

Farmers and Dealers

are equally concerned with the problem of unemployment. Both depend upon the success of their business upon the man who works, and the regular pay envelope is the most dependable means of keeping money in circulation.

Whether it is the man who works with his hands or the man who directs the work or the one who keeps the accounts, the contents of the pay envelope go the same way.

Every dealer who handles a "Made in Canada" product of any kind is helping to keep some man now employed at work or to make work for some man now out of work. Every farmer who buys a "Made in Canada" article is doing the same good service.

At the "Made at Windsor, N. S." fertilizer plant from fifty to one hundred men are employed during the whole year and we have the right facilities for storage, manufacturing and shipping, our customers including those who order as small as one hundred pounds and as large as one thousand tons.

This is the right time for the dealer to arrange to handle a car-load of fertilizer for next spring, and it is not too early for the farmer to place his order.

We want agents, either dealers or farmers in all territory where we are not now represented.

Write to us and our salesman will see you or we will quote from our head office.

LOWER GREENFIELD NOTES

Mrs. Herbert Kilpatrick who left to join her husband in Penticton, B. C., reports a very pleasant journey. She spent a few days in Calgary with friends and motored from there to Banff.

Miss Alta Kinney attended the Teachers' Institute last week at Woodstock.

Melvin Kinney, who went west last June to see his father in Penticton, B. C., has arrived home with his bride. Mrs. Kinney was formerly Miss Winsor of Penticton. On their way to their home in the east Mr. and Mrs. Kinney spent a very enjoyable week at the great summer resort of Glacier Park, Montana. A reception was held for them on their arrival here at which a number of guests enjoyed a bountiful wedding supper. The bride looked very charming in a gown of white satin, embroidered in beads, with bridal veil and wreath and bridal bouquet. They received many valuable and useful presents among which was a valuable gift from Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Hamilton of Oregon. Their many friends wish them a long and happy married life.

Mrs. Blanche Kinney spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Samuel Fulton of Knoxport.

Miss Liola Armstrong of Perth spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Alta Kinney.

Miss Muriel Hunter, teacher of the Lower Greenfield school attended the Institute at Woodstock last week.

DRIVE A CLOSED MODEL
THIS WINTER

FORD Closed Models—Coupe and Sedan—have made winter driving a pleasure.

When you drive either of these models the weather man can empty his whole bag of tricks and leave you smiling.

When other car owners are forced to ride in the street cars you drive on your way serenely and thank four lucky stars your car, like a good soldier, "knows no weather."

We can make immediate delivery of either model, and give you terms if you want them.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE NOTES

I called at the last session of the Teachers' Convention in Woodstock and watching the proceedings for a time, I came to the conclusion that something ought to be done not only by the teachers themselves but by the Trustee Boards and also by the Board of Education to make these gatherings far more effective in their work.

In the first place the teachers do not attend in such numbers as they ought. A very fine program is prepared, papers are written which take a great deal of time and thought, addresses are put into shape for delivery and preparation made for discussion which ought to be shared and appreciated by practically all the teachers in the two counties. Then, the feast being ready and the guests assembled they should be aroused in some manner to a more general active interest and part in the proceedings.

I noticed that very few were taking notes of the work. Perhaps many were taking mental notes—the attention was good, but note books ought to be in evidence everywhere, and it should be made a sign of lack of ambition and the spirit of progress not to have a note book in use. For I take it that these gatherings are not for a general holiday and visiting time primarily, but for the spread of the latest and best ideas, for instruction and encouragement by educational leaders able and fitted to give it, to the end that the whole educational force, energy and progress of the counties may be raised to a much higher level, through the application of these things by the teachers in their various schools.

Then this being done, the leaders of the next convention would be compelled to reach out much further and higher for interesting, instructive and satisfying material. The fire thus called down would put more spirit, life and energy into the rank and file and our schools should again feel a mighty uplift.

I do not wish to be unduly critical but I feel that I ought at this time give voice to a very real demand, that since the ratepayers are buying the teachers' time, skill and energy, and paying good fair prices, the teachers should make more of an effort, generally speaking, to deliver the goods. The District hangs its bargain on a few words signed by the teacher—"diligently and faithfully to teach." The teachers should agree to put that motto in every school and try to live up to it. And the meanings of that word "diligent" ought to be looked up in a good dictionary—it would be a great surprise to many.

And further I would suggest that the law should be changed so that any teacher except for good reasons, who does not attend the convention will lose the district as well as the government pay; the excuse to be signed by the teacher, O. K'd by the School Board and forwarded to the Institute secretary. The larger attendance, with consequent increase of funds would permit bringing more expert leaders from outside points whose advice and instruction would be of more or less benefit to every district. And finally I thought of the immense power for good to the community represented by these teachers. In the villages and country districts the people look to their teachers for leadership and inspiration along the lines of progress in social activities, good wholesome amusement as well as in educational matters.

HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

People of America will be afforded an opportunity during the week of November 7th to 12th to express in concrete form their gratitude to those men and women, who through sunshine and rain, prosperity and adversity, persistently and consistently sing the song of the home town. The time long since passed when newspapers, whether daily or weekly, can subsist on the "taking it for granted" spirit of its patrons and well wishers. Costs of producing newspapers today have not decreased in anything like the proportion experienced in other lines and figures quoted recently by daily and weekly newspapers through the country have given the public a glimpse into the expense incidental to conducting the home paper.

To the newspaper men and women of each community has fallen the task of presenting the current events of a fast-moving world in accordance with the modern ideas, more or less extravagant, and keeping a smiling countenance and a courageous heart when others are prone to talk "hard times." Their loyalty to the country and their community has undergone a severe test but they met it with optimism and only a little reflection is required to show how much worse conditions might have been before the turn in the road was reached, had they pursued a different course.

Advertisers had to keep advertising whether they could pay

Mrs. M. E. Robson, 170 Dublin St., Peterborough, Ont., writes: "My daughter of 15 lost appetite, color and was on the verge of nervous collapse. Five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food completely restored her health and strength."

Mrs. Wm. Woods, Coldwater, Ont., writes: "After the birth of my baby I was run down, nervous and could not get on my feet. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food built me up and made me strong and well again."

Mrs. H. Alchora, 23 Gerald St., Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was recommended to me by an aunt who used it while passing through the change of life and was completely built up by its use."

Mrs. Jos. Lalonde, Hydro Glen, Ont., writes: "I was so run down and nervous last summer that I was in bed most of the time. After using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I am able to do my housework, and, though 76 years old, feel better than I have for years."

Let the Women Tell Their Story

"From my experience as a wife and mother I find that the majority of users of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are women, especially women passing through the change of life; next by young mothers to regain strength after baby comes, and also by mothers for their young daughters entering their womanhood. While it is good for all classes of humanity, I am sure it is especially so for women, as they seem to be troubled most by nervous diseases."—Mrs. H. Alchora, 23 Gerald Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Every woman is interested in another woman's letters, and we shall give the women a chance to present their experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food by quoting from their letters.

If you do not find anyone you know among these ladies, write us for references from people in your community, or ask your friends and neighbors for particulars about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There is scarcely a town, village or hamlet in this great country but can produce splendid evidence as to the restorative, upbuilding influence of this well-known treatment for the blood and nerves.

Mrs. Jennie Haywood, 38 Turner St., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "After 15 weeks in a hospital with rheumatic fever I returned home a complete nervous wreck. I took six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and have had no return of nervous trouble or rheumatism."

Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Gasparque, Ont., writes: "About five years ago I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when in a state of absolute collapse, and continued its use until I had taken fourteen boxes. I cannot praise it enough, for it worked a miracle in my case."

Mrs. May W. Taylor, 1209 Davis Street, Vancouver, B.C., writes: "Ten of my circle told me that they take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for that 'all-in' feeling attendant on the care of children and performance of housework. I myself take it for nervous irritability, and absolutely depend on it. I give my children the Nerve Food during 'examination week' and am sure it helps them."

Mrs. Annie Bellamy, 11 Pauline Avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "Since the 'flu' epidemic people are resorting to preventive measures more than ever, and find that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food gives protection against the 'flu' and all other germ diseases."

Mrs. W. H. Stoker, 25 Robert Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "A young mother told me she was so glad I advised her to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after her baby was born. She had tried many things, but after no success with them I told her just how much benefit I had gained with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so she also used it with the same wonderful results."

Mrs. E. I. Scott, Teacher, Clear, Alta., writes: "After teaching school for two years my nerves were in a shattered condition, and I had almost incessant headaches. The doctor told me I would have to quit, but a teacher friend told me how she was restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, under similar conditions. My nerves were completely restored, so that I thoroughly enjoy life."

Mrs. John O'Donnell, 56 Colonial Street, St. John, N.B., writes: "While using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for run-down condition, ragged nerves and sleeplessness, there was one ailment which predominated—nervous headache. In combating nervous headache Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has no rival."
