We are offering Special Bargains in Shorthorns just now. The Reason is that we have a Large Stock and Feed is Scarce. Most of you know the Kind of Cattle we have, so that it is useless repeating the usual formula. In order to Reduce Our Stock, so that we may be able to pull through the winter, we Will Sell at Prices which will Well Repay the Purchaser who has feed to keep them until spring. We have pretty nearly anything You want. If you can not come to see, write and tell us as nearly as possible what it is, and we will frankly tell you whether or not we can supply.

Lost Strayed or Stolen—One Cow

That is about what happens each year for the man who owns five cows and does not use a Tubular cream separator. He loses in cream more than the price of a good cow. The more cows he owns the greater the loss. This is a fact on which Agricultural Colleges, Dairy Experts and the best Dairymen all agree, and so do you if you use a Tubular. If not, it's high time you did. You can't afford to lose the price of one or more cows each year—there's no reason why you should. Get a Tubular and get more and better cream out of the milk save time and labor and have warm sweet skimmed milk for the calves. Don't buy some cheap rattle-trap thing called a separator; that won't do any good. You need a real skimmer that does perfect work, skims clean, thick or thin, hot or cold; runs easy; simple in construction; easily understood. That's the Tubular and there is but one Tubular, the Sharples Tubular. Don't you want our little book "Business Dairymen," and our Catalog A.12 both free? A postal will bring them.

THE SPICE OF LIFE.

The Wife.—Fancy, John, they are getting out a woman's dictionary. I wonder if it's any different from the others.

The Husband.—Probably has more words in it.

"Coming home on the Minnetonka," says a traveller, "we took up a collection for the widows and orphans of sailors, and Mark Twain prefaced this collection with a talk on meanness. He urged us to be generous in our offerings—not to be like a certain mean old man from Hannibal."

"The meanest man I ever knew," he said, "lived in Hannibal. He sold his son-in-law the half of a very fine cow, and then refused to share the milk with the young fellow, on the ground that he had only sold him the front half. The son-in-law was also compelled to provide all the cow's fodder and to carry water to her twice a day. Finally, the cow butted the old man through a barbed-wire fence and he sued his son-in-law for fifty dollars damages."

They had just met; conversation was somewhat fitful. Finally he decided to guide it into literary channels, where he was more at home, and, turning to his companion, asked:

"Are you fond of literature?"

"Passionately," she replied. "I love books dearly."

"Then you must admire Sir Walter Scott," he exclaimed with sudden animation. "Is not his 'Lady of the Lake' exquisite in its flowing grace and poetic imagery? Is it not—"

"It is perfectly lovely," she assented, clasping her hands in ecstasy. "I suppose I have read it a dozen times."

"And Scott's 'Marmion,'" he continued, "with its rugged simplicity and marvellous description—one can almost smell the heather on the heath while perusing its splendid pages."

"It is perfectly grand," she murmured.

"And Scott's 'Peveril of the Peak' and his noble 'Bride of Lammermoor'—where in the English language will you find anything more heroic than his grand old Scottish characters and his graphic, forceful pictures of feudal times and customs? You like them, I am sure."

"I just dote upon them," she replied.

"And Scott's 'Emulsion,'" he continued, hastily, for a faint suspicion was beginning to dawn upon him.

"I think," she interrupted, "that it's the best thing he ever wrote."

SHORT SERMONS BOILED DOWN.
