FEAR JACK THE SHARK.

Turks Yield to the British.

FRANCE WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO HOLD FASHODA—ZOLA CONVERTED—GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

Candia, Sept. 19.—The Sultan has ordered D. and Pasha, the military commander in Crete, to accede to the demand of the British admiral, Gerard Noel, for disarmament, thus complying with the whole ultimatum of the admiral. The British military detachment has occupied the entrance to the harbor, and it is rumored that the Ottoman troops will be withdrawn and a British force will occupy the town. Among the prisoners already handed over to Admiral Noel are two who are credited with being ringleaders in the attack on the British camp. "JACK SHARK."

Navy men are quite satisfied, that whatever happens in Crete, there is little danger of the English Admiral Noel being shot down by Turkish bullets. He is something of a quiet, but he is not an extremely determined man, ready to set up any one opposing what he holds to be his plain duty, but he looks the part. Long ago discerning shipmates christened him "Jack Shark," and when Pasha may find that this uncompromising epithet is fairly well deserved. A son told that Noel's anger at some of his own men having been shot down by Turkish bullets was something ominously quiet. It will take all the combined efforts of the European concert to keep "Jack Shark" from having at least one good bite in return.

A GUIDE'S HEROISM

He Sacrificed Himself for His Charge and Escaped Unhurt.

London, Sept. 19.—The season's record of Alpine fatalities is appalling. This week has added several to the list. It also brings one of the most splendid stories of heroism ever told. Prof. Kasse, well known in Bergmann and Dr. Borchardt, with two guides, the four men roped together, were crossing the Piz Baine over a snow bridge, which is considered safe by the guides. The bridge gave way, and the four men fell into a crevasse. The leader had the rope around his chest and hung in mid-air. A half hour later, to relieve this intolerable strain, the leading guide cut the rope between himself and Prof. Kasse and disappeared into the depths. The other guide and Dr. Borchardt were then able to pull Prof. Kasse up, but he was dead. It is cheering to know that the guide who so willingly offered his life, was not killed but was found unhurt by the rescue party.

ZOLA TO BE A PRIEST.

The Eminent Novelist Author said to have Been Converted.

London, Sept. 19.—London Life claims to have information that M. Emile Zola is about to become a Catholic priest. It says that the Vatican was approached on the subject a fortnight ago, and that the Pope has given his consent to the ordination six months hence. (M. Zola's conversion is said to have been made by Father Gougeon, the pastor of a small parish church, and an intimate friend of the novelist.)

"LET IT PASS."

A Picture Which the Czar Could not Make up His Mind About.

London, Sept. 19.—A photograph of the Czarina nursing her baby recently appeared in an English newspaper, and when it reached the Russian censor the latter was a much puzzled official. He consulted with the minister of the interior, who was equally puzzled, and decided to consult with the Czar. "The best thing I can do," said the Russian Emperor, "is to stop this to the Czarina and let her decide." In a few minutes, so the story goes, the Czar returned and said, with a smile to the minister of the interior: "Her Imperial Majesty finds nothing in the picture contrary to the law; let it pass."

ENGLISH BY ELECTION.

The Liberal Unionist Candidate Elected to Succeed the Late Mr. Pease.

London, Sept. 19.—The election for the seat in Parliament made vacant by the death of Arthur Pease, Liberal Unionist, resulted in the return of Pike Pease, the Liberal Unionist candidate, by a majority of 1,008 votes over his Liberal opponent, Owen C. Phillips. The poll was as follows: Pike Pease, Liberal Unionist, 5,497; Owen C. Phillips, Liberal, 2,689. At the last election Arthur Pease was returned by 2,554 votes, against 2,697 cast for Sir Theodore Fry, the Home Rule candidate.

FRANCE WILL GET OUT.

Major Marchand Will Leave Fashoda—France's Attitude is Very Friendly.

London, Sept. 19.—From Cairo, and from an entirely independent source, the Daily Mail learns that France has assumed a conciliatory attitude towards Great Britain, and has declared that the expedition of M. Marchand is quite unofficial. The Sudan will of

French Ministers who Believe in Dreyfus

Will Step Down and Out.

Paris, Sept. 19.—Public opinion is veering in favor of a revision of the Dreyfus case.

Gen. Zurlinden has sent his written resignation to Premier Brisson, as follows: "I have the honor to beg you to receive my resignation as Minister of War. An exhaustive study of the papers in the Dreyfus case has convinced me too fully of his guilt for me to accept, as the head of the army, any other solution than that of the maintenance of the judgment in its entirety."

Later in the day another Cabinet Council was held, at which General Chanonge, commander of the first division of the first army corps (department of the north and the Pas de Calais), was appointed Minister for War, in succession to Gen. Zurlinden, and Senator Godin, representing French India, was appointed Minister of Public Works, succeeding M. Tilly. The latter, in transmitting his letter of resignation, is apparently bidding for popular favor. He wrote: "The council having decided to appoint a commission to consider the request for a revision of the trial of the convict Dreyfus, I am unable to accept any share in the responsibility for that step, which, in my opinion, involves a revision of the case."

VESEVIVUS IS ACTIVE.

Neighboring Population Much Alarmed by Eruption of Lava Flowing.

Naples, Sept. 19.—A state of gloomy apprehension prevails among the population regarding the eruption of Vesuvius which is hourly becoming active and menacing. Streams of lava are spreading in every direction. The most threatening of these flows through the Vedrino valley, which is almost filled.

The observatory, which originally stood at a height of 810 metres, is now only 27 metres above the sea level, owing to the sinking of the ground. Seven new craters have formed around the central one and this has not tended to diminish the fears formerly felt, which were based upon the eruption of stones and scoriae similar to that which occurred in 1872.

CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE.

Rev. Mr. Larkin Says, Should be Against the Injurious Liquor Traffic.

The First Presbyterian church was crowded last evening when the pastor, Rev. F. H. Larkin, resumed his discussion on the subject of prohibition. The text was taken from Isaiah, v. 13, and the speaker dealt largely with some of the objections raised by the anti-prohibitionists. One most generally used by the friends of the church was that life was full of temptations and that the development of moral character required the use of stimulants to remove the temptation.

The speaker was surprised to see Principal Grant's name in connection with such a so-called argument. It was about as sound as it would be to arrange to have the devil at our gate every morning to engage in a contest of moral athleticism, with passivity in constant danger as the old adversary was always in fighting array.

Mr. Larkin urged strongly that Christian influence should be active against a traffic so injurious to mankind.

How the Methodist Quadrennial Conference is Legislating.

Pastors May Now be Retained Four and Even Five Years—The Transfer System.

The quadrennial Methodist conference at Toronto dealt with some large and important questions last week. The decisions show that the governing body is being forced along in broader lines by the great body of the church. The selection of the classes of the report of the superannuation fund committee, providing that, before superannuation, clergymen should be examined by a medical man, shows that one reason why the Methodists have not been supporting that fund has been because they have not had the fullest confidence in the genuineness of the claims made upon it. It is worthy of note that Rev. Dr. Dewart opposed the proposal to change the length of the pastoral term and from the text of his addresses it is quite evident that the Methodists are not all satisfied with the itinerant system as it stands. An effort was made to have the pastoral term extended to five years; it failed and the committee's report, providing that at the request of a quarterly board, expressed by a vote of three-quarters of those present, and voting by ballot, due notice of the meeting having been given that the pastoral supply will be considered thereat, the stationing committee may appoint a minister to a station for four or five years in succession, was carried. This is a concession and along the right line. At the next conference a further step should be recommended: that the same privilege be allowed to quarterly boards for the shortening of a ministerial term. Cases arise where this action would be as desirable and advisable as the other. The transfer system also came up for discussion, and from the free and fearless way in which the subject was handled by some of the speakers, some remedial legislation may surely be looked for. The conference is certainly being forced along in broader lines by the laity.
