

MOTION PICTURE FEATURE CANADA

Sir George Foster's Trade Films Surprise Even Canadian Born.

With the aid of the moving picture film the trade and commerce department at Ottawa is making it possible for every Canadian to become better acquainted with his Canada. Long before the conclusion of the war the Hon. Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, began to prepare for the reconstruction period, and to this end had an exhibit and publicity bureau and motion picture laboratory established.

The pictures from this splendid laboratory, depicting Canada scenically and industrially, are being exhibited in the large tent next to the industrial building at the Canadian National Exhibition. Mr. D. W. Johnson, director of publicity for the trade and commerce department, is the lecturer.

Over a hundred thousand feet of moving picture film, featuring Canada's natural beauty, her resources and her industries, has been taken and is being shown abroad as well as in the Dominion. Hence at the present moment millions of eyes are gazing upon the wonders and glories of Canada. As the observer gazes upon these pictures the film says to him in words stronger than man, "See Canada first" and "Play in your own playgrounds."

Inspire Observer.
The glories of Canada's park lands inspire the observer and fill him with the love of nature as he sees quiet lakes at the foot of giant snow-capped peaks, reflecting all their glories in their placid waters. There are lakes whose waters have twenty shades of green and never one of blue, bubbles, wonderful glaciers and ravines. The beautiful Muskoka Lakes, Algonquin Park, Niagara, and others depict another phase of Canada's scenic vastness. These pictures not only induce Canadians to our own beauties but also bring tourists to our shore and become a factor in the economic wealth of the country.

The industrial films deal with Canada's natural products such as salmon, trout and mackerel fishing in their respective waters, maple sugar making, sheep, cattle and horse raising. They are educational, as for instance, The grain picture shows the wheat from the time it leaves the vast field till it becomes a finished product, ready for consumption.

To Create Interest.
Everyone should see their own pictures of Canada, produced in their own laboratory, that are now working abroad in almost every part of the world to arouse and create interest in Canada.

The provincial Ontario motion picture bureau is co-operating with the trade and commerce department to exhibit now being run in the big tent near the horticultural building, between the western end of the exhibition grounds and the Ontario motion picture bureau assures the visitor to this exhibit of an educational treat decidedly worth while.
