BEALS WRIGHT VANQUISHED BY BUNDY

Newport, R. I., Aug. 24.—For the second time in his career, Beals C. Wright of Boston, today met defeat in the final round of the all-comers lawn tennis tournament and the tournament was won by Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles. Bundy defeated Wright by the scores of 6-8, 6-3, 6-8, 10-8. Tomorrow Bundy will meet Champion Wm. A. Larned, of Summit, N. J., to decide national title for the coming year. Today's match was full of excitement. Bundy went into the contest with a vigor which disconcerted the veteran Wright and in the first two sets played him almost to a standstill. In the third set, however, after Bundy almost had the match clinched by a 5-1 lead, Wright made a tremendous rally taking the set 8-6. The last set was a stubborn battle, Bundy winning on the 18th game.

LEBLANC HERO OF THE HOUR

M. LEBLANC.

Paris, Aug. 24.—M. Leblanc, who won the world's greatest cross-country aeroplane race in Europe, and incidentally annexed an assortment of prizes worth about $47,000, is going over to America this fall to compete in the Gordon Bennett air race. Leblanc, who flew 494 miles in four minutes less than 12 hours, expects to make the Wright brothers, Glenn Curtiss and the other American aviators take his aerial dust with little difficulty. Just now he is the lion of the hour in French society, and is being feted and petted as a national hero.

NOTED ENGLISH GOLFER VISITS UNITED STATES

Boston, Mass., Aug. 24.—One of the famous of the British amateur golfers, Horace Hutchinson, British amateur champion in 1886 and 1887, has been a visitor at the Myopia Hunt Club, Hamilton, the last day or two and has seen for himself the course which more than any other in America has been praised by professionals and amateurs alike who have come here from abroad the last 10 years. Mr. Hutchinson is famous both for his ability to play golf and to write it. He is a member of the Royal and Ancient Club, the Westward Ho, the Royal Liverpool, Sandwich, Ashdown Forest, the Oxford-Cambridge Golfing Society and of Biarritz, France. While it was more than a decade ago that Mr. Hutchinson last won the British championship, he has since shown himself one of the best golfers abroad, notably in 1903, when he was runner up and in 1904 and 1905 when he was put out in a close match by Walter J. Travis, of Garden City, who that year won the British amateur championship, the only time it ever was done by a golfer entering from America. In 1892 Mr. Hutchinson led the field in the British open championship on the first day's play.

Much-Touted Woodstock Team Goes to Pieces With St. Peters--Lose First and Make Score 9-9 in Ragged Second Game

FARMER BOY TURNS TRICK

The St. Peters sprung a surprise on the entire populace yesterday when they routed that famous aggregation of gymnasts on Manager Milmore's payroll, in a hard fought contest, and secured a draw in another. The exact figures in the first session was 6-4, while the count at the end of the last session stood 9-9.

A heavy mist that hung over the grounds made perfect play impossible and rendered the judging of flies difficult. The result was that some glaring errors were committed and by the players on both teams.

The Saints capped the game in the sixth inning, when Neptune, who until then had been sending up a puzzling brand of ball, was set with a fit of wildness and could not locate the plate. Then the entire infield did the aeroplane stunt; the ball was thrown about the bases, and when Harrington ended the holocaust by whipping the air the men on Coughlan's line-up had battered the run wall 6 distinct times.

Excepting for this aerial flight Chief Neptune was effective. He allowed hits in all but two innings, but tightened up when men occupied the bags.

Frank Harrington pitched his usual stellar game. He struck out but one man, but his good head work, when in tight corners, and superb fielding of his position kept the Carleton County lads well in hand throughout.

The second game was marked by heavy hitting, weird fielding, and intermittent scrapping on the part of the umpire and players.

At one time it looked as if the ump would be annihilated on the spot, but things would calm over at critical stages, and nothing serious happened.

Owing to the threatening mood of old Jupiter Pluvius there was not as large an attendance as anticipated.

There was a marked absence of fan-ness from the back pews and the cold damp fog tended to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd. The last game was a hard one on the scorers.

Players were shuffled about every inning, while the heavy dense mist made it almost impossible to clearly see the players in the outfield.

Sundry Changes. Manager Milmore used three heavies in a final desperate effort to clutch the last game, but the best of the combined efforts of the trio could do was to land a draw. Mr. Dow, one of Woodstock's own sons, started the game, but retired after one inning after one agonizing inning. Dick served 'em up until the 6th when Neptune was removed to the mound to hold the salutes on the home stretch.

It was exactly 3 o'clock when Umpire Connolly called play ball, the visitors going to bat. A lone single helped out by some kindergarten infield play by the saints, who appeared to be stage struck, sent two runs across the plate and things went rocky for our athletes. After Harrigan had grounded out in their half Mahoney smashed out a clean two bagger, but Britt hit into a lightning double play.

Woodstock was quickly retired in the second. For the St. Peters Harrington walked and McCormick hit into another doubleplay while Riley fled out to Good. Three singles and a sacrifice gave the enemy another score in the fourth while the salutes continued to draw blanks and things began to look rocky for the St. Peters' chances.

How It Happened. In the 5th however, a ray of sunshine was let it. Riley hit out a pretty single and Dever was hit by a pitched ball, Cribbs walked, filling the bases. J. McCormick failed to short-stop Harrigan got a pass forcing Riley. Mahoney hit for two bases, scoring Dever and Cribbs. Britt hit to Hughes who heaved low to lott and Harrigan and Mahoney romped home. Britt started for third which drew a wild throw from lott and the runner scored. Six runs.

Woodstock added one in the eighth on two singles and a sacrifice, but could not overcome the lead set in the fatal 6th.

After about 10 minutes' delay the second game was begun with Dow and A. Mahoney, the opposing pitchers. The saints fell upon Dow in a highly savage manner and the Woodstock heaver immediately went wild. Two hits, two passes, a fielder's choice and some surly fielding accounted for 4 runs and Mr. Dow was escorted to the mound. After this it was a see-saw contest all through, the game being tied twice, Mahoney was pounded hard but was given fairly good support while Mahoney was wild. Four hits gave the North Enders three runs in the third while four hits, a base on balls and a wild pitch sent four of Manager Milmore's men scurrying across the plate in the fifth, making the score 8 to 1. With the score tied in the sixth, Umpire Connolly called the game, the teams having agreed to play until the sixth inning. The decision of the umpire brought a big kick from the Woodstock players.

FARMER BOY TURNS TRICK

SERG. SCOTT CLARK. By C. L. Gillman.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 24.—This is the story of a farmer boy who has beaten men at a man's game. Sergt. Clark, apparently about 19, lay down with 50 others on the firing line facing the 1000-yard targets at Camp Perry to shoot for a place in the individual Tyro match—an unknown youth among 339 others who had not yet distinguished themselves at the rifle game. He rose up with a name which will be spoken everywhere by men who know and love the sport of our fathers.

While he faced the targets he drove 19 consecutive bullets through the morning mist to a three foot bulls-eye eight city blocks away.

The day before, the best that men grown gray in the sport had been able to do was to make 16 consecutive bulls-eyes when competing for the famous Wimbledon cup.

Clark was born and brought up on a farm near Columbus, Ohio. Until a year ago he had never held a high power rifle. But the healthy years on the farm told when he made his first venture among the picked hundreds of the 300,000 American rifle-men.

"Of course I have shot all my life," he says modestly. "I began with an air rifle which I was six and had a 22 when I was a boy, so I am used to the idea of shooting."

Sergt. Clark—that is his rank—now works in Indianapolis and belongs to the National Guard.
