FIREDEPT. OUT 4 TIMES OVER THE WEEK-END

Pavilion at Lily Lake Destroyed Saturday Night; Blaze in Service Station

At 7.15 o'clock Saturday evening an alarm from box 283 called the department to Lily Lake for a fire in the two story pavilion, owned by the Horticultural Association, and rented to Joseph Tebo, caretaker, where the latter conducts a confectionery store, ice cream and lunch room, waiting room for skaters during the winter season, and during the summer season, has a room for the storing of toboggans and yachts of the Saint John Model Yacht Club.

Mr. Tebo has been away on a hunting trip and was not home at the time the fire started and the origin is not known. Two women had been working at the pavilion, cleaning up the place and the fires were on in stoves during the afternoon for heating water. In addition to other contents a number of toboggans, confectionery, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, chairs, tables, piano and many other articles were destroyed. It could not be learned how much insurance Mr. Tebo had on his property as he was out of the city at the time.

At 9 p. m. the fire department was called out by an alarm from box 14 for a fire in an old mattress in a shed at the rear of 69 Prince Edward street. The services of the department were not needed on their arrival as the blaze had been extinguished with a few pails of water.

At 1.35 o'clock yesterday morning when the department was called out by an alarm from box 412 for a fire in the office of the filling station near the Marsh Bridge, owned by Ferguson and Reid. The fire is supposed to have started from spontaneous combustion among some old oil overhauls and other clothing in a room of the building, used as an office. The fire was quickly extinguished and the damage is reported as slight.

At 3.30 an alarm was sent in from box 45 by Harold Marr, the watchman for the Consumers' Coal Co. who covered a slight fire in a coal shed at the rear of their wharf off Britain street. The fire department made a quick response and with a couple of good streams of water quickly quenched the fire and the damage is reported to have been slight.

As Hiram Sees It

"There's a craft with French soldiers on it, says I to the town feller, pin'tin' to the patch of moonlight on Long Reach."

"Them's the ghosts of Villebon an' his men goin' down from Nashwaak to the noo fort at the mouth o' the river," says the town feller.

"The last we'll see of that old governor that sent the Indians out to burn an' kill an' scalp. Old Ben Church had stopped the building the noo fort in 1696 an' carried off the guns. Villebon he got away in 1698 an' hed the job finished. It was a strong fort an' mounted 24-pounders. It was 200 feet square—on the Old Fort site he hind Navy Island in Saint John harbor. The walls was laid in clay an' mortar— an' the planks was sawed up at Fort Nashwaak an' taken down there an' left only two men to take care o' Fort Nashwaak. He only lived two years after that an' was buried near the fort. A feller named Brouillon was made governor—but he didn't like the place—so he tore the fort down again—an' took the guns an' everything over the Bay to Port Royal. The French settlers along the river followed him or went up to Quebec—an' the Indians hed it to themselves almost the same as they hed a hundred years afore."

"Well," says I—"a lot happened on Long Reach in that hundred years." "Them," says the town feller, "was the ghosts of Villebon an' his men we just seen in the moonlight on the river."
