

The receipts for last year were $2,428, including a balance of $916.11 from last year, and the expenditure $1,124.84.

The thanks of the Association are due to the Governments of the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia for grants in aid of the work of the Association, and also to the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior for providing for the publication of the Annual Report and other services.

It is only right that mention should be made of the work of Miss Robinson of the Forestry Branch, who though not on the recognized official staff of the Association, has rendered efficient service in the keeping of the Treasurer's books and in many other ways.

PUBLICATIONS.

The Canadian Forestry Journal has been published throughout the year as a quarterly and it is hoped that it has been satisfactory to the Association. It is desirable that the Annual Meeting should consider this question of the official organ carefully and fully. If the Journal could be issued more frequently its usefulness would be largely increased, and as the present editor has submitted his resignation, it is well to consider if the time has not arrived when provision might be made for an editor and business manager who could devote the greater part of his time to this and similar duties.

In addition to the Forestry Journal, the Association would find it of advantage to issue a series of bulletins for the information of the public and also to supply material to papers and news agencies. Despite all that has been done, there are large circles of public opinion still untouched and it will require persistent and constant effort to thoroughly reach all classes and all parts of the Dominion.

A well edited paper, with a large list of subscribers and frequent publication could, with good business management, obtain an income from advertising that would go far to make it self-supporting. For this purpose a managing editor, who can give most of his time to the work, is a necessity.

The Sixth Annual Report containing the papers and proceedings of the last Annual Meeting was published and distributed as usual. This report serves a special and useful purpose, but it may be considered whether the papers might not appear in the Forestry Journal if publication is made more frequently.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.

After the last Annual Meeting the Board of Directors appointed the following Vice-Presidents:—

Prince Edward Island, Rev. A. E. Burke; Nova Scotia, Hon. J. W. Longley; New Brunswick, His Honour J. B. Snowball;
