ONLY ONE SCHOOL HAD ONE SESSION

Through a Mistake the Pupils of Winter St. School Were Dismissed at One O'clock.

The Winter street school put over on the other schools of the city yesterday, their scholars getting off with one session while the others had to put in two. Dr. Bridges, superintendent of schools, said it was through some mistake this happened, as the orders had been given for two sessions. He explained that one session was only supposed to be given when there was a real heavy storm raging, and this rule would be observed in all cases. A slight rain fall such as obtained yesterday was not sufficient to call for a curtailment of the school day.

Relic of The Old Fire Fighting Days

Baton Used by First Fire Police Donated to Natural History Museum by R. Jardine

A relic of the early days of the city, and the first organized force of fire fighters would be called to mind by a donation recently received by the Natural History Society for its museum, which was presented by Robert Jardine of Shediac. The relic is a baton used by the first fire police, of St. John, and formerly the property of Alexander Jardine, a grandfather of the donor, and a former member of the fire police.

The baton is painted red, and is nearly two feet long. At one end the letters "F.P." are painted in letters of gold. The baton differs from those used by the police of today, in that it is the same size at both ends, although rounded down some six inches from one end.

HARRIS GILBERT VICTIM OF DARING HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Proprietor of Second-Hand Store Assaulted in Front of Union Street Home Last Night—Injuries Necessitated His Removal to Hospital—Robbed of Money and Keys

As the result of a daring highway robbery and a murderous attack, Harris Gilbert, proprietor of Gilbert's second hand store, 24 Mill Street was conveyed to the General Public Hospital last night in a badly injured condition. Shortly after ten o'clock Mr. Gilbert closed up his place of business and accompanied by an acquaintance walked up Mill to the corner of Union Street where they conversed for some little time. When the friend left, Mr. Gilbert proceeded to his home which is at 25 Union Street. Just a few buildings from the corner of Dock street, and which sets off the street about fifty feet. It was about 10:40 when two men and he did not know of their presence until he received a severe blow and was knocked to the ground. Mr. Gilbert's daughter and a couple of friends were in the house at the time and hearing a noise went out to investigate and their presence caused the two assailants and robbers to run away. Mr. Gilbert was picked up and assisted into his home where it was found that he was bleeding freely from the wounds received and was suffering severely from shock. As well as he was able he told of being assaulted and was unable to defend himself after he received the first blow. Dr. Rowley was summoned and after rendering first aid had Mr. Gilbert removed to the General Public Hospital for further treatment. That the two men were bent on robbery and little caring what the result of the assault would be was discovered when Mr. Gilbert was taken into his home and then it was learned that the robbers had rifled his pockets and stolen some loose change as well as the keys of his store. The detective department were at once notified and on his staff immediately visited the scene and are working hard in an endeavor to locate the guilty persons. On examination being made at the hospital it was found that Mr. Gilbert had received severe injuries about the eyes, face and nose and it is thought that the nose is broken. While suffering considerably the case is not reported as being serious.

Breach in Ranks of Liberal Party

Old Party Line Liberals Not Pleased—Will Support Conservative Candidates.

That the breach in the ranks of the local Liberal party has been greatly increased since the tempestuous proceedings which marked the convention on Wednesday evening was evident yesterday from the remarks of many of the members of that party. It was very forcibly intimated that the choice of the second nominees did not meet with the approval of the old party line Liberals, a large number of whom now intend to support the Conservative party in this constituency for the first time in their lives. Strong criticism was voiced regarding the action of the gathering in going ahead with the convention in the absence of every one of the delegates from Albert county; and the rebuff handed to old political stalwarts of that county is keenly considered. At the first convention held several weeks ago, these representatives from Albert county had attended en bloc at their personal expense and at the cost of considerable time throughout the meeting then they had shown a spirit of co-operation with the delegates from the city and county of St. John in the selection of candidates. In view of this, the action of Wednesday evening's convention, in absolutely disregarding the absence of representation from Albert county, and the statement made during the proceedings that the meeting could proceed whether or not Albert county was represented, is severely denounced in certain Liberal quarters. Furthermore, it is reasoned by these members that the Liberal party can entertain no hope for success after handing out such treatment to Albert county.

During Wednesday night's meeting one of the speakers declared that he would not support the candidature of H. R. McLellan. It was further stated that Mr. McLellan had insulted every man on the streets of St. John, and the recall proceedings which were successfully instituted against Mr. McLellan when he was Constable of Public Safety were also mentioned. These matters, it is felt by several of the factions which were openly apparent at the convention, will not be forgotten by electors, and it will seriously hamper the carrying on of a campaign. Another sore spot that has been made more acute is the fact that not one of the candidates can be termed a real Liberal; and many old party men had hoped that at least one would be placed on the ticket. The failure to do so is considered by certain Liberals as detrimental to the interests of the Liberal party; and they are exceedingly disgruntled at the developments which have taken place. The criticism of the Liberal executive and committees which was appointed to place before the convention the names of candidates for second choice on the ticket was again mentioned yesterday, and the opinion seemed to be strengthened that the best thing the party could do would be to call a new convention and make a fresh start. One of the difficulties in this respect, however, appeared to be the question of the attitude which the two present nominees would take in the matter.

Fred Peterson of Millford won the side of bacon in the county store contest, weighing 17 pounds, 12 ounces. Corbett won 17 pounds 11 ounces. The fruit cake, which weighed 7 pounds 2 ounces was won by Mrs. John Cronin who guessed 7 pounds 6 ounces.
