VOL. XV.

CARLETON PLACE, C. W., JULY 12, 1865.

No. 43.

Be Kind to Each Other.

Be kind to each other.
The night's coming on,
When friend and when brother, Perchance may be gone;
Then 'midst our dejection, How sweet to have earned
The best recollection
Of kindness returned.

When duty hath departed,
And memory keeps
Her watch broken hearted, Where all the loved sleep, Let falsehood assail not,
Nor envy disprove,
Let trifles prevail not,
Against those you love.

Not change to to-morrow,
Should fortune take wing—
The deeper the sorrow,
The closer the clasp,
Be kind to each other,

"Memory's Leaves."

The wayide flowers, touched by the dew
Of morn,
A rich perfume exhale,
Refreshing sweetness, by the breezes borne,
The passer-by regale;
So "Memory's leaves," fresh with the dew
Of love,
A pure aroma breathe,
Fraught with affection's incense, such as above Angelic hearts bequeath.

But flowers may fade; not so these precious gems Through life's dark, shadowy vale, With gilded radiance they shine, as when Bliss friendship told her tale.
Time cannot bury in oblivion's shade
The life-essence of our youth; On "memory's" scroll their lineaments are made,
Faded as living truth.

A gentleman who was fond of wine said it had two bad qualities. "If I put water into it," said he, "it spoils it, if I don't it spoils me."

Philosophers say that shutting the eyes makes the sense of hearing more acute. A man was asked to see the accounts for the many dead eyes to be seen in our churches every Sunday.

Some one remarking that the dinner hour was always getting later and later, "Ay," quoth Rodgers, "it will soon end in our not dining till to-morrow."

"Ah, Jemmy," said a sympathizing friend to a man who was just too late for the train, "you did not run fast enough." "Yes I did," said Jemmy. "I ran fast enough, but I did not start soon enough."

Lady Bath, with an unbearable temper had a great deal of Lord Bath saying to her one of her passions. "Pray my dear, keep your temper," she replied, "keep my temper! I don't like it so well, and I wonder you should."

COMPLIMENTARY.—One day just as an English officer had arrived at Vienna, the empress knowing that he had seen a certain celebrated painter, asked him if it was really true that she was the most beautiful woman he had ever seen. "I thought so yesterday," he replied.

We don't sell spirits, said a law evading beer-seller, we will give you a glass, and then if you want a biscuit we will sell it to you for three ha'pence. The good creature was handed down, a stiff glass swallowed, and the landlord handed his customer a biscuit. Well, no, I think not, said the customer, you sell 'em too dear. I can get five or six of 'em for a penny any where else.

I remember says Lord Byron, Mr. Justice Gould trying a case at New York and when he had proceeded for about two hours he observed: "Here are only eleven jury-men in the box, where is the twelfth?" "Please your lordship," said one of the clerks, "he has gone away about some other business—but he has left his verdict with me!"

When Abernethy was canvassing for the office of Surgeon to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, he called upon a rich grocer. The great man, addressing him, said, "I suppose, sir, you want my vote and interest at this momentous epoch of your life."—"No, I don't," said Abernethy. "I want a pennyworth of figs, come, look sharp and wrap them up, I want to be off!"

A celebrated Parisian dandy was ordered by his physician to follow a course of sea-bathing at Dieppe. Arrived at that delicious bathing-town he ordered a machine and attendant and went in boldly into the water.
He plunged in bravely; but, in an instant after, he came up puffing and blowing.
Francis, said he, "the sea smells detestable." It will be no wonder, said the doctor, "the Cologne into the water, or I shall be suffocated!"

A Scotch lecturer undertook to explain to a village audience the word "phenomenon."
"May be a friend, ye dinna ken what a phenomenon may be. Well, then, all I tell ee, ye've seen a oon, nae doubt. Well, a oon is na a phenomenon. Ye've seen an apple tree. Well, an apple tree's na a phenomenon. But gin ye see the oon gang up the apple tree tail foremost, to put apples, that would be a phenomenon."

A former laird of Brotherton was on all occasions a man of few words. He had a favorite tame goose, and for hours together Brotherton and his silent companion sat by the fireside opposite each other. On one occasion a candidate for the representation of the county in Parliament called upon him to solicit a vote, and he begged the request with much eloquence; to all which the laird replied only by nods and smiles, without saying a word. When, however, the candidate was gone, he looked across to his goose and emphatically remarked, "I think yon windy chiel'll no tell muckle that ye and I said till him!"

A Confederate officer, who was on his way back to his home in Georgia, was out near Nashville depot yesterday. He was suddenly surprised at being surrounded by five or six negroes, who had recognized him and jumped down from their waggon to run and meet him. They were driving government teams. He recognized them as his own negroes who had followed the Federal army off. They begged him to take them back home with him, and they would be the best niggers he ever seed if he would.
Arrangements were made, and the waggon and all left on its way to the Georgia depot, and all night—Carleton Place Herald.

Strangement in Married Life.

Absorption in business and professional pursuits, perhaps, the grand cause for estrangement between married lives. In France there is a saying that "tobacco is the tomb of love"—French love. It is hard, if not impossible for two great passions to live in the heart at the same time. It is difficult to love woman and manhood, as it is to serve God and mammon. The love of man for his wife, must be the grand, enduring, all-subordinating passion of his life, or woman is defrauded of her right. The man, who, when his life is won, turns the whole interest and energy of his life into business, making that an end which should only be a means, is married only in name.
There is no sacrosanct affection like the strong love and ceaseless pursuit of money.
Turning gradually away from the quiet society of their wives, and the enjoyments of their homes, most men yield themselves to the pursuit of wealth, and in the force exercised in the acquisition of it, the calm delights of domestic life. At the close of a day's labor, they bring home weary bodies and worn minds. Nothing is saved for their homes or wives. Their evenings are staid and fretful, and the pillow of forgetfulness is vain as a release from care.—Hours at Home.

A New Detergent.

A new natural product of California possessing detergent properties is thus described by a contemporary: "A few months ago, some persons engaged in making turpentine, in Plumas county tapped some pine trees of a new species now to them. The fluid flowed abundantly, but it had a peculiar odor, and when taken to the turpentine stills in the neighborhood, nothing could be done with it.
At last it fell into the hands of a man who managed to distill the liquid, which was proved to be a new discovery. Instead of the disagreeable odor of turpentine, it has a fragrance like a citron, and is free from all noxious matter. Ten gallons of it weigh as six gallons and three quarters of pure water. It dissolves all animal and vegetable oils and leaves no stain of its own, nor does it affect any of the colors used in dyeing, and thus it is an excellent substitute for benzine, without the odor which makes the latter substance so offensive. It is also much cheaper than benzine, the new liquid is called 'Erasine,' because of its value for cleaning. It evaporates rapidly and leaves no residue, but it is more expensive than coal oil. This novel product of California is now in market."

A fatal accident occurred on the Great Western Railway near Capetown, on the 30th ult. A man, aged about sixty-five years, who was not known, got on the accommodation train from Hamilton to Detroit, and on arriving at Capetown, he got off the cars and went into the station, but, before he returned, the cars had left.
He then started on foot along the line, and by the time he had walked about three quarters of a mile, the day express train came thundering along behind. The engineer, perceiving a man ahead, promptly whistled "down brakes" and continued whistling without attracting the old man's attention, who was struck by the cow-catcher and hurled over an embankment, a height of thirty feet. The train was immediately stopped and backed up to the place, where the poor man's brains were found scattered over the track, himself lying dead in the ditch, his head being smashed to a jelly, and his clothes torn to shreds. The body was brought on the cars to Dundas, where an inquest on it was to be held.

It is stated on good authority that the Porte has transferred the whole of the seaboard of Abyssinia to Egypt. This is an important concession, and may inaugurate a new line of policy towards the neighboring territories of King Theodore. Hitherto the jurisdiction of the Egyptian Viceroy on the western shore of the Red Sea has been confined to the coast between Suaz and Ras Hail, in 21 deg. north latitude. Further, the report that the French had obtained formal treaty possession of Obokh is confirmed.

The Toronto Leader states that Mr.
Baby, of Sandwich, and Mr. Berthelot, of Milwaukee, manager of the Great Manitoulin Oil Company went up by the steamer "Algonia" from Collingwood, in order to commence operations in mining with them a number of men, a quantity of machinery, and provisions for six months. Oil has been discovered on Strawberry Island, one of the Manitoulin group. From the indications, it is said, Manitoulin promises to be one of the richest oil fields in Canada.

THE LATE FIRE AT BRANTFORD.—The aggregate losses by the recent fire at Brantford will not foot up so heavily as at first supposed; the total will not be over $75, 000, and perhaps not quite so much. The Royal loss about $15,000, the Western about $4,000, and the Great Mutual $4,000.
Several of the sufferers have again opened business.

Mexican affairs continue to wear a most unpromising appearance. There is a jealousy between the French and the Austrian troops, precluding any harmonious action, bands of guerrillas are moving through the country, and increasing the general mistrust of empire. American emigrants are reinforcing Juarez.

The London "Free Press" learns that an attempt was made to rescue the Malahide raiders from the gal at St. Thomas, on Tuesday morning. Fortunately the galer, Mr. King, was awakened by their noise before any demonstration was made.
A revolver was discharged at them, and, taking the alarm, they all ran off.

A young man living in Cleveland shot his mother with a pistol, on Friday, about says the Herald, he was upbraiding him with regard to his marriage with a woman to whom she was opposed.

The Poles in the Grand Duchy of Posen are growing every day more dissatisfied with Prussian rule. The emigration from that province to America has largely increased during the present year.

It is probable that Secretary Seward and Stanton will soon leave the cabinet.
Preston King is mentioned as Stanton's successor.

The Detroit Tribune says: "It is probably true that the number of fugitives who flee to the Commercial Convention will be somewhere between 250 and 300."

tions were presented and read.

sion, to cutting down a hill on the road leading from Lanark village to amount of labour for the same object from the division of which the petitioners are residents.

Mr. Mathie gave notice of his intention to move a resolution of Resolution of Council, of date 10th December, 1864, in relation to the amount charged by Mr.
Campbell, for fencing, in pursuance of said resolution.

Affleck, That the extent of fence built by Mr.
Campbell, in pursuance of the resolution of Council of date 10th Decemr. 1864, be ascertained to be 2 acres and 40 yards; and it appears to this Council that $12.60 is sufficient to construct such an extent of fence, and likewise material therefor, and

WM. SCOTT,
Town Clerk.

Railway Accident at Cornwall.

Cornwall, June 28.—On Saturday night, just after the night express train had passed Lancaster, a party of seven men, in the employ of the Grand Trunk Company, had occasion to go to Lancaster for provisions; they took a hand-car belonging to the company, and when returning, they were in contact with a special train; for which they had been waiting for some time before they started. The collision killed four of the number, the names of whom are; S. Curry, E. Sutherland, J. A. Thelwell and P. Dougherty.
The coroner's inquest was held on the bodies, and several witnesses were examined, when the jury returned a verdict that the accident resulted from carelessness on the part of the men; that they had no right whatever to take the hand-car belonging to the company, except on business before any demonstration was made.
All blame then was thrown on the special train, as they had been properly "tagged," and it was not from any carelessness on their part that the accident occurred.

On the 22nd June an accident of a pallial character occurred at New Port, on the Grand River. A promising young man named McLennan was kicked by a horse in the abdomen, and died in consequence on the following day.

The Halifax Reporter says that Sir Edward Cunard, Bart., who has for some years resided in Jersey city, as agent for the New York line of Cunard steamers, has assumed the position of the late deceased General, and will be henceforth the head of the house.
Sir Edward will, for the time, come, take his residence in England. Mr. Franklin, a grandson of the late Sir General, is agent to the agency of the New York line. The agency at Halifax will remain as before.

Arrival of the "China."

Cape Race, July 2, via Ashby Bay, 3rd.
The steamer "China," from Liverpool on Saturday afternoon, June 24th, via Queenstown on Sunday the 25th, passed this point at eight o'clock this morning on route to Halifax and Boston.

The steamer "Trentonia," from New York, arrived on the 23rd.

The steamships "Perla" and "Helvetia," from New York, arrived on the 23rd.

The general political news is meagre and unimportant.

The advices from America by the "Perla" caused a decline in American securities.

THE ATLANTIC.—The English papers are unusually silent on American affairs.

The whole 2,300 miles of the Atlantic Telegraph cable was on board the "Great Eastern," and as soon as the balance of the paying-out machinery was put up, the telegraph fleet would sail for Valentia, and it was hoped before the day of the 10th.

It is a United States Government steamship that will probably leave Valentia on the 10th of July, and arrive at Heart's Content, Trinity Bay, about the 24th of July.

The Directors of the Company have decided on the following uniform tariff between all points of the United States and British North America:—

To Great Britain, twenty pounds sterling for 20 words or less, and one pound for each additional word.

To the Continent of Europe, twenty-one pounds for 20 words, and one pound one shilling for each additional word.

To Asia and Africa, twenty-five pounds for 20 words, and one pound five shillings for each additional word.

The address, date and
