Partly Relating to Canada.

of Greater Britain. By Sir Charles Dilke. Canada—Australasia—South Africa—India—Crown Colonies—Colonial Problems—Imperial Defence—etc., etc. With Maps. 12mo., cloth, $4.50.

"We must be content in a final sentence to recommend Sir Charles Dilke's volumes, in which the impulse of an ardent patriotism and the conclusions of a sagacious statesmanship are as conspicuous as their great literary ability."—Saturday Review.

"Sir Charles Dilke's very able book. . . . To deal adequately with a book so stuffed with facts and occupied with so vast a variety of subjects is utterly impossible even in the course of two notices. All we can do is to fasten upon one or two of the most interesting features."—Spectator.

"The book is a veritable encyclopedia of the Empire, whilst the comments on the vast array of facts are solid and pregnant."—London Truth.

"This work . . . takes rank at once with Prof. Bryce's 'American Commonwealth,' and the two together are contributions to the literature of political science of almost inestimable value. Sir Charles Dilke is a political thinker of acknowledged reputation, and among English statesmen he has been long distinguished for the interest he has taken in and his knowledge of colonial affairs."—The Week, Toronto.

Greater Britain. By Sir Charles Dilke. A Record of Travel in English Speaking Countries—United States, Canada, Australasia, India, etc. Illustrated. Crown 8vo, $2.00.

A Social Departure: HOW ORTHODOXIA AND I WENT ROUND THE WORLD BY OURSELVES. By Sara Jeannette Duncan (Garth Grafton). With 111 illustrations by F. H. Townsend. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, $2.00—English edition, $2.50.

"The reader who does not have 'a good time' over 'A Social Departure' must have a blunted appreciation of fun and pluck. . . . There is not a dull page in it. . . . The story is told with wonderful dash and cleverness, and the illustrations are as good as the text."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

"A bright and pleasant book. . . . We have not seen for a long time any sketches more truly artistic, more picturesque, more life-like, more delicately humorous, more full of pathos and tones of beauty."—London Daily News.

"We have not found a dull page in the book; on each there is plenty of colour and movement, while many of the descriptions have a haunting beauty which will linger in the memory."—The Globe.

The New History of Canada. By the Rev. William Parr Gresswell, M.A. (Oxon). Compiled under the auspices of the Royal Colonial Institute. Crown 8vo, with 11 capital maps, $2.50.

This is the first of a series of volumes dealing with the history, constitution and development of the self-governing Dependencies of Great Britain. The Dominion is considered as an advanced and fully developed type of British Colonial life. This narrative aims at showing historical cause and effect, and is written from the standpoint of one who regards British North America as the most notable portion of a vast Colonial Empire between all parts of which mutual knowledge and sympathy should exist.
