

What I Would Be

Or I would be a captive's dove,
Returning with a song of love.
Oh! I'd be all in nature bright
That swells the soul or joys the sight;
Yet let me be the least, small thing
That comfort to one heart can bring,
Now, shall I say what more I'd be?
Anything—beloved by thee!