slightly at one point.

With the British Army in France, May 9—(By the Associated Press)—Fighting was still in progress this morning near Vierstraete on the front southwest of Ypres. At one time the British were forced back slightly by machine gun fire.

All the rest of the original defences, however, appeared to be again in the hands of the defenders in the Voormezeele-Laclytte sector.

After their first success in yesterday's fighting the Germans were unable to gain further ground, despite repeated s mashes at the Allied line. Bitter struggles took place about Kleine Vierstrate Cabaret, west of Vierstrate, and in the ridge wood but the British clung desperately to their positions.

The British organized a counter-attack during the night which was so vigorous that the Germans were unable to withstand it and gradually fell back

By a counter attack delivered last night by British troops the Germans were driven from the portions of the Allied front line they had entered on the Flanders front in the Laclytte-Voormezeele sector.

Further progress was made last night by the British on the front east of iens, between the Somme and Ancre rivers.

Yesterday's attack on the Flanders line was carried out by two German divisions. Heavy casualties were inflicted upon them by the British forces.

Paris, May 9—Heavy artillery fighting on both sides of the Avre river, on the front below Amiens, is reported in today's official communication.

Four hundred bombs were dropped on targets all along the front. Twelve hostile machines were brought down in air fighting, eight of which were accounted for in a big encounter in the neighborhood of Douai. A German observation balloon was brought down in flames. None of our machines are missing."

Overwhelmed By Huns, What Use To Kills Three Himself. Tell Them We've Boomed Production?

Ottawa, May 9—It a scattered and broken remnant, overwhelmed because not reinforced, should return to Canada, it would profit little to tell them that while they were being decimated our production had been largely increased." In these words, the prime minister, in a statement issued today, sums up the situation at the front in its relation to the order-in-council candelling the exemptions of class one and between twenty and twenty-two tars of age inclusive. The statement reads:

Since the passing of the order-in-council of April 20, 1918, empowering the governor-in-council to call out men of specified ages regardless of exemptions granted or claimed, numerous representations have been received by members of the government expressing the view that the proposed action will prejudicially affect production in certain industries. Such representations have been received from those engaged in agriculture, in mining, in the production of munitions of war, in shipbuilding, in transportation, and other similar activities that are important if not essential for war purposes. The government weighed most carefully all these considerations before entering upon the policy above set forth.

A hot fight followed, in which bombs were freely exchanged. In a short time no fewer than twelve direct hits with bombs were registered against the enemy.

The officer in charge of one of the parties went some distance into the village, but all, he saw was one Bosche running furibously.

Near the Beaurains-Neuville-St. Vitasse road two enemy garrisons offered a stout resistance until all were killed and we captured their machine guns. All the other posts ran on the approach of our other raiding parties. Two prisoners taken were found hiding in shell holes.

Eight minutes after they had moved to attack our men withdrew, having accomplished the end desired, which was to secure identifications.
