

POLES' ARMY OF 30,000 MEN ARE MARCHING TO BERLIN

Fifth German Division Ordered To Meet Invaders—Grave Situation Reported in Posen—Huns Forced To Retreat—All Poles Ordered To Mobilize By Warsaw Government

Copenhagen, Jan. 2.—A Polish army of 30,000 men is marching on to Berlin, according to a dispatch, quoting rumors in the German capital.

Events in Posen are assuming a grave character. Large parts of the province are in the hands of Poles, and Polish troops have crossed the frontier at Skalmierce, sixty-two miles northeast of Breslau.

London, Jan. 2.—Polish troops entered Frankfort-on-the-Oder, fifty miles east of Berlin. The Poles occupied Beuthen, Prussian Silesia, and Bromberg, in the province of Posen, sixty-nine miles northeast of Posen city.

Germany's Rearming Troops. The Polish army which is marching toward Berlin has as its object "A tearing raid into Germany," according to the Polish agency at Lausanne.

The fighting is now of a house to house nature and there is no accurate estimate of the number of killed and wounded.

Ignace Jean Paderewski, who arrived in Posen several days ago, delayed his departure for Warsaw in order to have a conference with German delegates from Berlin.

Fighting Still Continues. Warsaw, Jan. 2.—Fighting has continued here and there in the city of Posen, German Poland, between Polish and German troops in the past few days.

More than 20,000 German soldiers were killed. The Sixth German Grenadiers Regiment refused to surrender and is now surrounded in a barracks within

U. S. Transport Northern Pacific Runs on Reef With 2,100 Wounded on Board

London, Jan. 2.—Two hundred and seventy sailors were drowned Wednesday, as the result of the loss of the British steam yacht, Iolatre, of Stornoway, Scotland.

The vessel struck the dangerous rocks known as "the Boats of Heim," near Stornoway harbor, and only about 30 of them were saved.

Many of these were terribly injured in their efforts to reach the shore. All of the officers and crew of the yacht were lost.

The Iolatre was formerly the Amphithea, and was taken over by the British navy at the beginning of the war. The crew was made up of naval reservists and all were residents of Lewis Island, off the West coast of Australia.

The Iolatre as a vessel of 342 tons. She was built in 1902 and before the war belonged to the estate of the late Sir Donald Currie.

POLES DESPAIR CAN'T GET HELP FROM ALLIES

Complain of Failure of Entente Powers to Pay Them Any Attention

London, Jan. 2.—Poland is in despair, owing to the invasion of Bolshevik troops and the apparent indifference of the Western powers to the plight of the country, according to a Warsaw dispatch.

Telegrams are sent, begging intervention by the Allies, "the dispatch states, "But no reply comes." The Poles admit the immensity of the numerous problems absorbing the Allies, but complain that they do not receive the least sign of attention, or word of guidance.

Sessions Are to Begin in the City Hall Next Monday Evening

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS

From Many Points in Western Canada—Joint Meeting With Grain Growers Wednesday

The annual meetings of the Live Stock Associations of Manitoba to be held in Brandon next week on January 6-8 in addition to the annual convention of the Manitoba Grain Growers Association, will make this city the Mecca of all sections of the agricultural industry for the time being.

The sessions will open on Monday evening at the City Hall, with a joint meeting of the Live Stock Associations. Addresses will be delivered by W. C. McKillop, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm; Prof. Hearn, and Principal J. B. Reynolds, of Winnipeg.

On Tuesday morning the Swine Breeders will meet in annual session. A. C. McPhail will give his report of the annual swine sale, and the officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Addresses will be given by Dan Johnson, Union Stock Yards, Winnipeg; and Prof. Shaw, Live Stock Commissioner of Saskatchewan.

The Horse Breeders' will meet on Tuesday afternoon. In addition to routine business and the election of officers, papers will be read by Dr. W. A. Shoultis and W. W. Fraser, Winnipeg.

On Tuesday evening there will be a joint public meeting of all associations. The speakers will include Hon. Van Winkle, Minister of Agriculture; Mr. Charles Murphy, General Manager for Western Live Stock, C.P.R., and the Hon. Duncan McLeod, Minister of Agriculture.

The Sheep Breeders will meet in annual session on Wednesday morning. But half an hour will be spent in business, and the session will adjourn for the annual session of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers Ltd. J. Arkell and J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, will speak.

The Cattle Breeders' meet on Wednesday afternoon. J. B. Davidson, Myrtle and Dan Johnson, St. Boniface, will speak.

The breeders will bring their session to a close with a joint mass meeting with the Grain Growers' Association on Wednesday evening. The speakers will be J. A. Prout, M.P.P., Hon. T. C. Norris, Premier of Manitoba; R. B. Maxwell, of the Great War Veterans Association, and Dr. J. G. Rutherford, of Calgary. Dr. Rutherford will probably make his last public speech in Brandon before assuming the position to which he has been appointed on the Railway Commission.

BRITAIN CONCERNED OVER RUSSIAN TANGLE: WILL NOT SEND TROOPS

Military Intervention Finds Little Support Among Any Of the Allied Nations—Russian Situation Will Be First Matter Discussed at Peace Conference

London, Jan. 2.—Russian affairs are causing the British Foreign Office considerable anxiety. The necessity of formulating a definite policy as regards Russia is extremely urgent and it has been decided that the Russian question will be the first discussed at the Peace Conference. It is presumed that all the Allied nations are overwhelmingly against armed intervention by an expeditionary force.

Large cargoes of food were recently sent to Northern Russia for the people living in the districts under Allied control. There is no likelihood of the Allied forces on the Russian coast being withdrawn.

ANNUAL MEETING OF REORGANIZED ARMY AND NAVY

To be Held in the Armory on Friday—To Pass on New Constitution

The annual meeting of the reorganized Army and Navy Veterans will be held at the Armory on Friday at eight p.m. At this meeting a new constitution and by-laws will be considered and voted on, and the officers elected for 1919, in addition to other business.

The association is open to all veterans of the Great War as well as of other wars of the Empire, and soldiers or sailors with six years R.N.W.M.P., with three years, militiamen with nine years aggregate service are also eligible.

Associate membership is open to military men with lesser qualifications and honorary memberships is limited to the next of kin of one who has fallen in the great war.

It is expected there will be a big meeting on Friday.

BOLSHEVIKI 3RD ARMY ALMOST ANNIHILATED: TAKE 31,000 PRISONERS

Czecho-Slovak and Siberian Forces Score Great Victory By Capture of Perm—Lenine's Headquarters Raided and Russian Premier Had Narrow Escape From Being Taken Prisoner

Vladivostok, Jan. 2.—In capturing Perm, in the Ural Mountains, General Gaida, at the head of the Czecho-Slovak and Siberian forces, virtually destroyed the Bolshevik third army from which he took 31,000 prisoners.

General Gaida's troops captured an armored train from which Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevik Premier, was directing operations in the region of Perm.

Lenine himself escaped, but several members of his party were taken prisoners. In addition to 31,000 prisoners, General Gaida captured 5,000 railway cars, 120 field guns, 1,000 machine guns, 30 automobiles, the entire wagon transport, several armored trains and several thousand horses.

His manoeuvre was a complete surprise to the Bolsheviks. It is proved by the fact that he captured several prominent Soviet leaders at the headquarters of the Bolshevik armies. Ten Bolshevik regiments are declared to be annihilated and the rest of the enemy army was driven across the Kama river.

GERMAN SPIES HAD LITTLE SUCCESS IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Jan. 2.—Brig. Gen. G. K. Cockerill, the retiring Director of Special Intelligence at the War Office, in his farewell messages to his associates in that department, calls attention to the fact that although many persons in Great Britain knew of the preparations for the counter-offensive, which led to the downfall of the German army, the construction of tanks and other military equipment was not disclosed to the enemy.

"You have been the chief agency in preventing the leakage of naval and military information. To mention a few instances of your success, the withdrawal from Gallipoli, the construction of tanks, the preparations for the offensives at Cambrai, and also for the recent counter-offensives which destroyed the German armies, were all known to numbers of people in this country, but were concealed from the enemy.

"There is no evidence that enemy submarines ever received information of the departure of shipping from a British port. In most cases the arrest of a spy has quickly followed his entry into this country. Thanks largely to your efforts, no act of destruction or incendiarism has been committed by enemy agents in this country.

"In the opinion of the Minister of Bockade, your work has contributed in a very large degree to the satisfactory working of the blockade. In practically every case of contraband before a prize court, the evidence has been furnished by you. The estimated value of prize cargoes, excluding ships, is over £30,000,000. You have stopped enemy remittances to the value of £70,000,000 and completely destroyed the enemy's overseas communications so far as they were vulnerable."

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAY NAME OF GOVERNMENT LINES

The Canadian Northern Railway is no more, in fact it hasn't been for some time, as it changed its name months ago to the Canadian Government Railway, but on New Year's Day once again it was changed and henceforth it will be known as the Canadian National Railway System. This system combines the lines of the Canadian Northern, Canadian Government, National Transcontinental and Intercolonial Railways and is owned and controlled by the Dominion Government.
