

Sealed air-tight. Fresh and delicious.

THE RADIO DETECTIVE _____

BY ARTHUR B. REEVE.

NO ADMITTANCE

CHAPTER XVIII.-(Cont'd.)

CHAPTER XVIII.---(Cont'd.) Ken restrained his criticism. This was like a girl. But it was a bit of a clew to him. He began searching about in the air, as it were, on a chance of pulking something down. It might have been perhaps half an hour of patient waiting and adjusting when Ken suddenly, twisting a knob, heard his own name called from the level space.

of the dock. The workmen were very heinful to the boy and girl and quite surprised. Some of them had radies. They knew of the case. They had had a chance and had not known it. It goes to show how necessary it is always to have one's eyes open. It was not long before, cleaned up a bit and rested, Ken and Ruth started away safely in the car, sadder and wiser.

ething on Ken's mir There was something on Ken's mind now and it was the first time he had been alone and had a chance to ask it. "Ruth," he began, "I'd like to know. What about those racing debts that 1 heard from Hank—and that stuff I heard from Hank—and that stuff I heard over at the Blue Rooster Are you really gambling, Ruth?" "Of course not, Ken. I don't gamble."

gamble." Ken was watching her face care-fully. He must believe Ruth. Yet he knew it was not the whole truth. "But, Ruth. do any of the others?" "Ken," she turned to him, "do you think it is fair to me to tell what others are doing? Isn't that up to them?" "Well wes" agreed Ken rejuctantly.

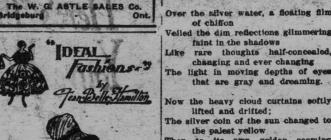

TR B. REEVE. Ken and Ruth pulled up at the shore entrance to the coal dock. Under the huge sign was another in red which warned: them?" "Well, yes," agreed Ken reluctantly. "But it all seems so strange to me. Someone loses a lot of money gambl-ing. Then comes that robbery at the house, and mother loses her emeralds and you lose the pearls that had be-must be some connection. I can't figure it out."

"I can't either, Ken. But you'll "I can't either, by asking me to

<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text>

nev for Ford Own

The silver coin of the sun changed to the palest yellow Then to its own golden seeming against the soft blur of the lifted and drifted:

of chiffon

Smoky wisps of chiffon, lightly curling and chinging seed the quiet face of the silvery slumberous water, they scattered in fading loops before the first wind of the Can Then

"Dawn Over the Ridean."

morning That swept a pathway of rippling gleams down the water's shin ing ribbon, Blowing them lightly away through the open gates of the morning Where e was the pearly dawn with her heavy necklace of silver? Trailing diaphanous robes through the lovelyl eaves of the maple

She had gracefully swept away as the brilliant September sunshine Gave to the shimmering, full-blown

Capacity of 122 curic inches. The discovery of this huge skull in a present-day native is claimed by some anthropologists to strengthen the theory that Africa was the cradle of and stretched over a wire lampshade

Pears Are Popular.

It may surprise many to learn that pears are the most popular of the fruits put up by Canadian Canning Companies. Latest statistics show Companies. Latest statistics show that over twice as many cases of pears ($00,000) are marketed as compared to apples, (135,000) and over three times as many as compared to peach-ies, (85,000). Plums and cherries come next in popular favor with 60,000 and 50,000 cases respectively.

A New Lake.

That the Northern interior of Cana da still offers many a thrill to the ex-plorer is indicated by the fact that enphoter is indicated by the fact that en-gineers from the Department of the Interior in their field work of last year ran across a lake 150 miles long which had never been shown on a map before. There are some vast tracts untrodden by the white man, that offer their challenge to the adventurer and explorer

Have a Care for Color.

Man has apparently become careless about one of the most important items in his environment-color. As soon as he realizes fully the inhibitive and repressive influence of drab, .un interesting color surroundings, the vistas about will be immediately trans-formed. Man has always conquered or changed conditions unfavorable to his best development. There is no reason to believe that he will not rise to the the present situation and rein-state into his daily life the color which is so important to his well being.

Minard's Liniment for tootha

Novel Lamp Shadeds.

White cambric of good qual painte stretched on a frame and painted black, can be decorated with birds or dock. Everywhere about the dock was activity. There was no loafing on these jobs. Thus it was that when the noon whistle suddenly blew there was no delay in stopping work. The men were tired and hungry. Still it was a good job, for the salt breezes off the Sound made it as good a place as any to do heavy work in the summer. Be sides, that lunch hour was a prized and sought out a shady spot on the docks and there enjoyed the breezes in cars and boats to enjoy. Full of the urgency of their mission

Good taste and good health demand sound teeth and sweet breath

The use of Wrigley's chewing gum after every meal takes care of this important item of personal hygiene in a delightful, refreshing way - by clearing the teeth of food particles and by helping the digestion.

The result is a sweet breath that shows care for one's self and con-sideration for others - both marks of refinement. Ask for CG38

ISSUE No. 40-'26.

Good Place for a Bite.

"We might try this cafe; but the roprietor's a cur, does nothing but "Ought to be a good place to get a bite then.

Sweet Autumn.

CHAPTER XIX. Bruised and blackened by the coal as it was dropping down on them and they scrambled to avoid it, Ken and Ruth did their best to call for help. But no one heard. When winter turns to spring. Birds that were songless make their songs resound. Flow'rs that were flow'rless the ground;

Ruth did their best to call for help. But no one heard. However, it was one of their en-emies who saw. He had climbed a trestle to get a better view of the whole of the Bayles' coal dock and shippard, hoping thereby to locate the hiding boy and girl. From his van-tage point the thug had caught a glimpse of them in the coal car fran-tically seeking safety. He waved his arms to the other two thugs and soon all were swooping down to rescue Ken and Ruth for things worse to come. Just as the three thugs scrambled over to capture Ken and Ruth the en-gineer and the workmen waked up to what was going on almost under their noses. They were rough and dirty but they were good honest fellows with families at home. It was only an in-stant when the workmen dropped their tasks and rna to the help of Ruth and Ken. Yet 'tis no perfect thing I cannot walk, so tangled is each hill; So thick the herbs I cannot pluck my growl.

fill But in the autumn tide I cull the scariet leaves and low them dear. And let the green leaves stay

No time so sweet as that, away away!

Autumn's the time I fain would keep alway. Translated from the Japanese of Ohogimi, by Bisil Hall Chamber-lain. tasks and rna to the help of Ruth and Ken. The fight as the workmen converg-ed was short and sharp. "Take that, you big bruiser!" One of the workmen hauled off with a sock on the jaw to the thug nearest him that sent him sprawling. It was a good fight but it was a Become Beauty Cialist Tor NG ACADEMY Classes now forming for Boring term Write for Booklet detertbing SP Breach Scheel, MAMILTON, ONT. 187 Avenue Bood, TONDATO E, ONT.

munity

Speaking of the popularization of physical culture, Sir W. Arbuthnot Lane, president of the New Health Society, in Great Britain, recently wrote in a letter to the editor of the London Morning Advertiser:

"Thus far we have been very large ly concentrating our teaching upon the first of these two rules of living; what we now propose to do is to com bine with this teaching of correct diet suggestions for the adequate daily exercise of the human body. "Of these I need at present, say, nothing more than that we do not view favor that current tendency with which is causing the modern girl to ape the modern boy; that other which is tempting all of us to forego the an cient use of our own limbs. "At the moment our ladies' council are forming an influential sub-commit tee on the subject, and during the present month we hope to present a selected course of phonograph exercises at an inaugural meeting, which we anticipate will be followed up by others in the many centres through out Great Britain, where the Health Society is attracting to itself. a host of friends.

This letter is quoted merely to show another of the many uses to which the phonograph is put in the interests of humanity at large.

Radicals.

Diner-"These sardines are terrible!" Walter-"But they're imported, sir. Diner-"Well, they ought to be de-ported, every one of them."

Minard's Liniment for bruises.

No Boiling - No Rubbing Just Rinse with Rinso

A package of Rinso is a package of miniature soap bubbles.

You simply dissolve for 25 seconds the tiny bubbles in hot water, soak the clothes a couple of hours, or over. night, rinse them well in clean water and-that's all.

Result-clean, sweet-smelling clothes, hours of time saved and the hand work changed to just rinsing.

Rinse dissolves the dirt, you rinse it out.

You will never know how easy it is to do the washing until you've used Rinso, the greatest time and labour saver the housewife has ever known.

