on Monday, in which long-distance running is to be a feature. Three or four of the Hamilton contingent are among the probable starters.

Needham's efforts to get Bay City baseball people to take up the Grand Rapids team and schedule have been unsuccessful, owing to the fact that a strong local organization under the management of the Benevolent Order of Elks has the field. The Grand Rapids players, with one or two exceptions, are anxious to continue in the International League. What Mr. Needham may accomplish in Flint has yet

Lost the Thirteenth.

It had to come. After winning all of its games of the last series away from home the Hamilton club lost the first game of the home series yesterday, and, instead of getting into first place in the league race, will have to fight for it a few more days. It was the unlucky thirteenth game, the previous twelve having been an unbroken string of victories. What makes the defeat bitter is that the game should have been "pie" for Hamilton instead of a means of strengthening London's grip on first place. The team, unfortunately was not in good condition for playing a sharp, fast game. Getting into the city after the long, thresome ride from Port Huron at 4.15, the players had to bundle into cabs, hurry to the grounds, dress as quickly aspossible, and begin playing at 4.45, without any practice. But even at that they were good enough to win but for a combination of circumstances. For instance, Cockman was the means of giving London four runs in the sixth inning by trying to "hog" a double play. Cooper, London's star pitcher, was batted all over the field, while, on their part, the Cockneys slugged Bradford until Capt. Sheehan put Freeland in in his place, and in the ninth they landed on Freeland, although not until after the home team had had easy chances enough to retire the side twice over.

London got a present of one run in the first. Bradford and Umpire Popkay were to blame for it. Bradford didn't take pains enough to get had to come. After winning all in the first. Bradford and Umpire Popkay were to blame for it. Bradford didn't take pains enough to get the bail over the plate, and in one instance particularly Pop. didn't call one that was right over and waist high. Radcliffe, who got the pass, was advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Hemphill's hit. For Hamilton Sheelan hit saraty waist high. Radeliffe, who got the pass, was advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Hemphil's hit. For Hamilton Sheehan hit safely and Cockman sacrificed, Mohier made an error on McKivett's drive, and McAndrews and Broderick hit safely, scoring two men. Doran got a pass, filling the base's but neither Lantz nor Conwell could hit safely. London got three in the second, the result of a hit by Pickard, a home run by Cooper, a base on balls to Radeliffe again, and a hit by Mohier, all after two men were out. Another was added in the third on a hit and steal by Hemphill, sacrifice by Hart and hit by Jones, but Hamilton made three in its half and tied the score. McKivett hit safely, Reld fumbling the ball at centre and giving the runner another base. Clean hits by Broderick, Doran and Lantz followed, and an error by Hemphill did the rest. Then Hamilton sailed right ahead. In the fourth a base on balls to Sheehan, a steal and Cockman's sacrifice, a hit by McKevitt and Jones' error and a long fly to centre let in two runs, and in the fifth a two-bagger by Doran, error by Cooper, base on balls, hit by Sheehan, error by Pickard and home run by McKivett, talled five and made the score 12 to 5. In the sixth Cope went out and Pickard and Cooper hit safely. Radeliffe hit to Cockman, who had the easiest kind of a double play, which would have retired the side; but Cockman made a mess of it. Instead of taking the sure way of throwing to Sheehan, who was covering second, he chased the man running from first, and the man fooled him. The result was that he barely retired the man running to first. The play cost four runs, for Mohler, Hemphill and Hart hit safely. Then Freeland took Bradford's place, and retired the third man. The score stood 12 to 9 until the ninth, not a hit being made Bradford's place, and retired the third man. The score stood 12 to 9 until the ninth, not a hit being made off Freeland in the seventh or eighth off Freeland in the seventh or eighth and Hamilton failing to get a run, although three menchit safely in the eighth. In the ninth Hart was retired at first and Jones got a scratch hit. Cope hit to Cockman, who inmbled, and Cope was given a pass filling the bases. Pickard hit to Mc-hadrews, who fumbled, and Cooper hit for two bases driving in enough to tie the score. Radckife went out and Mohler hit to McAndrews, who again fumbled. Then Hemphill hit safely past second base and Cockman made an error on the hit, letting another run in. Hart made a safe hit on which Hemphill was retired, trying to score from second. When the awful exhibition was over London was three ahead.

awful exhibition; was over London was three ahead.
Hamilton had a bare chance to win, requiring four runs. Conwell took a pass and got to second safely on Mohler's error, Freeland reaching first. Sheehan hit to Hart, who made an error, and the bases were full. Cockman's grounder to short forced Conwell out at the plate, and McKevitt tried too hard and was ratired on a high fiv. McAndrews retired on a high fly. McAndrews smashed the ball out for two bases and two men scored, but Broderick's

Second Day of Races.

Yesterday's card at the Hamilton Driving and Athletic Association's meet at the half mile track was better than on the first day, and was carried out in a much more satisfactory manner. The attendance was also better. From the pool seller's and bookmaker's point of view the day was a bad one; the betting was very light. As a horse in each of two of the harness events seemed (to outclass the field, and the odds were so prohibitive, there was not much for the talent to do but leave them alone. The only race the betters had a chance at was in the local trot or pace. Small's entry, which won in straight heats, was in the field in the pools for the first heat, and was 2 to 1 in the books. Fortunately for the public the running race was started on the back stretch, being a three-quarter mile affair, and consequently Mr. Smith, the starrer in the harness events, could not use his little red flag in his stand.

From the spectators' standpoint the most interesting race of the day was the county local. Although it was won in straight heats, the winner, Repetitia, had to be driven all the way. Jim Burgess handled the lines most interesting race of the day was the county local. Although it was won in straight heats, the winner, Repetitia, had to be driven all the way. Jim Burgess handled the lines well, in the second heat Young Stannton made a desperate effort to win, with Wentworth Prince and he was right at Repetitia's flank at the wire. Wentworth Prince was the favorite in the betting for the first heat, being even money, while Repetita was 3 and 2 to 1. Ester S. was short price, being 4 and 3. The others were 12 to 1. After the first heat Repetitia sold at $3 and the field at $5.

In the 2.30 class James' Nutspray outclassed the field clearly, and was 1 to 10 in the books. In the pools he was barred, and Superior Lily sold at $5 and the field at $5.

The time prize again went to that speedy representative of the Ramblers, W. E. Burke. Of the thirteen entries only Murray and Gillrie, scratch men, and H. Anderson, a green rider, failed to start. Murray drew out because he does not like handicaps or road races, and Dr. Gillrie was too ill to start. Wennesheimer and Charles Wilson, new riders, went out first, with a three minute C. M. C's. Second Race. Gilline was too ill to start. Wennesseimer and Charles Wilson, new riders, went out first, with a three minute start over the scratch men. Crawford, Gibson and Clappison went off half a minute later. Eagleton and Gentle went at the two minutes, H. Howard left a minute later, and Thompson and Burke were the scratch men. The road was heavy with dust, and the time was not as good as in the first race. Clappison and Crawford went around the turn at Stoney Creek aimost together, Gibson and Wennesheimer were next, with Gentle a good fourth. The two scratch men rounded the barrel almost together, with Howard and Eagleton trailing. Young Wilson found the pace too swift early in the race and gave up before reaching the turn.

"Why, I was up at deeven every morning, and when I was through with my day's work I'd be uh half the night, or all night long, doing the week's washing, scrubbing the children or sewing their clothes."

Lee's friends advised him to get married again, but he said he had no time to go courting. So they put an advertisement in one of the country papers, describing the blacksmith's plight and his great need of a wife. Throughout the continent newspapers copied the story, and one morning, five weeks ago, the blacksmith received his first consignment of twenty letters from fair aspirants to his hand and heart.

Since then Lee has received nearly a thousand letters, and even his marriage has not ended the endless chain, for he received six letters only this morning, two of the would be brides announcing their intention of calling to see him, one on Wednesday and the other next Tuesday.

Mania For Operations

Among the Doctors. No Need of the Knife to Cure Piles. A Surer, Cheaper, Easier Way, Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dread of the surgeon's knife causes multitudes Dread of the surgeon's knife causes multitudes of people to suffer on year after year with piles, when they could be cured without risk, expense or danger of operation by using Dr. Chase's Cintment, the only preparation guaranteed to cure any itching, bleeding or protruding piles. Rev. J. A. Baldwin, Baptist minister, Arkons. Ont., writes: "For over twenty years I was a groat sufferer from itching and protruding piles. I used many remedies and underwent three very painful surgical operations all with three very painful surgical operations. three very painful surgical operations, all with-put obtaining any permanent benefit. When about to give up in despair I was told to use Dr. Chase's olintment, and did so, finding great Dr. Chase's Ontrient, and did so, finding great relief at once. I used three boxes, and am al-most entirely cured. The itching is all gone. I have advised others to use it, believing it would cure them, as it has me."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only positive and actual cure for every form of piles, 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co.
