Apohaqui

Apohaqui, Aug. 1.—The influx of the many young heroes from this village and vicinity, who have served overseas in various capacities and have been returning from time to time, since the cessation of hostilities, has been marked by welcome celebrations in many forms, though it has been arranged by the ladies of the Local Red Cross Society to give a monster picnic when all had arrived, that collectively they might be welcomed in a festive manner. The arrival of Mr. Frank Gilchrist at a recent date completes the number who have been spared to return, yet in the joyous greetings of those who have come back, are not unmarked of the brave young lives who have been sacrificed, and feelings of sadness intermingle with the demonstrations of joy. The proposed picnic, however, has been indefinitely postponed and in the interim an impromptu reception took place in the public hall on Thursday evening, under the supervision and patronage of the clergymen, the residents of the village and surrounding communities, who all entered into the function with much enthusiasm and pleasure. Of the honored guests four were returned heroes, namely, a programme of music and literary selections was well received.

Miss Currie, daughter of Hon. Wm. Currie, who is a summer guest here, delighted the large audience in the presentation of a reading from "Henry Drummond" and received a hearty encore to which she responded with a brief humorous selection.

At the conclusion of the programme, the chairman requested Rev. C. Saunders Young to make the presentations, to which the Rev. Young responded by his appreciation of being privileged to present to each of the returned heroes a purse of money, as a tangible gift for the thankfulness of the community for their heroic services to their country. Briefly, but very fittingly each of the honored young men responded, expressing their hearty appreciation of the many kindnesses received at the hands of their friends.
