PRESTON IN, JURY OUT

Former Kept Latter From Participating in N. A. T. Co.

Alf. Jury's Belief Is That Preston Was Connected With Both North Atlantic Trading Co. and the Leopold Agency—Racy Evidence Given by Jury Before the Agriculture Committee at Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 2.—As a measure of precaution, to offset the possibility that W. T. R. Preston might sail away with his trunk full of papers, F. D. Monk moved when the agriculture committee assembled yesterday morning, that the secretary notify the commissioner to stay. The motion carried.

A. F. Jury, the Liverpool agent, was appointed, he said, in May, 1897, with $1,800 a year and expenses. His present salary is $2,000 and expenses. The Government paid a 7 shilling bonus per head on immigrants intending to work the land.

The bonus was never paid to Government agents. The bonus now is not paid till the emigrant gets to Canada, and is passed upon by the superintendent of immigration.

Mr. Preston received funds from Ottawa to pay for the booking agents in bonuses. Jury knew of no instance in which Preston had not paid the money over.

Mr. Monk asked for Jury's opinion as to the probable results if the Government ceased paying a bonus.

"It would result in considerable diminution," was his answer.

Preston and N. A. T. Co.

Jury first heard of the North Atlantic Trading Co. in the summer of 1897, when Preston came to Liverpool and talked to Mr. Mitchell, who was in charge of the office work there, and talked of the formation of a syndicate. Subsequently there came a letter from the N. A. T. Co., an impertinent letter, directing the Government's agents to forward all continental immigration enquiries.

When the contract went into effect there were complaints from open companies, from steamship companies who felt that they were being deprived of the results of years of advertising.

There was, Jury thought, an agreement between Sol Salinger and the N. A. T. Co. as to what Salinger was to get for working for the company. On one occasion Salinger was dining for money, and Preston sent him his private cheque.

"Preston was acting for the N. A. T. Co.," asked Chisholm of Antigonish.

The answer was: "So he says." Col. Sam Hughes expressed his understanding that any mention of Canada in connection with immigration on the continent would mean imprisonment.

"Don't you believe it," said Jury. Duncan Ross wanted to know whom Jury thought Preston was acting for in employing and paying Salinger.

"For himself," said Jury.

Jury couldn't get in.

Mr. Monk wanted to know about the N. A. T. Co. Jury hadn't much information.

"They wouldn't let me in," he said. "Who wouldn't?"

"Preston."

Jury said he had written applying to get in.

Mr. Monk invited Jury to tell about his trouble with Preston. Jury began by saying that Preston on going to London found his powers being exercised by Mr. Comber, secretary of the High Commissioner.

Jury and Mitchell in Liverpool gave Preston certain information about unused pamphlets, by word of mouth, and Preston wrote to Mitchell in a confidential letter, asking for the same information in writing. Mitchell refused, and Preston wrote again, but was refused.

Jury produced a letter from an Allan steamship agent in Norway, one Bennett, stating that Preston had appointed two N. A. T. agents in that country.

Not Judge and Jury.

"If," said Chisholm, "Preston states that he is not connected with the company, you would not sit in judgment on him?"

"I wouldn't believe him, of course." To this Mr. Jury added: "I wouldn't believe him on oath."

Chisholm asked about the dangers of carrying on an immigration propaganda on the continent. Jury held up both hands. "All this talk," said he, "is nonsense. Mr. Preston knows there is no one better able to beat the laws of these countries than the steamship agents who have been doing it all their lives."

Since then it had been said that in Liverpool he had talked of the Preston situation to all Canadian M. P.'s, etc., who came along. He had talked to Mr. Fleiding and Mr. Fisher.

Carvell asked about the letters taken from the Ennis office in Liverpool, Jury said he went and took the letters when Ennis did not see, but they were just close so I could reach forward and get them.

"You say that Ennis was a party?"

"I do." Jury went on to say that he had a "great itching" to get letters in which Preston was declaring an open war against the trades unions of Canada, and he wanted, he admitted, to make a point against Preston.

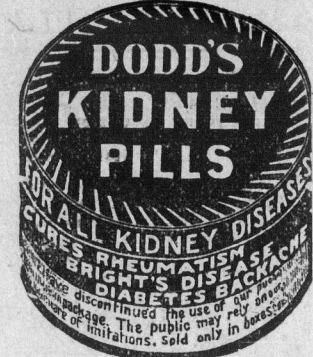

Ennis had put the letters in an envelope, the envelope in a pigeonhole, and had then turned his back to both Jury and the correspondence. Jury took the letters. He got the letters copied and also photographed, and returned them.

All Thought Preston in It.

He believed Preston was connected with both the N. A. T. Co. and the Leopold Agency.

"I have known Preston," said Jury, for many years, and my suspicions were aroused when Preston talked about organizing a syndicate. I smelled a mouse.

"I saw the hand of Preston all through in the appointment of Salinger, the instructions to your agents, and I have proof that he went to the continent and appointed the agents of the N. A. T. Co. I never spoke to a steamship man about this contract who had not the idea that Preston was financially interested in it. These men are not fools. When their business was taken away they began to enquire."

Mr. Macdonald of Pictou asked: "You would make the people of Canada believe, if possible, that Preston is connected with the company?"

"I don't think it's necessary. I think they are already convinced."

This riled the Pictou member, who proclaimed his inclination to take no impudence from a paid servant of the Government.

Carvell, of Carleton, N. B., roused the wrath of Mr. Monk by referring to Jury as his witness. Carvell suggested that Monk had spent two hours with Jury yesterday, arranging for questions and answers.

"That," said Monk, "is not the case." Carvell asked Jury, who said he had talked with Monk for about ten minutes, and that he had asked Monk to ask questions. "I had asked Government members to put them, and they wouldn't promise. I asked Mr. Maclean of Nova Scotia, Macdonald and Chisholm."

"And Mr. Chisholm," said that gentleman jumping up, "told you the Government members wanted all the facts."

"Like the man looking for work and praying to God he wouldn't find it," retorted Jury.

Eat What You Like

Don't Starve or Diet, but Use Mi-o-na, and Cure Your Stomach Troubles.

The average treatment of stomach trouble consists of a rigid diet, which often half starves the patient. Of course it would be foolish for anyone who knows that some foods are positively harmful and poisonous to continue eating them, even while following the M-i-o-na treatment, but in ordinary cases of stomach troubles it is not necessary to starve or diet if Mi-o-na is faithfully used, a tablet before each meal.

This scientific remedy for the cure of stomach troubles acts upon the whole digestive system, and strengthens the organs so that they are able to digest any food that is eaten without fear of distress. If you suffer from loss of appetite, belching of gases, sour taste in the mouth, furled tongue, severe pains in the region of the stomach, depression of spirits, bad dreams, lack of energy, headaches, backaches, loss of strength and weight, you can be assured that these troubles are all due to imperfect digestion.

Strengthen the stomach by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal, and soon you will gain in weight, strength will return, and your food will give nourishment so that the rich red blood will try good health to every part of your system.

Mi-o-na costs but 50 cents a box. If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a reliable stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Mob Members Jailed.

Charlotte, N. C., June 2.—Thirteen members of the mob which early on Monday morning lynched John V. Johnson at Wadesboro, N.C., are in jail at that place without privilege of bail, the charge being murder.

NO SATISFACTION IN EATING.

Food does you no good. You can't digest—consequently you're afraid to eat; tongue is coated, mouth tastes bad, stomach is bloated. Pretty soon you'll be overcome by weakness and nervous prostration.

Best prescription for your condition is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur. For dyspepsia and indigestion it is doubtful if a better remedy will ever be devised. These pills bring new strength and vitality to the stomach and digestive organs; they build up the general health and instill such vim and re-energizing power into the system that sickness is impossible; try Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Henrik Ibsen Buried.

Christiania, Norway, June 2.—The body of Henrik Ibsen, the Norwegian poet and dramatist, was buried here yesterday in the midst of every demonstration of popular sorrow.

COXIN MANY CONCERNS

Senator Outlines the Field of His Investments.

Admits That Hyde's Fate Is Before His Eyes In Preventing One-Man Control —Built Up the Imperial Life For His Son to Manage Instead of Securing Him a Position With the Canada Life—Stock Investment.

Toronto, June 2.—Senator Cox was again on the stand all day yesterday before the Insurance Commission, except for a short time at the beginning when Cox, Macdonald of Confederation Life corrected some incorrect impressions from his evidence about New Zealand insurance.

Cox Could Wait.

Senator Cox, president of the Canada Life, succeeded Col. Macdonald on the stand, having waited for the opening of the court.

"It's very desirable to know in advance who's going to vote," was his candid confession when asked about the twenty days' notice required from policyholders for their proxies.

The amount of interest policyholders took in the proxy business varied considerably, according to the Senator. In 1900, out of 6,500 policyholders 1,905 proxies were sent in. This was the first year proxies were in force. In 1902, 7,330 policyholders only contributed 266 proxies. In 1906, 8,800 policyholders sent in 768 proxies. This increase in the number was due to the increased interest in life insurance, following the United States investigation.

Force of Public Opinion.

That public opinion prevents a man from acting in his own interests, was the burden of one portion of the Senator's evidence, yesterday. He gave as an instance what happened when he wanted to get his son in the insurance business. He wanted him to be manager of the Imperial Life. So he himself acquired holdings.

"A perfectly patriotic and natural thing," he said.

"Partly patriotic and partly to occupy a profitable field," suggested Mr. Shepley.

"Yes, sir. My son was desirous of entering the insurance field and I used my influence to put him on the staff of the Canada Life, what would the public have said?"

"Well, just about what they have been saying."

"Yes, sir, but they would have said it with greater force."

What happened to Hyde in the Equitable in New York was another example the Senator gave of the force of public opinion.

He Sold Out.

The witness gave details of the transaction between himself and Mr. Gooderham regarding the Manufacturers' Life and Temperance and General. Senator Cox held considerable stock in the Temperance and General and a small share in the Manufacturers'. He was indignant when he found Mr. Gooderham, who had a controlling interest in the Manufacturers', had also acquired a controlling interest in the Temperance and General. He entered into negotiations to amalgamate the Imperial, the Temperance and General, and the Manufacturers'. But the actuary of the Imperial reported adversely, and he sold out his stock in the two companies.

In Many Companies.

The companies Senator Cox was connected with, mentioned by him yesterday morning, were: Canada Life, National Trust, Central Canada, Dominion Securities, Temperance & General, Dominion Iron & Steel, Manufacturers', Imperial, Dominion Coal, Provident, Investment, Toronto Savings & Loan, Electrical Development, Sao Paulo.

Sensor Cox denied control of the Canadian General Electric or of the Hamilton Loan or Provident Loan Co. The Canada Life has invested in the Dominion Coal Co., Dominion Iron & Steel Co., Dominion Rolling Stock Co., and the Cape Breton Railway Stock Co., and the Electric Development Co.

Stock Investments.

At the afternoon session the aim of Mr. Shepley was to show that the Canada Life had been going into stock investment, and this line will be continued on Monday morning.

Mr. Cox admitted that the Central Canada and the Dominion Securities are practically one and the same. They are different corporations, but their interests are identical. Mr. Shepley was asking about the purchase of Dominion Coal by individuals connected with the companies. Mr. Cox said there was a lot of dealing in Montreal and in Toronto.

Borrowing on Policies.

"If a man hadn't the money to buy the stock, couldn't he take out a policy in the Canada Life and borrow money on it?" Mr. Shepley asked.

Mr. Cox replied that a policy in the Canada Life was good security, and Mr. Shepley went into a lot of detail following the question, but the Senator held his ground, and then Mr. Shepley shifted to the $500,000 handed over to the Dominion Securities for Dominion Coal. There was a credit on Jan. 31 in the Bank of Commerce of $10,000 and $2,500 in the Nova Scotia Bank. At the end of February these credits were turned into debits—$75,000 in the Bank of Commerce and $18,000 in the Bank of Nova Scotia. The insurance department of the Canada Life handed over to the investment department $181,000. This information was collected from the books.

Used Its Credit.

"What's your opinion as an insurance man about it, Mr. Cox. Did the Canada Life use its credit for the purpose of lending money?" Mr. Shepley asked.

"We do not refrain from making a good investment for want of money," replied the Senator.

"Our ordinary income is over five millions a year. Our monthly income is five hundred and six hundred thousand dollars. It has never occurred to us that there was anything wrong at all in our investments and our dealings have been to net a valuable profit. The Dominion Coal is an immensely valuable property. Although not paying dividends, it is a enormous concern."

"We always paid interest on our overdrafts," said the Senator. There are times when call loans are profitable if you need money, Mr. Cox told Mr. Shepley.

"I am just simply stating facts, and if there was anything improper in it it must be explained to me," said the Senator, who admitted the purchase of Dominion Coal, which had proven a profitable investment.

For Family's Protection.

Mr. Shepley continued taking up the list of securities purchased by the Canada Life through the Dominion Securities and the Central Canada.

"Within the few years eight of the leading English and Scotch companies have given no dividends," Mr. Cox said, and he stated that he had a policy in the Standard Life, and just to-day he got a circular saying that he could not get the $1,750 bonus coming to him because the company was strengthening the reserve.

The Senator took the stand that life insurance was for the protection of the family, and even if he didn't get his profits, it was well to have a company strengthened so that the family would benefit when the came.

The Disatisfied.

"I think the dissatisfied policyholders of our company are about three per cent, and I never saw a man I could not reasonably deal with and show him where there had been a gross misrepresentation, and satisfy him that he was really being treated most fairly. We have three millions of money invested. The average rate of interest has been decreased by at least two per cent per annum. It was as easy to lend money at six per cent, 20 years ago as it is now to lend it at 4 per cent," asserted the Senator.
