- September 28, Same to the same. Had sent report of his having sent a strong reinforcement under Sir John Johnson to assist the Six Nations. Sends copy of letter from Bolton respecting the advance of the enemy into the country of the Indians, who are retiring in confusion and despair. The object of the enemy seems to be to unite against Niagara, which they may reach unless the reinforcement should rouse the Indians. Is not afraid of Niagara if no accident happens to Sir John Johnson, as it will be well garrisoned and provisioned, the only fear of provisions being on account of the numerous Indians flocking in for protection. The sole trust this year is in the few troops, and provisions will be hurried forward, the more so as there has been a failure at Detroit as well as throughout the Province, so that should any misfortune befall the fleet of victuallers, or a part of it, he would be reduced to the last difficulties to subsist the troops. If he (Clinton) should send a reinforcement, hopes he will send also provisions. The necessity of having a strong post at Oswego to preserve the upper country; the difficulty owing to want of provisions, which has also prevented him from raising a body of Canadians. The impossibility of co-operating this fall with Clinton, owing to the loss of the strong detachment he was obliged to send to the upper country; they were the picked troops, and he cannot trust the Germans, who constantly desert. Arrival of Major Rogers and his officers; his scheme to raise men in this Province cannot succeed, none of the new levies being yet completed; the Royal Emigrants have sent to Newfoundland and other quarters to fill up; further reasons why the proposal cannot be carried out. Asks that Lieutenant John McDonell of the 84th, now with Butler, be allowed to remain with him for the present, retaining his rank. 103
