departments and prepare a report regarding the adjustment of the salaries of all officials of the corporation in view of the high cost of living. He is also to prepare a proper survey for the board of control to consider either when preparing estimates for next year or as may hereinafter determined by the
