

Especial stress is laid on the importance of Honour in the relations of the boys towards their Masters, and also among themselves.

Particular attention is paid to the manners and deportment of the boys ; politeness in speech, and deference in behavior towards seniors and superiors, being especially emphasized.

A careful and thorough education is given to each pupil ; special attention being devoted to boys who are backward.

Religious Instruction forms an important part of the School curriculum. The work of each day begins with Prayers and Bible Reading ; and the first lesson in the morning session is devoted to the study of Scripture History. Resident Pupils in company with a Master attend the Church of England service twice on Sunday ; but in the case of boys who belong to other denominations, arrangements are made for them to attend their own Church.

No Boy is admitted into the School, or after admission is retained in it, whose character is considered to be detrimental to the moral interests of the other pupils.

All boys are encouraged to take part in the School Sports: Cricket, Football and Hockey being played according to the season of the year. Regular classes in Gymnastics and Calisthenics are held under the direction of a properly qualified Instructor, and every effort is made to produce in each boy a strong and vigorous physique.

A large and well equipped carpenter's shop (for resident pupils only) under the direction of a thoroughly qualified carpenter, affords excellent Manual Training, a form of recreation much enjoyed by the pupils.

Boys are prepared for the Universities, the Royal Military College and Business Life.

In the Preparatory class for very young boys, the early elements of Reading, Writing and Arithmetic are taught under the direction of a Lady Instructor. This Class, which meets in the morning only, is intended as a preparation for the regular classes of the school.
