BRANTFORD BEATS GUELPH

This is Guelph's first defeat this sea-

Bowling.

The Brant County Bowling tournament drew out 37 county rinks. There were many surprises. F. Peterson of the Brantford club, who won the Lloyd Harris trophy last year against strong competition, lost out in the first game, while other strong bowlers also met early defeat were D. G. Husband, Seathers, Hope, Inbater, Paris and Inglis.

ing the fight. When the pictures were shown they saw the little Britisher winis shown making the mistake of handing the Union Jack to Wallace in mistake for the Star Spangled Banner.

Harry Wills, the giant negro, and said to be the best heavy—outside of Dempsey—the third from Carl Mays of the Yanks in the champion. If Wills wins he'll get $10,000, but he'll never get a chance at the title.

Jimmy Dellow, that sterling little marathoner, who was prominently in the limelight throughout the province some years ago, has again broken out with a running rash, turning in a win on Dominion Day. The little ex-St. Marys boy will be here a week from today for the big manufacturers' track meet, and it's altogether likely that he will win for a third time the twelve-mile marathon, the feature of the meet. A win this time gives him permanent possession of the cup.

A win today will make it twelve straight for the London tribe, and then for saries when the bases were full to over-saries when the bases were full to over-saries.

A win today will make it twelve straight for the London tribe, and then for a week's invasion of Michigan, starting at Bay City Sunday with a double-header flowing. Bagby's wild streak, as told before, cost him his chance to continue after the American League record for a consequitive wins. and ending at Battle Creek. Their return in a week will find them again stacked

This week has been a fruitful one for the Canuck teams in the Mint. A win consecutive today for the Beavers will give them third last place, while London, Hamilton and Brantford are sticking tenaciously on the three top rungs of the ladder. one of the three are sure to break soon on to be pretty well fortified against a break just now. # Only Three Forced Scores.

Three runs forced in has been the single game limit for the American League thus far. On April 20, Elmer

Jim had left his control at home and passed three men in a row and had served two balls wide of the plate to Eddie Collins when Faeth supplanted him on the mound. Tony Joseph, the luckless athlete, could not get 'em over, and Columbia's best-known graduate strolled, Herve McClellan counting with the winning run. the winning run.
In the Sixth City, on June 15, Carl passes that forced runners home, and Warren Collins, his successor, later countersigned a ticket to first with the bases full.

In Toronto and Hamilton the picture of the fight was the subject of some great bidding. Many unable to see the actual battle were curious to see for the fight was the subject of some themselves what grounds Doc Cutch and his protege, Wallace, had for claim-the fight. Referee Lou Marsh, sporting editor of the Star, is shown making the mistake of handing the Union Jack to Wallace in mistake for the Star Spangled Banner.

One thing the incident brought to light and that was a very good spirit of American fair play. Most of the Yank papers waited until they got the true facts before printing the distortions sent out by "Doc" Cutch, evidencing a firm undersous statements which he has industriously spread over the whole country with a grain of salt and quite a, decent bit of disbellef.
